Syracuse Girl Wins State Title Orange Resident Named Runner-up

Julie Just, "Miss Taughannock Falls" was crowned Miss New York State of 1964-65 Saturday, in the auditorium of Kingston High School. She received her crown from the retiring queen, Miss Barbara Ann Gloede.

The new queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Teddy R. Just of Syracuse. She is 20-years-old and a senior at Ithaca College.

Sang Ballad
Miss Just is the contestant who received an ovation from the audience for her talent number, a popular ballad "Any Place I Hang My Hat Is Home." The first runner-up is Cheryl Christiana Rudy, "Miss Tri-County," the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudy of Warwick. Second runner-up is Nancy Pat Kinney, "Miss Dunkirk-Fredonia," daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kinney of Victor, Monroe County.

The other two finalists were Jean Eileen Hayden, "Miss Adirondack," of Glens Falls, and Mary Alice Ward, "Miss Southern Tier," daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Ward of Allegany.

The coveted title of "Miss Congeniality" went to Ethel Thomas, "Miss Queens," daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grossman of Rego Park, L. I.

Trophy for Saugerties
Ulster County was well represented in that "Miss Saugerties," Eugenia A. Markovsky, not only made the 10 semi-finalists, but she won a trophy for the Most Talented Non-Finalist. A second trophy for a talented non-finalist was copied by Gretchen Walker Ehle, "Miss Syracuse."

In addition to those mentioned above, the other contestants named in the top 10 were Janet Lorraine Grabau, "Miss Mount Vernon," Christina Anne Casey, "Miss Seneca Falls," and Mary Alice Ward, "Miss Southern Tier."

The new queen will represent New York State in the Miss America contest this fall in Atlantic City, N. J.

In addition to her crown and trophy, she won numerous gifts and a $1,000 scholarship. To the first runner-up goes $400. Other scholarship awards are as follows:

Dutchess School Officials Refuse Salary Increases

Two Dutchess County school officials have declined to accept salary increases to which they were entitled under a salary law passed by the Legislature.

Dr. Robert C. Whittitt, supervising principal of the Dover Consolidated School District, was entitled to an increase of $1,100 and Craig Lonsdale, assistant principal of the Dover elementary school was entitled to an increase of $180.

Both administrators made known their decision at the district Board of Education's organizational meeting.

Dr. Whittitt in a letter to the Board said that "it is most important to establish confidence in our schools by passing the budget" and he said he would not accept "this sum added to the taxpayers burden."

A NEW QUEEN IS CROWNED—Julie Just, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Teddy R. Just of Syracuse, is crowned Miss New York State of 1964-65 by her predecessor Barbara Ann Gloede at the conclusion of the pageant competition Saturday, July 11. The competition was held in Kingston High School auditorium under the sponsorship of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber. Miss Just, who represented Taughannock Falls, also holds the title of 1963 Fall Weekend Princess at Ithaca College where she is a senior. She sings with Radio Station WOLF in Syracuse and hopes to be active in theatre and television. She is a blond with brown eyes and stands five feet, six inches. (Freeman photo)

Not Charged in Shooting

Goes to Woman's Aid, Kills Alleged Masher

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—"I tried to do the right thing. It could have been my wife they were grabbing."

Those were the words of a 32-year-old truck driver who answered a woman's scream for help in a city street early Sunday and shot and killed her alleged assailant.

GJ to Consider Case
Roy Coffey of Rochester was not charged in the shooting of 27-year-old George Deutsch, also of Rochester. Police said a Monroe County grand jury would consider the case.

Police said Deutsch and three companions were riding in a convertible on Sullivan Street and they noticed a woman, Mrs. Shirley Compton, 30, of Rochester, walking on the sidewalk. They stopped the car, Deutsch got out and walked toward the woman, who screamed, "Leave me alone," police reported.

The screams were heard by Coffey, who lives in the neighborhood, and he dashed out of his home after instructing his wife to telephone police.

When Coffey appeared, Deutsch, a bachelor, and his three companions turned their attention from the woman to him, police said.

The quartet—one of them wielding a baseball bat—started for Coffey, who darted into his house and returned with a .32-calibre revolver, said police. Coffey said he pleaded with the four to stop; "there is a real gun. Stay back," he said he told them.

At the same time, neighbors who had heard the screams, ap-

Governor Names Apportionment Study Committee

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—An assignment from Gov. Rockefeller to study legislative reapportionment, a complicated but politically critical problem, is in the hands of a seven-man committee of businessmen and lawyers.

Rockefeller named the committee over the weekend and urged it to move swiftly to complete its work.

The governor did not set a deadline, but a federal court soon will decide just how fast the committee must work.

Rockefeller designated William Hughes Mulligan, dean of the Fordham University Law School, chairman of the group. It comprises four Republicans and three Democrats.

He said the committee's report would "form a basis for my calling a special session of the Legislature to consider and act on an apportionment plan." (Continued on Page 21, Col. 5)

Goldwater Aims for 1st Ballot as Parley Opens

Scranton's Attack Is No Scare Barry Not Afraid Of Floor Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton's forces are making the proposed Republican platform the battleground in their do-or-die struggle to deny Sen. Barry Goldwater the presidential nomination.

But Goldwater, whose strength on the platform committee was displayed in the crushing of key proposals sought by Scranton, said he isn't afraid of the result of any floor fight the Pennsylvania may be able to organize Tuesday.

That is the day for considering the party statement. Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Scranton's manager, promised to force votes on major amendments in a struggle for "the soul of the Republican party." Such a fight would be a major element in Scranton's drive to change enough delegates' minds to block Goldwater's indicated first-ballot nomination Wednesday.

Accuses in Letter
The Pennsylvania governor sounded the battle cry in a letter accusing Goldwater of allowing "the radical extremism to use you" and saying "Goldwaterism has come to stand for nuclear irresponsibility, being afraid to forthrightly condemn rightwing extremists, refusing to stand for law and order in maintaining racial peace." From across the party line came indications that Democrats were girding for the fray on the assumption that Goldwater would win. (Continued on Page 21, Col. 3)

GOP Convention Opens in Frisco; Rocky Has Votes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Most of the 92-member New York State delegation still was firmly tied to the candidacy of Gov. Rockefeller today as the Republican national convention opened.

Rockefeller claimed 87 of the 92 votes. His name will be placed before the convention Wednesday night as part of an elaborate plan to stop Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The other five delegates are pledged to the Arizona senator. Some Rockefeller - pledged delegates are complaining that his maneuvering is pointless, in view of the enormous Goldwater strength.

Rockefeller is backing Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania for the presidential nomination and has refused to accept the prevailing view that Goldwater will win.

The New York delegation went along with the Rockefeller plan at its first caucus Sunday. The governor presided at the closed session.

No roll call of candidates was taken and Rockefeller said the 87-vote total was based on his own appraisal.

The 87 New York votes, the 18 he won in the Oregon primary and a scattering of others will give him approximately 110 votes, which he hopes to deliver eventually to Scranton.

Rockefeller and his top political advisors are working with the Scranton forces in efforts to:

— Keep Goldwater from a first-ballot nomination in the expectation his support would begin to evaporate if he did not win immediately. Rockefeller is holding on to his delegates to keep any of them from helping Goldwater's first-ballot chances. (Continued on Page 21, Col. 5)

Chilly Rainy Weather Covers Most of Nation

Unseasonably cold air accompanied by chilly rain lashed most of the country Monday.

Temperatures tumbled from Texas through the Great Lakes and Atlantic Coast regions. Thunderstorms also were reported in the Rocky Mountains and in the Southwest.

In the far west, cooler air shoved into Washington and Oregon from the Pacific, also ending a heat wave.

No Weekend Fatalities Here, State Has 26

Ulster County escaped the weekend without a fatal accident after a week which resulted in five traffic deaths in as many days.

The county death toll for 1964 stood at 13 through last Thursday, which is comparable to the 1963 toll of 13 as of July 11, 1963. The 14th traffic fatality occurred last year on August 3.

26 in State Toll
Elsewhere, the Associated Press reported, the state recorded 26 persons who lost their lives in accidents over the weekend.

The traffic toll was 17. Four persons were drowned and five others perished in other kinds of accidents. The count began at 6 p. m. Friday and ended Sunday at midnight.

Among the traffic victims was a 31-year-old man who was fatally injured while attempting what police called a daredevil automobile stunt.

Clifford C. Calvin, 31, of Mechanville, died in Albany Medical Center Hospital Friday night of injuries suffered when he was crushed by his car in an unusual accident at Sesaghticoke, Rensselaer County.

Attempts Stunt
State Police said Calvin, traveling with three companions, told them he would leave the driver's seat and, with the car still moving, pull himself onto the roof and re-enter through the right front door.

He reached the top of the car, police said, when it went off to the right of the road, threw him to an embankment and fell on its side, crushing him.

Police said they were considering possible criminal action against the other occupants of the vehicle.

Other deaths, by community, included:

Buffalo — Frank Tobolski, 59, of Buffalo, struck by a car in Cheektowaga Friday night.

Glens Falls — Paul M. Fawcett, Hudson Falls, car and a tractor-trailer were in collision Saturday.

Schroon Lake — Albert E. Morin, 61, Schenectady, hit by a car along Route 9 Friday night.

Hamburg — Elmer W. Porter, 27, Eden, two-car collision Saturday.

Lawtons — Robert W. Payne, 21, Lawtons, killed Saturday by electric shock after touching high-tension wire from utility pole which his car had knocked down.

Syracuse — Harold Garm, 70, Syracuse, drowned Saturday while swimming in a municipal pool.

Schroon Lake — Frederick R. Bryant, 58, and his wife, Marie, 55, of Jackson Heights, Queens, N.Y., two-car collision Saturday night.

Madison — Robert F. Dubach, 37, Madison, struck by an auto as he crossed Rte. 20 Sunday.

Arizona Senator Has 740 Votes

Goldwater Line Holds Firm as Parley Opens

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's lines held firm today as Republicans opened their 28th national convention, apparently determined to make him their presidential nominee.

With the nominating roll call two days away, the Arizona senator was credited with 740 votes — 85 more than the 655 needed for nomination if all stick with him, according to an Associated Press survey of the 1,308 delegates. Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton was credited with 169.

First Ballot Lineup

The first-ballot lineup, based on primary commitments, convention instructions, pledges and state preferences, read this way:

Goldwater	740
Nelson A. Rockefeller	103
Henry Cabot Lodge	45
Margaret Chase Smith	18
Favorite sons	47
Uncommitted	186

Goldwater's votes included 303 from delegates who favor him but are not officially bound. All of Scranton's are in that category.

Most of Scranton's efforts to win the nomination for himself were aimed at the favorable but unpledged Goldwater delegates.

He gained some votes Sunday, but none of them—at least publicly—came from any supporters of Goldwater. And unless he can get Goldwater's total below 655 on the first ballot, it's all over.

In Sunday's skirmishing Scranton picked up a net gain of five votes, but Goldwater had nine additional votes.

Goldwater could garner further support today when the Ohio delegation is formally released from its favorite-son pledge to Gov. James A. Rhodes. A new AP poll of the delegation shows 20 for Goldwater, 8 for Scranton and 30 uncommitted. Some of the uncommitted have indicated they will stick with Rhodes. (Continued on Page 21, Col. 1)

Applications Are Ready for Police Exam August 29

Applications for a civil service examination for appointment to the police department slated for Aug. 29, may be obtained through July 29, John F. Fitzgerald, secretary of the Municipal Civil Service Commission announced today.

A deadline date of June 4 was fixed when the examination was first announced. Applications and other information may be obtained from the city clerk's office, City Hall. No applications may be obtained after 4 p. m. July 29.

The department now has seven vacancies.

Candidates must have been legal residents of Ulster, Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Orange and Sullivan counties for at least 12 months immediately preceding the date of the written test.

Preference in appointment may be given to successful candidates who have been legal residents of the locality in which appointment is to be made. Non-residents may be required to be indicated at the time of consideration for appointment, whether or not they will become a resident of the locality in accordance with conditions authorized by local law or ordinance.

Best available information today indicated about 20 applications for the written test have been given out, to date. Time and place of the examination are to be announced.

Report Greek, Turk Cypriots Reinforce Troops; Fear Worst

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The possibility of another explosion in the simmering Cyprus dispute faced the U.N. peacekeeping force today after it reported the landing of reinforcements to both Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, convened an emergency session of his Cabinet Sunday to consider what a government source called "the clandestine landing of Turkish troops on Cyprus."

The source said the government expects the U.N. Security Council and the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference, now meeting in London, to help the Greek Cypriots meet the "Turkish aggression."

He indicated urgent appeals would be sent to both bodies, but made no mention of the even larger landings of Greeks reported by the U.N. command. Over the past five weeks, a U.N. spokesman said Saturday, U.N. patrols have observed some 500 Turkish military personnel put ashore in the Man-soura area of northwest Cyprus, the only coastline controlled by Turkish Cypriots.

The Turkish Foreign Ministry issued a statement in Ankara saying that the only Turkish soldiers sent to the island were routine replacements for the regular 650-man Turkish Cyprus garrison.

Senator's Decision: Debate Out Miller Chairman For Start Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The gates swing open today on the 28th Republican convention, fenced in tightly by hard-driving supporters bent on giving Sen. Barry Goldwater a first-ballot presidential nomination.

Thundering over the opposition Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton was attempting to provide, Goldwater's outcries already had put the Arizona senator's conservative brand on the platform the convention will be asked to adopt Tuesday. And Goldwater promptly rejected a challenge by Scranton for a debate before the convention.

Has 740 Delegates

Goldwater moved into the convention's opening day with 740 first-ballot votes credited to him in an Associated Press poll — 85 more than the 655 needed for nomination if they remain in his column. This total includes 303 delegates who favor him but are not officially bound. The survey credited Scranton with 169 votes, none of them bound to him.

Scranton, out-gunned at every turn, tried to rally his tattered forces for a last-ditch effort Tuesday to revive in a convention floor fight some of the proposals shot down within the committee.

Noon Opening

At the cavernous Cow Palace, National Chairman William E. Miller, a leading candidate for the vice presidential nomination, was scheduled to bang the gavel at noon. Opening session greetings were to follow, along with the election of Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon as temporary chairman.

Probing for an opening in the encircling Goldwater forces, Scranton fired off a letter Sunday night challenging the Arizona senator to an unprecedented debate before the convention. Goldwater rejected this proposal as ridiculous and returned the letter unanswered.

Points to Polls

Scranton said the issue is whether the convention will choose "the candidate overwhelmingly favored by the Republican voters, or will it choose you?" The Pennsylvania governor has cited polls which show him widely preferred over Goldwater as the nominee.

Scranton said "Goldwaterism has come to stand for a whole crazy-quilt of absurd and dangerous positions that would be (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Charter Hearings Slated Two Nights

The first of two public hearings on a proposed new city charter will be held in the city court room, City Hall Tuesday starting at 7:30 p. m.

A second hearing is scheduled for Thursday, also at 7:30 p. m. in the Recreation Center, 97 Broadway.

Two hearings are to be held to give the public ample opportunity to ask questions and express opinions. A full transcript of the proposed charter was published in The Freeman Friday "so that every voter in the city" could have "full opportunity" to study its provisions before the hearings.

No Weekend Fatahs Here, State Has 26

Ulster County escaped the weekend without a fatal accident after a week which resulted in five traffic deaths in as many days.

The county death toll for 1964 stood at 13 through last Thursday, which is comparable to the 1963 toll of 13 as of July 11, 1963. The 14th traffic fatality occurred last year on August 3.

Senator's Decision: Debate Out

Miller Chairman For Start Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The gates swing open today on the 28th Republican convention, fenced in tightly by hard-driving supporters bent on giving Sen. Barry Goldwater a first-ballot presidential nomination.

Thundering over the opposition Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton was attempting to provide, Goldwater's outdiers already had put the Arizona senator's conservative brand on the platform the convention will be asked to adopt Tuesday. And Goldwater promptly rejected a challenge by Scranton for a debate before the convention.

Has 740 Delegates

Goldwater moved into the convention's opening day with 740 first-ballot votes credited to him in an Associated Press poll — 85 more than the 655 needed for nomination if they remain in his column. This total includes 303 delegates who favor him but are not officially bound. The survey credited Scranton with 169 votes, none of them bound to him.

Scranton, out-gunned at every turn, tried to rally his tattered forces for a last-ditch effort Tuesday to revive in a convention floor fight some of the proposals shot down within the committee.

Noon Opening

At the cavernous Cow Palace, National Chairman William E. Miller, a leading candidate for the vice presidential nomination, was scheduled to bang the gavel at noon. Opening session greetings were to follow, along with the election of Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon as temporary chairman.

Probing for an opening in the encircling Goldwater forces, Scranton fired off a letter Sunday night challenging the Arizona senator to an unprecedented debate before the convention. Goldwater rejected this proposal as ridiculous and returned the letter unanswered.

Points to Polls

Scranton said the issue is whether the convention will choose "the candidate overwhelmingly favored by the Republican voters, or will it choose you?" The Pennsylvania governor has cited polls which show him widely preferred over Goldwater as the nominee.

Scranton said "Goldwaterism has come to stand for a whole crazy-quilt of absurd and dangerous positions that would be (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Charter Hearings Slated Two Nights

The first of two public hearings on a proposed new city charter will be held in the city court room, City Hall Tuesday starting at 7:30 p. m.

A second hearing is scheduled for Thursday, also at 7:30 p. m. in the Recreation Center, 97 Broadway.

Two hearings are to be held to give the public ample opportunity to ask questions and express opinions. A full transcript of the proposed charter was published in The Freeman Friday "so that every voter in the city" could have "full opportunity" to study its provisions before the hearings.

Report Greek, Turk Cypriots Reinforce Troops; Fear Worst

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The possibility of another explosion in the simmering Cyprus dispute faced the U.N. peacekeeping force today after it reported the landing of reinforcements to both Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, convened an emergency session of his Cabinet Sunday to consider what a government source called "the clandestine landing of Turkish troops on Cyprus."

The source said the government expects the U.N. Security Council and the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference, now meeting in London, to help the Greek Cypriots meet the "Turkish aggression."

He indicated urgent appeals would be sent to both bodies, but made no mention of the even larger landings of Greeks reported by the U.N. command.

Over the past five weeks, a U.N. spokesman said Saturday, U.N. patrols have observed some 500 Turkish military personnel put ashore in the Manassura area of northwest Cyprus, the only coastline controlled by Turkish Cypriots.

The spokesman also said some 3,000 men and artillery pieces had landed from Greece in support of the Greek Cypriots.

The Turkish Foreign Ministry issued a statement in Ankara saying that the only Turkish soldiers sent to the island were routine replacements for the regular 650-man Turkish Cyprus garrison.

Milk "On the Rocks"

COPENHAGEN (AP) — The success of three experimental milk bars, opened a few months ago by the Danish Dairy industry, will lead to the opening soon of 17 more, the industry has announced. The bars are so popular as meeting places that they draw as many as 1,000 youngsters a day and provide a meeting place for teen-agers as well as a means of stimulating milk drinking among the young. Open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., they offer 15 varieties of milkshakes and radio programs that feature serious discussions as well as popular music.

NEW YORK (AP)—The institutional investor has seen his name go up in lights on the stock market marquee since the war. In the present decade and the next he may cinch this star billing by doubling the percentage of common shares he controls on the nation's stock exchanges—or from around 20 per cent now to 40 per cent. He already holds 80 per cent of the corporate bonds.

Could Increase Investors

Of late the institutional manager also is playing more of a role in influencing corporate policies. This too could increase unless the number of individual investors multiplies again as fast as it did in the late 1950s, or government regulatory agencies move beyond their present stance of apparently increasing curiosity only.

The rapid growth of institutional ownership of stocks has been largely due to two things: 1. Money has been rolling into the various types of savings institutions at a faster rate than the economy itself has been growing; 2. The stock market has offered attractions neither they nor many individual investors thought they could pass up.

Outline Corporate Policies

As to the role the institutions will play in corporate policies, the New York Stock Exchange says in a survey of such share-ownership, out today:

"If institutional investors some day take a more active role as shareholders, the methods by which they do this will be significant in view of the increasing importance of institutions in the stock market. Institutions will probably continue to rely primarily on informal discussions in communicating their views to portfolio companies — and on sale of the stock when they are in strong disagreement with management."

Assets Growth Traced

The exchange notes that in 1954 institutions held about 12.7 per cent of the stock listed on it, and by 1963 held 20 per cent.

It traces most of that growth to swelling assets of these savings concerns. In the years between 1945 and 1963 the output of goods and services in the nation increased by 160 per cent. But the assets of the six main forms of savings institutions grew as follows: life insurance companies 198 per cent; mutual savings banks 172 per cent; savings and loan associations 973 per cent; corporate pension funds 1,233 per cent; state and local government pension funds 829 per cent; and mutual funds 1,687 per cent.

With all this money rolling in, the institutions have invested $86.7 billion in corporate bonds, and some $82.4 billion in common stocks listed on the exchange. This big demand, the survey allows, "may have contributed to higher stock prices" since the war, but it says it's difficult to measure the real extent of their influence.

Champion of Safe Driving Would Teach Women About Knowing Mechanics of Car

BY CHARLES M. MCCARTHY
Freeman Staff Reporter

Women drivers are here to stay—so let's make the most of it.

That's one way to philosophize the current trend, which says statistically that: 39 per cent of all U. S. drivers are women; 51 per cent of housewives have use of a family car, and 79 per cent of all women drivers between ages of 18 and 35 own or have ready access to a car.

And, oh yes: 86 per cent of the women drivers between the ages of 18 and 35 own or have access to a car.

But to Professor William J. Toth, nationally-known authority and lecturer on driver education and traffic control, the role of the female motorist—long the butt of cartoon quips and widely circulated jokes—is becoming increasingly serious. As serious is the mounting traffic accident rate. And, he says, it is up to the men who ridicule her to settle their criticism and pitch in to help educate them to be the drivers they think they are; namely the best.

Can this be done? Professor Toth opines: "Times change and so has the woman driver—for the better. Today's young woman is no longer utterly dependent upon the man in her life. She is a good wage earner, self-reliant, confident and quite capable of taking care of her own car—when she learns how to."

Has Wide Experience
Professor Toth isn't exactly tilting with windmills in pleading his case. He has toured more than 100,000 miles throughout the U. S. and Canada during his 14 years in the field of safety education. A frequent lecturer, he has championed the cause of safe driving before public, state, municipal and private industry groups. He is a guest lecturer at the FBI National Police Academy.

He is a past chairman of the Committee on Traffic of the Citizens Union in New York City and is active on several national safety organizations. He holds a master's degree from New York University and a bachelor's degree from Norwich University. Currently, he is in charge of liaison between the automotive safety coordinators in all 50 states and the provinces of Canada. He served on the President's Committee for Traffic Safety and has been an officer of the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety.

But it is in his capacity as associate of the Center for Safety at NYU and director of driver information for the California Oil Company and its "Credit the Woman Driver" sponsored by Chevron dealers that he stopped by Kingston long enough to comment on current trends among the female driving population.

"Quite often a suburban housewife will drive her husband to the station, pick him up at night and do all the driving until the family outing on the weekend," he said. "Her husband is so wrapped up in making a living to be concerned about his automobile so he delegates responsibility for it to his wife who hasn't had the benefit of his male exposure to cars. All of a sudden, the automobile is her possession to be understood and maintained just like her washer, dryer or vacuum cleaner. If it breaks down while she's driving, she is responsible for having it repaired."

Women Need Help
"This the area where we can

help women drivers - - - automotive education, he said. "It is right here and only here, that she lags behind her male counterpart. Women just haven't had the benefit of a life-long interest in cars as have men. They have been quite naturally interested in learning to keep house and preparing for marriage. And later, when these are realities, they have little time, or inclination to tinker with a car."

How can we reconcile this feminine lack of automotive background with their present need to know more about driving and maintaining an automobile?

According to Professor Toth, we know that the little lady behind the wheel actually wants help—not to become a buff or mechanic—but to know more about her car which has become a tool in her everyday life.

"She's no longer content to drive into a service station and say: 'My car has a rattle. Fix it,'" said Toth; rather, "She wants to know: 'What makes the car rattle, is it dangerous to drive in such a case and how are you going to fix it?' Already 25 per cent of the women drivers control all the money spent for automobile maintenance and they want to know where the money is going."

He said, "They want to know what a fuel pump is, how to recognize a fuel-pump malfunction and what to do in such an emergency situation."

"In short, they're probing, inquisitive creatures who want to know more about their cars, how to drive them safely and what they are buying in the way of service. And they want it without having to make it a major time-consuming part of their lives."

Provides Quiz Booklets
The Chevron Company, he said, in an effort to fill this admittedly big order, has initiated an effort "to close the knowledge gap between men and women drivers. We know that if

Receives Wings

Robert A. Mierop, chief aviation electrician's mate, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mierop of Route 55, Napanoch, had his aircrewman wings pinned on May 13 by Lt. Cmdr. A. L. Moberly, Officer-in-Charge of Carrier Airborne Warning Squadron 12, Detachment 65 aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise, operating with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Mierop's duties include inspecting and maintaining aircraft electrical and instrument systems, including power generation, interior and exterior lighting, starting and ignition systems, navigation instruments and automatic flight control systems.

He entered the Navy in April, 1950.

Admiral Robert E. Peary made six attempts to reach the North Pole before he finally succeeded on April 6, 1909.

we can raise a woman's automotive IQ, we've succeeded in making a safer driver. The company has facilitated this effort by providing booklets at its service stations in which women drivers may take quiz tests and grade themselves on the honor system before checking the answers. She may even follow up subsequent tests and send her results to the company's headquarters and earn herself a purse-size "diploma" signed by Professor Toth, and as noted by the genial prof, "along with a supply of MAN driver jokes."

Since three out of four households in the U. S. own at least one car; 93 per cent of inter-city travel is by motor vehicle and there are 94 million licensed drivers traveling over 3.5 million miles of roads in the country at a rate of 767 billion miles, per year, to say that the motor vehicle and its operator is here to stay would be a gross understatement, to say the least.

But add to the earlier-mentioned statistics about percentages of women drivers the facts that: 48 per cent of women drivers use a car at least once a day; 43 per cent of women drivers jointly decide price range of car purchased with husband; 16 per cent of women drivers are the primary decision makers regarding auto service purchases, and 25 per cent of women drivers control money spent for service and maintenance.

Have Fewer Accidents
So, women drivers are numerous and influential. So what? Aren't they still amateur drivers?

The National Safety Council reminds us, says Professor Toth, that women have fewer accidents than men (3.6 million against 15 million in 1961).

Women 18 to 35 years old are "superior" to men in learning how to drive an automobile and are also better drivers in the 60-65 age range.

And, insurance companies have been known to cut liability rates up to 32 per cent for certain categories of women drivers under 25 while conceding practically nothing to men of the same age.

Some other observations by Professor Toth:

Back Seat Drivers—"I'm for this, but not the old-fashioned kind. I'm for a responsible passenger, an alert observer, one who can call a danger signal to a driver's attention tactfully. I had one such observer more than once and it paid off more than once—she also is my wife."

Driving in General—"It's a full time job. You have to work as if like your life depended upon it. It does."

The Law—"If the laws weren't written for the benefit of the motoring public, they should be eliminated. But as long as they are on the books, we must obey them."

Male Drivers—"They're here to stay too, whether we like it or not. I don't think we'll ever reach the point where they will be surpassed by women drivers numerically, but I still feel its the responsibility of the male driver to help—not to ridicule—the woman driver."

Speeding—"When women are asked why they were speeding, they have a concise answer: 'I had to pick up the children at school and I'm late'... My husband is arriving on the 5:02 and I have to travel eight miles in less than 10 minutes'... My hairdresser called and said I could have an earlier appointment if I hurried." BUT, says Professor Toth, "When a man is asked, his answer more often than not is, 'I don't know.'"

So perhaps some male drivers, even the die-hards are convinced that they ought to "Credit the Woman Driver." As Professor Toth said, "You may regret it. She could become hard to live with."

But as they say, driving today is a matter of survival, not living. While in Kingston, Professor Toth was the guest of Larry V. Bogert, vice president of Ballard Oil Co.

Olean Sailor Drowns While Scuba Diving

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A young sailor from New York State was drowned Sunday while scuba diving in the ocean off La Jolla Cove.

Dead was Claude B. Larkim, 20, of Olean, N.Y., who was stationed aboard the Destroyer Tender Dixie.

Larkim was diving with another sailor, Dlass Monroe, 19. Monroe said both recently completed a diving school course.

Monroe said Larkim had difficulty with the regulating device on his air tank, coughed, choked and sent to the surface.

Larkim then sank to the bottom, where Monroe released the latter's weight belt and brought him to shore.

Champion of Safe Driving Would Teach Women About Knowing Mechanics of Car

BY CHARLES M. MCCARTHY
Freeman Staff Reporter

Women drivers are here to stay—so let's make the most of it.

That's one way to philosophize the current trend, which says statistically that: 39 per cent of all U. S. drivers are women; 51 per cent of housewives have use of a family car, and 79 per cent of all women drivers between ages of 18 and 35 own or have ready access to a car.

And, oh yes: 86 per cent of the women drivers between the ages of 18 and 35 own or have access to a car.

But to Professor William J. Toth, nationally-known authority and lecturer on driver education and traffic control, the role of the female motorist—long the butt of cartoon quips and widely circulated jokes—is becoming increasingly serious. As serious is the mounting traffic accident rate. And, he says, it is to the men who ridicule her to settle their criticism and pitch in to help educate them to be the drivers they think they are; namely the best.

Can this be done? Professor Toth opines: "Times change and so has the woman driver—for the better. Today's young woman is no longer utterly dependent upon the man in her life. She is a good wage earner, self-reliant, confident and quite capable of taking care of her own car—when she learns how to."

Has Wide Experience
Professor Toth isn't exactly tilting with windmills in pleading his case. He has toured more than 100,000 miles throughout the U. S. and Canada during his 14 years in the field of safety education. A frequent lecturer, he has championed the cause of safe driving before public, state, municipal and private industry groups. He is a guest lecturer at the FBI National Police Academy.

He is a past chairman of the Committee on Traffic of the Citizens Union in New York City and is active on several national safety organizations. He holds a master's degree from New York University and a bachelor's degree from Norwich University. Currently, he is in charge of liaison between the automotive safety coordinators in all 50 states and the provinces of Canada. He served on the President's Committee for Traffic Safety and has been an officer of the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety.

But it is in his capacity as associate of the Center for Safety at NYU and director of driver information for the California Oil Company and its "Credit the Woman Driver" sponsored by Chevron dealers that he stopped by Kingston long enough to comment on current trends among the female driving population.

"Quite often a suburban housewife will drive her husband to the station, pick him up at night and do all the driving until the family outing on the weekend," he said. "Her husband is so wrapped up in making a living to be concerned about his automobile so he delegates responsibility for it to his wife who hasn't had the benefit of his male exposure to cars. All of a sudden, the automobile is her possession to be understood and maintained just like her washer, dryer or vacuum cleaner. If it breaks down while she's driving, she is responsible for having it repaired."

Women Need Help

help women drivers - - - automotive education, he said. "It is right here and only here, that she lags behind her male counterpart. Women just haven't had the benefit of a life-long interest in cars as have men. They have been quite naturally interested in learning to keep house and preparing for marriage. And later, when these are realities, they have little time, or inclination to tinker with a car."

How can we reconcile this feminine lack of automotive background with their present need to know more about driving and maintaining an automobile?

According to Professor Toth, we know that the little lady behind the wheel actually wants help—not to become a buff or mechanic—but to know more about her car which has become a tool in her everyday life.

"She's no longer content to drive into a service station and say: 'My car has a rattle. Fix it,'" said Toth; rather, "She wants to know: 'What makes the car rattle, is it dangerous to drive in such a case and how are you going to fix it?' Already 25 per cent of the women drivers control all the money spent for automobile maintenance and they want to know where the money is going."

He said, "They want to know what a fuel pump is, how to recognize a fuel-pump malfunction and what to do in such an emergency situation."

"In short, they're probing, inquisitive creatures who want to know more about their cars, how to drive them safely and what they are buying in the way of service. And they want it without having to make it a major time-consuming part of their lives."

Provides Quiz Booklets
The Chevron Company, he said, in an effort to fill this admittedly big order, has initiated an effort "to close the knowledge gap between men and women drivers. We know that if

Receives Wings

Robert A. Mierop, chief aviation electrician's mate, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mierop of Route 55, Napanoch, had his aircrewman wings pinned on May 13 by Lt. Cmdr. A. L. Moberly, Officer-in-Charge of Carrier Airborne Warning Squadron 12, Detachment 65 aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise, operating with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Mierop's duties include inspecting and maintaining aircraft electrical and instrument systems, including power generation, interior and exterior lighting, starting and ignition systems, navigation instruments, and automatic flight control systems.

He entered the Navy in April, 1950. Admiral Robert E. Peary made six attempts to reach the North Pole before he finally succeeded on April 6, 1909.

we can raise a woman's automotive IQ, we've succeeded in making a safer driver. The company has facilitated this effort by providing booklets at its service stations in which women drivers may take quiz tests and grade themselves on the honor system before checking the answers. She may even follow up subsequent tests and send her results to the company's headquarters and earn herself a pure-size "diploma" signed by Professor Toth, and as noted by the genial prof, "along with a supply of MAN driver jokes."

Since three out of four households in the U. S. own at least one car; 93 per cent of inter-city travel is by motor vehicle and there are 94 million licensed drivers traveling over 3.5 million miles of roads in the country at a rate of 767 billion miles, per year, to say that the motor vehicle and its operator is here to stay would be a gross misstatement, to say the least.

But add to the earlier-mentioned statistics about percentages of women drivers the facts that: 48 per cent of women drivers use a car at least once a day; 43 per cent of women drivers jointly decide price range of car purchased with husband; 16 per cent of women drivers are the primary decision makers regarding auto service purchases, and 25 per cent of women drivers control money spent for service and maintenance.

Have Fewer Accidents
So, women drivers are numerous and influential. So what? Aren't they still amateur drivers?

The National Safety Council reminds us, says Professor Toth, that women have fewer accidents than men (3.6 million against 15 million in 1961). Women 18 to 35 years old are "superior" to men in learning how to drive an automobile and are also better drivers in the 60-65 age range.

And, insurance companies have been known to cut liability rates up to 32 per cent for certain categories of women drivers under 25 while conceding practically nothing to men of the same age.

Some other observations by Professor Toth:

Back Seat Drivers—"I'm for this, but not the old-fashioned kind. I'm for a responsible passenger, an alert observer, one who can call a danger signal to a driver's attention tactfully. I had one such observer more than once and it paid off more than once—she also is my wife."

Driving in General—"It's a full time job. You have to work as if like your life depended upon it. It does."

The Law—"If the laws weren't written for the benefit of the motoring public, they should be eliminated. But as long as they are on the books, we must obey them."

Speeding—"When women are asked why they were speeding, they have a concise answer: 'I had to pick up the children at school and I'm late.' ... My husband is arriving on the 5:02 and I have to travel eight miles in less than 10 minutes.' ... My hairdresser called and said I could have an earlier appointment if I hurried." BUT, says Professor Toth, "When a man is asked, his answer more often than not is, 'I don't know.'"

ment if I hurried." BUT, says Professor Toth, "When a man is asked, his answer more often than not is, 'I don't know.'"

So perhaps some male drivers, even the die-hards are convinced that they ought to "Credit the Woman Driver." As Professor Toth said, "You may regret it. She could become hard to live with."

But as they say, driving today is a matter of survival, not living.

Olean Sailor Drowns While Scuba Diving

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A young sailor from New York State was drowned Sunday while scuba diving in the ocean off La Jolla Cove.

Dead was Claude B. Larkim, 20, of Olean, N.Y., who was stationed aboard the Destroyer Tender Dixie.

Larkim was diving with another sailor, Dlass Monroe, 19. Monroe said both recently completed a diving school course.

Monroe said Larkim had difficulty with the regulating device on his air tank, coughed, choked and sent to the surface.

Larkim then sank to the bottom, where Monroe released the latter's weight belt and brought him to shore.

THE SOVIET PROPOSAL

Americans should not react off the top of the head, as it were, to Russia's proposal for creating a permanent United Nations peace force. First consideration might suggest, depending on preconceptions, that the proposal was either the dawning of a new day or just another Soviet propaganda move. Neither reaction is warranted.

The Russians have made broad, sweeping proposals before; indeed, they rather specialize in them. One recalls that several years ago Premier Khrushchev, on a visit to this country, proposed total disarmament. Nothing much came of that, and perhaps nothing much will come of the present idea for a U.N. peace force made up of troops from smaller countries but controlled by the Security Council. A healthy skepticism, though not sterile pessimism, must be our watchword now as the proposal is assessed and discussed.

The obvious sticking point, at this stage, is Soviet insistence that the Security Council members have veto power over use of such a peace force. However, this need not be thought of as making the whole plan useless. Conceivably this was put in by the Kremlin as a bargaining point.

The important thing is to explore the possibility that this reflects a real change in the Soviet outlook. Thus far the Russians have balked at supporting the U.N.'s peace-keeping activities. If this is a move away from that position, the Soviet memorandum might be made the basis of a marked advance.

A FLOOD OF MAIL

Almost everyone's name must, by now, be on some mailing list or other. Most of us, judging by the flood of mail solicitation, are on numerous lists. As a result, so much "junk mail" finds its way into the average household mailbox that sorting the wheat from the chaff has become a time-consuming source of irritation.

Irritation breeds retaliation. As direct mail advertising and solicitation rises (and it has done so by more than 50 per cent in the past decade) the number of annoyed responses also goes up. Thousands of business reply envelopes and cards are returned blank, so that the advertiser has to pay return postage without benefit. In some cases, return envelopes are weighted so that excess postage also has to be paid.

This is not a surprising — and not a wholly unjustified — human reaction to unsolicited, unwanted mail. The significance of this thing goes far beyond the matter of irritation, however. There is the question whether direct mail advertisers should continue to enjoy third-class mail rates.

Imposing higher rates on direct mail advertising would have two effects, both in the public interest. It would tend to curb the indiscriminate flooding of home and business mailboxes with unwanted mail. It would boost postal revenue. The possibilities ought to be taken up in Congress, whose concern with reducing postal deficits and soothing constituents is well known.

MAN WITH A COUNTRY

Leicester Hemingway, hitherto best known as a brother of the late Ernest Hemingway, has achieved fame on his way by becoming — so far as informal research can determine — the first man to build his own country. The verb is not used idly; New Atlantis was, quite literally, built of rocks and soil dumped onto a hitherto (and maybe even now, in high seas) submerged sandbar off the southeast coast of Jamaica. Hemingway has drawn up a declaration of independence and notified the United Nations of his country's existence, though it is not known whether he has yet applied for U.N. membership. New Atlantis has a one-canoe fleet, which might qualify it for participation in NATO. All fooling aside, Hemingway's achievement does have one big advantage. When the rest of us are having our ears caloused by political oratory, he'll be there on New Atlantis, gazing across the blue ocean in pleasant solitude.

GOLDWATER'S MAGINOT LINE IS READY

The Scrantonites are here to talk; the Goldwaterites are here to vote. And the upshot, in the early stages of this convention, is like a fight between a strong-armed man and a feather pillow. This does not mean that there won't be a strong and raucous confrontation before the show is over. But the Goldwater line is to let the opposition wear itself out by futile assaults on a barrier that can't be stormed. The Goldwaterites have constructed Maginot Lines all over the place, taking particular care not to leave any gaps that might permit either a penetration or a flanking operation by the enemy.

What impresses the wandering visitor to the various regional headquarters in San Francisco is the careful line-and-staff work of the Goldwater operatives. They have studied the convention strategies of 1940, 1952 and 1960 with the same sort of thoroughness that military staff schools devoted to the campaigns of World War I and World War II. What this means is that they are braced to withstand a repetition of the Willie "Telegraph Blitz" of 1940, the Dewey provoked quarrel over the so-called "Taft Steal" of Texas delegates in 1952, and the Nixon-Rockefeller "Treaty of Fifth Avenue" that lost Nixon a critical number of the old Taft votes in 1960. If there is to be a Scranton surprise, then, it will have to be something that hasn't been tried before. It will have to be something adapted, so to speak, to World War III.

Naturally, there are whispers that the Scrantonites have something new up their sleeves. But the mountains of letters and telegrams that Bill Scranton has evoked by systematic newspaper advertising throughout the country amounts to nothing more than a repetition of the Willie telegrams of 1940. And the whispers that counterfeited passes to the gallery will permit the packing of the Cow Palace to stage an anti-Goldwater demonstration of massive proportions is also something very much out of the Willie blitz past.

My own speculation is that there can be no Third World War surprises once the voting here gets under way. Even a strong declaration by Ike Eisenhower himself can hardly be expected to shake many of the Goldwaterites. The security checks which the Goldwater marshals are running on their delegates is a marvel of efficiency. At the southern regional headquarters at the Jack Tar Hotel, commanded by Field Marshal John Grenier of Alabama with the able assistance of Peter O'Donnell of Texas, there is an elaborate chart on the wall designed to list hotel room number, degree of Goldwater intensity, and present "whereabouts" of 279 southern delegates from eleven states. The whole thing might be considered insulting, but at least 250 of the southern delegates have willingly put themselves under what amounts to complete military discipline to the Goldwater staff operation. The security check on northern and western delegates is not so open, but it is there. The Goldwaterites have vivid memories of what happened in 1952, when Tom Dewey, using the "muscle" of a skilled district attorney, detached scores of delegates who were considered to be absolutely firm for Bob Taft.

In view of massive preparations to let Scranton wear himself out punching a feather pillow, the cat-ate-the-canary looks that one encounters on all the faces at the Goldwater hotel Mark Hopkins headquarters is easily explained. The Goldwaterites have come to San Francisco in the grip of what might be called a controlled state of euphoria. They listened with smiles to cracks that they have come to attend a "coronation." They have depth everywhere — depth in their youth organizations, which exist in forty-seven states, depth in their defective arrangements (which they justify by recalling what happened to Bob Taft at Chicago in 1952), depth on the platform committee, depth in the enthusiasm of the "Congressional Party" which is out to repulse the attempts of the so-called "Governors' Party" to keep control of the Republican organization in the name of a few northeastern states.

Watching the quiet preparations of the Goldwater forces is like having a privileged look at the movements of a huge army into the defensive concrete of a strong series of subterranean forts. Something could, of course, go wrong with this defensive strategy; one recalls the dive bombers which Hitler pulled out of his sleeve to flank the Maginot forts from the fourth dimension of the air. But as this column is written, no surprise is yet in sight. Scranton's sackloads of mail and telegrams hardly equal a Luftwaffe, and as for help from Ike Eisenhower, it would be a surprise if it could be exploited to break through what military men call a "glacis."

THE WELL CHILD

Wild Animals Fascinate Children—And Bite Them

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Children are fascinated by animals. But whether in a zoo, a national park or in the woods it must be remembered that animals are wild and may suddenly bite. I emphasize this because often bears and other animals appear to be very friendly.

Friendliness in bears, however, may turn to anger if you refuse them food but they want more and think you are holding out on them, or if you get too friendly with their cubs.

When traveling in a national park, therefore, the only safe procedure is to keep car windows closed, stay a safe distance from all wild animals, and don't attempt to feed them or play games with their young.

Often a fox, squirrel or other wild animal that appears to be friendly is just too sick to follow his better judgement and run. The natural instinct of all wild animals is to get out of your way unless taken suddenly by surprise.

Thus the "friendly" rabbit may have tularemia and the "friendly" fox may have rabies. Indeed, if you or your child is bitten by a wild creature and the animal escapes, you must assume that it had rabies and take prophylactic vaccine. If you kill the animal, you can have its brain examined for signs of rabies. If there are none, you will have one less worry.

Even if the animal is not rabid the bite may result in a nasty infection unless prompt steps are taken to clean the wound. The most important first step is thorough cleansing with soap and water.

If a soap containing hexachlorophene is available, use it.

Don't put iodine on the wound. After cleansing, cover it with the cleanest bandage available. Call your doctor. Then, when all the crying and excitement has subsided, make sure your child has learned his lesson and will not provoke an animal bite in the future.

Q—My 3-year-old daughter has never had her hair cut but it is short and very silky. My friends say that, if I have her head shaved, her hair will grow faster but I don't want to do it because it took three years for her to get what little she's got now. What do you think?

A—Your daughter's scanty slow-growing hair may be a normal variation or it may be due to an excess of vitamin A in her diet or a hormonal imbalance. In any case, although it has long been believed that cutting or shaving the hair will increase the rate of growth, this myth has been completely exploded.

President May Be Out of Debates Due to Position

WASHINGTON (AP)—Television debates between presidential candidates are generally desirable, a study commission says, but "in some . . . situations it may be contrary to our national interest for the president to engage in debates."

The conclusions were reached by a nine-member commission of the American Political Science Association, headed by Carl J. Friedrich, a professor of government at the Harvard Graduate School of Public Administration.

"The presidential candidate who also is president," the commission said, "must consider fully the duties and responsibilities of his office before engaging in campaign debates. Only he can decide whether he will debate his opponents during the campaign. The decision is properly his."

A highlight of the 1960 campaign was the series of debates between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon. Before his assassination, Kennedy said that even as president he would be willing to debate his opponent in 1964.

President Johnson has not announced whether he would be willing to debate a campaign opponent, but some sources say he plans no such encounter.

The commission cited the Cuban invasion and the missile crisis as recent examples of situations in which presidential debates might hurt the national interest.

The study was financed by a grant from the National Broadcasting Co., but the association said the study commission "had complete independence."

Wampum, the media of exchange between early explorers and Indians in America, consisted of tiny purple and white pierced beads made from the inner sides of clam shells. Colored beads were the more valuable.

Dutchess Water System Hearing Scheduled Today

A proposed Dutchess County Water District was scheduled for public hearing today at the courthouse in Poughkeepsie. A revised master plan for the district fixes the cost of building a water treatment and supply system at $5,300,000.

The cost of the water distribution system was fixed at $12,660,000 and the expense of purchasing existing systems was estimated at $6,200,000. Interest payments during the construction were fixed at $389,000 and a contingency reserve was estimated at $460,000.

The previously proposed $31,000,000 county water system anticipated paying Poughkeepsie city $9,000,000 including $3,000,000 for its new water plant proper and the remainder for the city's distribution system.

County Attorney George Whalen said a petition signed by as few as 100 persons owning property in the area of the proposed water district could force the question to a referendum.

Nancy Pat Kinney, "Miss Dunkirk-Fredonia," who topped the place of second runner-up, goes home with three trophies. Thursday night she won the swimsuit award and Friday night she captured the talent award.

The new queen also won a trophy Thursday night for her talent competition.

This was the sixth annual Miss New York State Pageant held in Kingston under the sponsorship of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Margaret O'Neill of Atlantic City, N. J., one of two traveling companions to Miss America; Mrs. Rosalind Lang of Albany, beauty consultant; Mrs. Edna M. Sullivan of New York, fashion consultant; Dr. O. Lincoln Igou of New Paltz, professor of music; John Pike of Woodstock, internationally renowned artist, and Attorney S. James Matthews, who also served as coordinator of judges.

New York Trio Are Disorderly At Woodstock

Three young men were arrested Sunday night by Woodstock town police on charges of disorderly conduct, after an incident on the village green.

The group had been singing folk songs. Chief Constable Clarence Snyder said the trio pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Rudolph Baumgarten and each was fined $10. Payment of the fines was suspended.

Chief Snyder identified the young men as Robert Lauazzi, 18, of 2718 35th Avenue, Long Island City; Murray Mednick, 24, of 748 Ninth Avenue, New York City; and Gerald Segal, 20, of 3334 Bronx Boulevard, the Bronx. A fourth youth was booked but the charge was later dismissed.

According to Chief Snyder, police investigated a complaint at 6:30 p. m., that between 75 and 100 persons had gathered on the village green, and when ordered to move, some refused. One of the group took a punch at one of the officers, Chief Snyder said, and he was arrested. The other two went to the aid of the arrested man and they were taken into custody.

The chief noted that the young men were not affiliated with CORE and there was no violence during the incident.

YMCA Day Camp Enrollment 166 For Third Week

The third week of the YMCA Day Camp opened today in Shokan with 166 campers enrolled.

Scheduled for this week is an over night for junior campers, mountain hike, treasure hunt, hot dog day and fishing on Friday in addition to the regular schedule of sports, archery, camp craft, boating, canoeing and sailing instruction.

The crafts counselors reported campers made 85 tile bracelets, numerous belts, key cases, and purses. The project for this week will be raffia baskets.

The overnighters last week were: Noel Carpio, Sharon Rutledge, Elizabeth Scully, Patricia Martini, Susan Dittus, Terri Martini, Michaela DeGroat, Kevin Churchill, Kenneth Everett, Rinaldo Esposito, Peter Vel, Kenneth Ganger and Michael Farber, with counselors, Donald Parker and Carole Van Heusen.

The program was under the supervision of the camp director and included campers cooking outdoors, evening archery, boating, swimming and a campfire and a bedtime snack.

Yoeman archery awards were earned by Arthur Carr, Jay Jones, Keith MacDonald, and Peter Vel. Boating awards were earned by Michael Farber and Jonathan Koltzauer.

Bulletin 42 More Are For Barry From Ohio

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Front-running Sen. Barry M. Goldwater grabbed 42 of Ohio's 58 Republican National Convention votes today in a two-hour caucus.

Ohio's favorite son, Gov. James A. Rhodes, kept 13 votes. Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton saw his Ohio strength dwindle to 2 votes and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine picked up one vote.

The announcement of how the Ohio delegation divided up came from former U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker.

Texas Man Faces Court on Assault Upon Eisenhower

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Melvin Phillip Floyd, 23, was to face Corporation Court today charged with simple assault on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The charge against the Spearman, Tex., youth grew out of an incident which occurred during Eisenhower's stopover here Saturday. A placard thrown in the air struck the former president in the side.

Eisenhower telegraphed Mayor F. V. Wallace of Amarillo Sunday that the incident "was nothing but a spontaneous reaction to excitement" and "I trust the matter will be dropped."

Taunting Goldwater, he said the Arizona senator "should not fear a convention you claim to control, and I would hope we have not reached the point where you fear to face the nation."

Answer Charge

The body was tentatively identified today by Coroner William Keyser as that of Harriet Towers Straitt, 21, of 74 Robinson Avenue, Newburgh. She had disappeared June 19.

Verdict is being withheld pending state laboratory reports. Trooper Norman Kilfoyle of the Kingston substation, said the body was discovered at about 6:50 p. m. Saturday in woods adjacent to the West Shore Railroad tracks south of Marlboro.

The discovery was made by a girl who was picnicking in the area with her parents.

The girl notified her parents, who summoned troopers to the scene. Senior BCI investigator Edward Shannon is conducting an investigation with other BCI investigators from area stations.

East Coast Car Haulers Voting On New Contract

NORTH BERGEN, N.J. (AP) — A proposed contract that would end the three-week-old strike against new car haulers is up for a vote by 18 teamsters. Union locals on the East Coast.

Results are expected tonight, but members of one local refused to vote after hearing reports that Teamsters President James R. Hoffa wants them to return to work until all the locals pass judgment on the pact.

Some 300 members of Local 107 walked out of a meeting in Wilmington, Del., Sunday before a vote was taken. Jesse Colpo, a rebel leader in the local, said Elwood W. Craig, the local's senior business agent, told the members he had orders from Hoffa that no matter how they voted, the men were to return to work until the new contract had been voted on by all the locals.

The teamsters began their strike June 22 after refusing to accept a national contract sought by Hoffa.

Negotiators for the striking teamsters and the carriers announced agreement Saturday in North Bergen, N. J., after three months of bargaining.

Representatives withheld details of the agreement pending ratification but a spokesman for the locals said the union men had voted unanimously to recommend it to the membership.

The main issues at the end were reported to be provisions involving strike regulations, grievance procedures and pay.

The walkout has caused thousands of new cars and trucks to pile up at auto assembly plants and rail depots along the East Coast.

Goldwater Campaigner To Run Against Keating

STONY BROOK, N. Y. (AP) — John S. Bucalo, a campaigner for Sen. Barry Goldwater, announced his candidacy today for the seat held by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y.

The 37-year-old Long Island businessman said he had entered the race for the Republican nomination because of Keating's statement that he could not support Goldwater's candidacy for president.

Bucalo helped form the state's Conservative Party in 1962.

Electrol Stops All Operations, Offices Are Open

Plant operations at Electrol Incorporated, 85 Grand Street, manufacturer of hydraulic units, have ended, William S. Gilmore, president and general manager, announced today.

Offices, he said, would remain open for an indefinite period. Gilmore said he had not been authorized to give any statement as to why the plant was liquidating, but said one would be made after a meeting of the board of directors today.

It was indicated after a law-off of 77 employees recently that the others would be laid off gradually, but all plant operations apparently ended on Friday. It had a reported total of 206 employees at the time the first group was laid off.

In operation here for decades, the plant reached peak production during World War 2 when it manufactured hydraulic parts for airplanes.

An announcement in February indicated that it was doing well with orders. One in excess of $730,000 was reported at that time, and a total backlog of some $2,500,000 was noted then.

Camp St. George Boys Injured as Auto Overturns

Three boys from St. George's Camp, Ulster Landing and a counselor were brought to Kingston Hospital shortly before noon today after the car in which they were riding turned over on the Quarryville Hill, Town of Saugerties.

Treated at the hospital was Robert Bostock, 20, broken ankle; Richard Becker, broken wrist; Martin Unams and Peter Solomon. The boys and counselor were brought to the hospital by the H and S Ambulance Service of Saugerties. Ulster County Investigator Thomas Mayone and Deputy Sheriffs Frank Neri Jr. and Burt Wolven investigated.

2 Negro Churches Burn in Early Morning Fires

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP)—Pre-dawn fires burned two Negro churches to the ground in a rural community near this southern Mississippi city today.

Sheriff Odell Anders of Adams County said he called in investigators from the state fire marshal's office to probe causes of the fires.

Burned were the Jerusalem Baptist church, located about two miles north of Kingston, and the Bethel Methodist church, about one mile east of Kingston Road.

Fire department crews from Natchez were sent to the scene of both blazes.

White residents of Kingston pledged they would help with men, money and materials to rebuild the churches.

An unidentified citizen told a newsmen: "We want to help these people rebuild their places of worship. This community is friendly and peaceful with no ill feeling toward anyone."

At Natchez, a Negro contractor, Willie Washington, 57, told police a white man tossed a fire-bomb at his home early today but it failed to ignite.

Washington told Lt. Charles Bahin of the Natchez Police Department that a car stopped in front of his house and a white man threw a bottle filled with gasoline or kerosene and rags stuffed in it.

Scene of Wild Riot in Carolina Is Reported Quiet

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — All was quiet at the Motor Freight Restaurant today in the wake of a wild race riot at the truck stop on U.S. 1 near Henderson early Sunday.

Twelve adults, including four white men, who were arrested and charged with failing to obey officers and aiding and abetting in inciting to riot will be given a hearing Tuesday. Four Negro juveniles also were arrested.

Only one person was injured seriously enough to require hospitalization following the hour and a half riot at the restaurant two miles north of Henderson, near the North Carolina-Virginia line.

Chief Deputy Sheriff K. K. Roberson said 200 Negro and white persons, men and women, battled sporadically with fists, rocks and bottles following an unexplained quarrel between a Negro and a white man.

"It was lucky nobody got killed," Roberson said.

The restaurant has allowed Negroes use of the front area with white persons only since passage of the civil rights law. Previously, Negroes were served in a back area.

Probe Rupture Of Chlorine Line Causing 1 Death

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A rupture in a deadly chlorine gas line which poisoned 37 workers and killed another is being investigated today by officials at Scott Paper Co.'s Mobile plant.

The leaking gas killed Walter Jordan, 34, Saraland, Sunday. He was a brother of Lee Roy Jordan, former All-America football player at Alabama.

None of the other 37 employees was listed in critical condition. Plant manager J. C. Coil said the rupture occurred outside the papermill plant. He said the liquid chlorine was piped under pressure and became gas when released.

Coil said the wind blew the gas into the mill where the men were working. Jordan was a crane-man and worked outside the plant. He was found at one of the mill's yards and

New York Trio Are Disorderly At Woodstock

Three young men were arrested Sunday night by Woodstock town police on charges of disorderly conduct, after an incident on the village green. The group had been singing folk songs.

Chief Constable Clarence Snyder said the trio pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Rudolph Baumgarten and each was fined $10. Payment of the fines was suspended.

Chief Snyder identified the young men as Robert Lauzi, 18, of 2718 35th Avenue, Long Island City; Murray Mednick, 24, of 748 Ninth Avenue, New York City; and Gerald Segal, 20, of 3534 Bronx Boulevard, the Bronx. A fourth youth was booked but the charge was later dismissed.

According to Chief Snyder, police investigated a complaint at 6:30 p. m. that between 75 and 100 persons had gathered on the village green, and when ordered to move, some refused. One of the group took a punch at one of the officers, Chief Snyder said, and he was arrested. The other two went to the aid of the arrested man and they were taken into custody.

The chief noted that the young men were not affiliated with CORE and there was no violence during the incident.

YMCA Day Camp Enrollment 166 For Third Week

The third week of the YMCA Day Camp opened today in Shokan with 166 campers enrolled.

Scheduled for this week is an overnight for junior campers, mountain hike, treasure hunt, hot dog day and fishing on Friday in addition to the regular schedule of sports, archery, camp craft, boating, canoeing and sailing instruction.

The crafts counselors reported campers made 85 tie bracelets, numerous belts, key cases, and purses. The project for this week will be raffish baskets.

The overnighters last week were: Noel Carpino, Sharon Rutledge, Elizabeth Scully, Patricia Martin, Susan Dittus, Terri Martin, Michaela DeGroat, Kevin Churchill, Kenneth Everett, Rinaldo Esposito, Peter Vel, Kenneth Ganger and Michael Farber, with counselors, Donald Parker and Carole Van Heusen.

Yoeman archery awards were earned by Arthur, Joseph DuBois, Alexander Fontaine, Jay Hammond, James Harris, Warren Janson, Eugene Jeffries, Brian Johnson, also, Charles Koepfen, Jeffrey Kohberg, Michael Leone, Mary Ruth McDonald, Brenda Madison, Garry Madison, Christy Lee McElhane, Roben Moore, Carl Neumann, Nancy Ostrander, Neil Ostrander, Eric Preisendorfer, Steven Raftery, Richard Rook, Geraldine Savino, William Streeter, Anne Elaine Stedje, Gloria Struber, James Sullivan, Mark Ten Eyck, Eric Wakefield, Webster, Hugh Weiss, Robert Wemyss, and Frank Wemyss.

Forty-three new campers started at camp today.

Autopsy May Show Clue to One of Missing CR Agent

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—An autopsy at the University Medical Center on the lower half of a body may yield a clue today in the case of three missing civil rights workers.

A fisherman found the decomposed lower torso, its feet bound with rope, Sunday in Old River where it cuts away from the Mississippi about 15 miles south of Tallulah, La.

Tallulah is 125 miles southwest of Philadelphia, Miss., where three civil rights workers disappeared June 21 shortly after their release from jail on a speeding violation.

The condition of the body made it impossible to tell the sex or race.

Among these, he said, was "refusal to stand for law and order in maintaining racial peace" and "being afraid to forthrightly condemn right wing extremists."

Taunting Goldwater, he said the Arizona senator "should not fear a convention you claim to control, and I would hope we have not reached the point where you fear to face the nation."

Answer Charge

Scranton has charged that Goldwater's strategists were treating delegates as "a flock of chickens whose necks will be wrung at will."

Goldwater canceled an appearance at a fund-raising party gala to frame his reply, sending Mrs. Goldwater to mingle with the guests without him. The wife of the senator created a stir, but Scranton and his wife were greeted with little fanfare.

Indignantly, Denison Kitchel, Goldwater's campaign manager replied in a statement that Scranton's remarks "tragically reflect upon the character of the Republican party and every delegate to this convention."

"Perhaps on reconsideration," he added, "the governor will recognize the intemperate nature of his remarks."

Re States Conference

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower scheduled an afternoon news conference. But Scranton apparently could hope for no reinforcements from that quarter. Arriving by train, the general said that neither publicly or privately would he express a preference for the presidential candidate.

Appearing as a television commentator for ABC, Eisenhower said he may have made a mistake in announcing 14 months ago that he was not going to express such a preference.

In obvious reference to previous remarks indicating he thinks Goldwater will head the ticket, Eisenhower added:

"And if we have made a mistake or any of us think we have made a mistake in the particular nominee we have set up to lead us during the next campaign, we have got to live with that mistake and we will be true to our party."

The delegate news for Scranton also was relatively bad.

His one bright spot came on a poll of the New Jersey delegation which decided to cast 22 votes for the Pennsylvania governor and 12 for Goldwater, with 6 withholding a decision.

Two veteran members predicted that the 30-vote Wisconsin delegation, still flying the banner of Rep. John W. Byrnes as favorite son, will break apart and give Goldwater 18 votes on the first ballot.

Sen. Gordon L. Allot forecast that the Arizona senator will get 17 or 18 Colorado votes, still nominally uncommitted.

There were these late developments:

—Goldwater suggested that Alabama's Democratic Gov. George C. Wallace, abandon his efforts to garner presidential electors in various states, chiefly in the South. Goldwater said that Wallace "would take votes from someone" and conceded that both he and Wallace have overlapping strength in Southern states.

—Miller's position as the top contender for second place on the ticket was being challenged in some quarters. Former Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, a veteran of many party political party battles, was reported to have urged Goldwater to veer off from Miller. Summerfield promptly denied it.

—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who will nominate Goldwater said in an interview he had been "beating off" suggestions that he become available for second place on the ticket. "I have said a flat 'no' and I mean it," Dirksen said.

2 Negro Churches Burn in Early Morning Fires

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP)—Pre-dawn fires burned two Negro churches to the ground in a rural community near this south-west Mississippi city today.

Sheriff Odell Anders of Adams County said he called in investigators from the state fire marshal's office to probe causes of the fires.

Burned were the Jerusalem Baptist church, located about two miles north of Natchez, and the Bethel Methodist church, about one mile east of Kingston Road.

Fire department crews from Natchez were sent to the scene of both blazes.

White residents of Kingston pledged they would help with men, money and materials to rebuild the churches.

An unidentified citizen told a newsman:

"We want to help these people rebuild their places of worship. This community is friendly and peaceful with no ill feeling toward anyone."

At Natchez, a Negro contractor, Willie Washington, 57, told police a white man tossed a firebomb at his home early today but it failed to ignite.

Scene of Wild Riot in Carolina Is Reported Quiet

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — All was quiet at the Motor Freight Restaurant today in the wake of a wild race riot at the truck stop on U.S. 1 near Henderson early Sunday.

Twelve adults, including four white men, who were arrested and charged with failing to obey officers and aiding and abetting in inciting to riot will be given a hearing Tuesday. Four Negro juveniles also were arrested.

Only one person was injured seriously enough to require hospitalization following the hour and a half riot at the restaurant two miles north of Henderson, near the North Carolina-Virginia line.

Chief Deputy Sheriff K. K. Roberson said 200 Negro and white persons, men and women, battled sporadically with fists, rocks and bottles following an unexplained quarrel between a Negro and a white man.

"It was lucky nobody got killed," Roberson said.

The restaurant has allowed Negroes use of the front area with white persons only since passage of the civil rights law. Previously, Negroes were served in a back area.

Probe Rupture Of Chlorine Line Causing 1 Death

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A rupture in a deadly chlorine gas line which poisoned 37 workers and killed another is being investigated today by officials at Scott Paper Co.'s Mobile plant.

The leaking gas killed Walter Jordan, 34, Saraland, Sunday. He was a brother of Lee Roy Jordan, former All-America football player at Alabama.

None of the other 37 employees was listed in critical condition. Plant manager J. C. Coil said the rupture occurred outside the papermill plant. He said the liquid chlorine was piped under pressure and became gas when released.

Coil said the wind blew the gas into the mill where the men were working. Jordan was a crane man and worked outside the plant. He was found at one of the mill's yards and was believed the first to come in contact with the chlorine.

Miss Churchill, charged in the name of Sarah Lady Audley, pleaded guilty to behaving in a disorderly manner. The prosecution offered no evidence on a further charge of being drunk.

Miss Churchill, 49, is the widow of Viscount Audley, who died in Spain last year. She was arrested at London Airport June 28 as she was about to board a jet flight for Milan.

Pope Postpones Summer Vacation

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI was reported today to have postponed his summer vacation again, possibly to finish the writing of a document on birth control.

The 66-year-old Roman Catholic pontiff had been expected to go early this month to his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, 15 miles south of Rome. Later Vatican sources said the trip had been put off a week or two.

Now Vatican sources say it has been postponed until the end of the month.

Rumors said the Pope was working on at least one policy document and perhaps two.

One report said he hoped to finish the writing of his first encyclical letter, outlining the program of his pontificate, by the time the Vatican Ecumenical Council reconvenes Sept. 14.

Another report said he was also working on a document reviewing Roman Catholic policy on birth control and planned to make it public July 26, the feast day of St. Anne and a day dedicated to Christian mothers.

Drivers Fined

A driver charged with three traffic violations paid $35 in fines in city court today. Thomas T. Quinn, 20, of 129 Prospect Street, pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $15. He was fined $10 each after admitting two traffic light violations. Donald Purdy, 28, of 28 Stuyvesant Street, charged with a stop-sign violation, paid $10, and Norman Nelson, of Box 206, Stone Ridge, charged with driving an unscheduled vehicle, was fined $5.

PSYCHOLOGY AND STOCK PRICES

Five years ago, United States Steel, perhaps the top-ranking industrial corporation in the world, paid $3 a share in dividends on its common stock, and it sold for $108, with a yield of less than 3 per cent.

At that time, the prime steel equities were riding a wave of investor optimism. The psychology of thousands of capitalists was most favorable and the steel stocks were bought regardless of the yield.

Three years later, after a political pronouncement from the White House in Washington warning the steel companies not to increase prices, this optimism was changed to pessimism. And when U. S. Steel cut the dividend from $3 a share to $2, the stock declined to $37.

Such records should be reviewed in times like these. American investors blow hot and cold, reflecting the different economic and political changes that descend upon our great country. The uncertain psychology of millions of investors makes the problems of investment analysts most difficult to solve.

A stock market psychologist can often do better buying and selling equities than a stock market economist.

This force will be an increasing factor in determining prices. When the public is optimistic, prices will rise; when it is pessimistic, prices will fall.

During my coming series of lectures at Town Hall, New York City, I shall stress the favorable and unfavorable psychological forces underlying the stock market.

I shall particularize this matter, Washington, D. C. is steadily increasing its power and influence over America's 192,000,000 people.

A powerful agency of the government is about to be given authority to demand that cigarette companies be forced to say on their cartons that smoking may produce harmful effects. What are we coming to in America? Millions of people ought to be allowed, it seems to me, to live their own lives and choose their own habits.

But, already, the threat of this legislation is influencing the price of common stocks of the best cigarette companies.

I think in 1964, these equities today are in much the same position as were the steel stocks a couple of years ago. The psychology surrounding the cigarette equities today is pessimistic and fearful people are selling them.

Will smoking survive in our society? Yes, and it will grow with an expanding population.

Today, on the New York Stock Exchange, there are a score of good equities selling low in price because the political and economic atmosphere is not good.

United Fruit is such a stock. The company is operating in a difficult climate. And despite the fact that the company itself bought 426,000 shares of its own stock at $25.75 a share, today the public isn't interested in buying it at $22.

Buy good common stocks when market psychology is bad.

The Forum (Q) "I bought U. S. Steel at $100 a share. I sold it at $40. Should I buy it back at $60?"

(A) Probably you should leave your money in a savings bank.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

Editors Note—Jonathan Winters, a brilliant humorist and often savage satirist, discusses his concept of contemporary American humor. He writes for Cynthia Lowry who is on vacation.

By JONATHAN WINTERS
For The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — For a time now, some television humor has been dominated by dim-witted mothers, out-witted fathers and half-wit ideas.

These characters, backed by teams of writers, working in re-lays, have one thing in common — no connection with reality.

New Sort Emerging

Now, however, a different sort of comedy is beginning to emerge. It's called improvisational comedy and it's based on trying — without careful, slick preparation — to get at the truth. People laugh because, in addition to the humor, they recognize the truth.

I'm prejudiced in favor of improvisational comedy. A lot of people including some television producers — insist that the sort of humor I'm talking about is "sick." Funny thing is there's one television show with a man who gets advice from a horse — and they call this healthy?

Improvisational humor also is regarded, by some timid souls, as "too far out" for television.

What kind of person claims we're "too far out?" It's the same guy you've heard saying, "I never discuss politics or religion." He's the same guy who never discussed the race issue. But look at what's happening now in that corner because of years of brushing it under a carpet of silence.

Just Reflection

Humor, after all, is just a reflection of the times in which we live. With the world today, a small one, we can't afford NOT to discuss things any more.

Television is the place where improvisational humor can really grow, as audiences are beginning to get tired of accepting twenty or thirty hours of comedy a week based on an unreal, unlikely group of hillbillies stuck in the middle of Beverly Hills when Peter Lawford is barred from an apartment in the middle of Manhattan.

Improvisation also is peculiarly suited to television because it emphasizes the one quality that television presents best — spontaneity.

I believe that humor based upon truth is the only real humor. A man is a real humorist only if he's the creation of his own wit and not only the wit of 14 writers laboring for a week.

And as for basing humor upon real life, the only answer I have is that, if you don't laugh, you'll cry. Which is better?

Proposed Platform on Significant Issues for Republicans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Here in brief is what the proposed 1964 Republican platform pledges on these significant issues:

Civil Rights — "Full implementation and faithful execution of the Civil Rights Law of 1964."

Fiscal Affairs — "We also pledge prudent and responsible management of the government's fiscal affairs to protect the individual against the evils of spendthrift government."

Viet Nam—"We will move decisively to assure victory in South Viet Nam."

Cuba — "We will vigorously press our OAS (Organization of American States) partners to join the United States in restoring a free and independent government in Cuba."

Health Care—"Full coverage of all medical and hospital costs of needy elderly people financed by general revenues through broader implementation of federal-state plans."

Insurance man Earl C. May ran an ad in the Gainesville Sun that listed his name and agency beside an uncaptioned photo of famous Apache Indian Chief Geronimo, glowering with a gun.

In came a postcard from Jacksonville saying "Seen your ad and want some of that shotgun insurance." (signed) Davey Crockett.

Humor, after all, is just a reflection of the times in which we live. With the world today, a small one, we can't afford NOT to discuss things any more.

Television is the place where improvisational humor can really grow, as audiences are beginning to get tired of accepting twenty or thirty hours of comedy a week based on an unreal, unlikely group of hillbillies stuck in the middle of Beverly Hills when Peter Lawford is barred from an apartment in the middle of Manhattan.

Improvisation also is peculiarly suited to television because it emphasizes the one quality that television presents best — spontaneity.

I believe that humor based upon truth is the only real humor. A man is a real humorist only if he's the creation of his own wit and not only the wit of 14 writers laboring for a week.

And as for basing humor upon real life, the only answer I have is that, if you don't laugh, you'll cry. Which is better?

Proposed Platform on Significant Issues for Republicans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Here in brief is what the proposed 1964 Republican platform pledges on these significant issues:

Civil Rights — "Full implementation and faithful execution of the Civil Rights Law of 1964."

Fiscal Affairs — "We also pledge prudent and responsible management of the government's fiscal affairs to protect the individual against the evils of spendthrift government."

Viet Nam — "We will move de-

cisively to assure victory in South Viet Nam."

Cuba — "We will vigorously press our OAS (Organization of American States) partners to join the United States in restoring a free and independent government in Cuba."

Health Care — "Full coverage of all medical and hospital costs of needy elderly people financed by general revenues through broader implementation of federal-state plans."

Unexpected Response

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Insurance man Earl C. May ran an ad in the Gainesville Sun that listed his name and agency beside an uncaptioned photo of famous Apache Indian Chief Geronimo, glowering with a gun.

In came a postcard from Jacksonville saying "Seen your ad and want some of that shotgun insurance." (signed) Davey Crockett."

Why We Say--

BULL IN A CHINA SHOP

This expression, which means to act clumsily, started in 1816 with Lord Amherst who, representing England (John Bull), failed in a diplomatic mission to foster trade with China. Newspaper cartoons depicted him as a bull in a china shop.

PUT A TIGER IN YOUR TANK!

NEW POWER-FORMULA ESSO EXTRA GASOLINE BOOSTS POWER THREE WAYS:

- 1 Cleaning Power! Dirt can clog even a new carburetor in a few months of normal operation—causing hard starting and rough idling. Your very first tankful of New Esso Extra will start to clear away these deposits—in new engines or old—to improve power and mileage.
- 2 Firing Power! Spark plug and cylinder deposits can cause misfiring, pre-ignition and hot spots. New Esso Extra neutralizes these harmful deposits—to help your engine fire smoothly, to help preserve the power of new cars and restore lost power to many older cars.
- 3 Octane Power! New Esso Extra has the high octane that most cars now need for full smooth performance without knocking. You'll get all these extras with New Power-formula Esso Extra gasoline—it puts a tiger in your tank! Happy Motoring!

Historical Society Will Present Antique Show

As its first event of the season, the Woodstock Historical Society will present an Antique Show to be called "The Age of Wood in Woodstock." The show will be open to the public without charge on July 16 and 17 from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. in the basement of the Reformed Dutch Church in Woodstock.

In preparation for the show, Woodstock attics and woodsheds are being ransacked to provide examples of objects made of wood in the town, or used here in the past. Furniture of various periods, tools, kitchen equipment and farm implements will be featured. A special area will be devoted to the amazingly varied work done in Woodstock turning mills over the past century. Furniture made at Byrdcliffe early in this century by members of the arts and crafts colony will be shown.

About 1760 Robert Livingston of Clermont, landlord of most Woodstock, built a sawmill either on the Tannery Brook or the Sawkill. This was the first building recorded as having been built in Woodstock although a few houses then stood in what is now known as Zena. The owner of the Livingston mill had ambitious plans for using Woodstock's primeval forest. He hoped to process curly maple for gunstocks and furniture, white ash for oars, oak for ship's timbers, white pine for siding, the wood of the tulip trees for paneling. Livingston's tenants, it was planned, would pay a part of their rent by working in the sawmill or by hauling timber from the mill to the mouth of the Sagers Kill opposite Livingston's mansion of Clermont.

When wind and tide was favorable the timber from Woodstock would be rafted across the Hudson to Clermont and so to the markets of the world. From that day to this, the relations between the forests and the people of Woodstock have been very close. For a century and a half tools, home furnishings and farm equipment were largely made of local wood. Today metal and plastics have displaced wood to a great extent. But lumbering still continues in town and Woodstock's forests play an increasingly important recreational role. All this will be explored in "The Age of Wood in Woodstock."

On July 16 at 8 p. m., the Woodstock Historical Society will hold its first meeting of the season in the Reformed Church basement. Its president, Alf Evers, will speak on the Age of Wood in Woodstock using objects in the Antique Show as illustrations. All interested are invited to visit the show and to be present at the society's meeting.

Brother-Sister Exhibition at Mari Galleries

The accent is on the unusual in the second exhibition of the summer at the Mari Galleries opening July 17 and continuing through July 30. Of the three artists represented, two form a "Brother-Sister Show;" they are the painter Gigi Aramesco and her brother, sculptor Tico Aramesco; the third artist is Blanche Phillips, sculptor in bronze.

Gigi and Tico Aramesco both received degrees in law before continuing their studies in art. Gigi studied in Europe and then at the Art Students League under Vtlachel and Menkes. Tico received his Master of Arts degree at the American University, Washington, D.C.

Miss Aramesco, a member of the Six Florida Abstract Painters, is represented in the permanent collection of the Museum of Modern Art and in many private collections here and abroad. Her brother, Tico, practiced artistic and commercial photography before devoting himself to sculpture. He has exhibited in Miami and Miami Beach, and won a prize in sculpture at the 1962 Spring Festival in Miami.

Blanche Phillips has become a part of the Woodstock Summer-Art scene through four seasons of exhibition. Her sculptures have been described as "very interesting," "different," and "very unusual." She studied at Cooper Union, Art Students League, Steinhof Institute of Design, California School of Fine Art and with Ossip Zadkine. She has had many one-man shows—in New York, Florida, and in Mexico; and has shown in a great number of group shows in this country, in Europe, and in South America. Her sculptures are to be found in the permanent collections of several museums and in many, many private collections.

Picture Stolen From Woodstock Gallery

The theft of a framed print by William Kent, American artist was discovered last week at Gallery Ten, 73 Tinker Street. The picture entitled "Eat Me" was a typical Kent satire on advertising themes. The present exhibition which continues to July 17 has two other prints on the same subject. The missing work was the best example, according to Victor Milonzi, gallery director.

St. Remy Vols Have Family Picnic Fete

More than 30 families attended the annual picnic outing of the St. Remy-Union Center Fire Company Sunday afternoon at Forsyth Park.

There were games for all ages. The auxiliary provided dessert and vols supplied other refreshments.

Saban Washer Smokes

Glascio firemen under Assistant Chief Louis Cacchillo were called to the home of Martin J. Saban at 11 Edgewood Drive, Windmere, about 8:15 a. m. today where the cellar was reported filled with smoke. The difficulty was in an automatic washer. There was no fire damage.

573 Women Will Be Delegates Or Alternates

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A record 573 women delegates and alternates take their seats today for the first sessions of the Republican National Convention with pretty secretary Polly Buck of Delaware in the starring role of roll-caller.

The wives of the two leading presidential candidates—Peggy Goldwater and Mary Scranton—had box seats for the opener.

Mrs. Goldwater had stayed until midnight at the convention—over a million-dollar, fundraising buffet—dinner gala, which Sen. Barry Goldwater shunned for backstage convention business.

The Scrantons, also at the gala, had warmly exchanged greetings with Mamie and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. They left at the same time as the Eisenhowers after a half-hour at the jammed, noisy party, which featured a 60-foot-long buffet table loaded with delicacies.

In the morning and matinee convention kickoff sessions, two key GOP women were featured speakers—Elly Peterson of Charlotte, Mich., assistant national chairman and head of women's activities, and Dorothy Elston of Middletown, Del., who heads the half-million member National Federation of Republican Women.

Last of the presidential hopefuls to arrive was Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, who proclaimed to some 300 cheering, crowding airport greeters Sunday that she's still a candidate and "I have just as good a chance as anyone."

Historical Society Will Present Antique Show

As its first event of the season, the Woodstock Historical Society will present an Antique Show to be called "The Age of Wood in Woodstock." The show will be open to the public without charge on July 16 and 17 from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. in the basement of the Reformed Dutch Church in Woodstock.

In preparation for the show, Woodstock attics and woodsheds are being ransacked to provide examples of objects made of wood in the town, or used here in the past. Furniture of various periods, tools, kitchen equipment and farm implements will be featured. A special area will be devoted to the amazingly varied work done in Woodstock turning mills over the past century. Furniture made at Byrdcliffe early in this century by members of the arts and crafts colony will be shown.

About 1760 Robert Livingston of Clermont, landlord of most Woodstock, built a sawmill either on the Tannery Brook or the Sawkill. This was the first building recorded as having been built in Woodstock although a few houses then stood in what is now known as Zena. The owner of the Livingston mill had ambitious plans for using Woodstock's primeval forest. He hoped to process curly maple for gunstocks and furniture, white ash for oars, oak for ship's timbers, white pine for siding, the wood of the tulip trees for paneling. Livingston's tenants, it was planned, would pay a part of their rent by working in the sawmill or by hauling timber from the mill to the mouth of the Sagers Kill opposite Livingston's mansion of Clermont.

When wind and tide was favorable the timber from Woodstock would be rafted across the Hudson to Clermont and so to the markets of the world.

From that day to this, the relations between the forests and the people of Woodstock have been very close. For a century and a half tools, home furnis-

ings and farm equipment were largely made of local wood. Today metal and plastics have displaced wood to a great extent. But lumbering still continues in town and Woodstock's forests

On July 16 at 8 p. m., the Woodstock Historical Society will hold its first meeting of the season in the Reformed Church basement. Its president, Alf Evers, will speak on the Age of Wood in Woodstock using objects in the Antique Show as illustrations. THE NEWKIRK HOMESTEAD will be one of the homes to be visited during the Dutch Day Fair conducted by the Marletown Reformed Church of Stone Ridge on Saturday, Aug. 8. This is one of the truly old houses of the area, the original section having been built in the early seventeenth century. It came into the possession of the grandfather of the present owners in 1860 through his maternal ancestors, the Smiths.

The farm is presently operated by Miss Edythe Newkirk, the seventh daughter born to this generation. Although the front gables were added about 80 years ago, most of the house has been unchanged through the centuries. The house has a large sleeping alcove, long beams, wide plank floors, old furniture and hand made rugs. Tours will be conducted from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. and luncheon and supper will be served at the church.

Thousands Visit Bier of French Red Leader Thorz

PARIS (AP)—Thousands of followers today filed past the bier of French Communist leader Maurice Thorz, 64.

Thorz, head of the French party for 34 years, died Saturday aboard a Soviet ship crossing the Black Sea to Yalta, where he was to be treated for a chronic heart condition.

The body was landed at Varna, Bulgaria, where Communist officials said after a post mortem.

cit. 91, JOUAM, 14 Henry Street. King's Knight Chess Club, Elks Club, Fair Street.

Glenrie Bridge Club, bridge studio, 271 Fair Street.

tem that Thorz had died of a heart attack.

Thorz' widow, Jeanette Vermeersch, also a party leader, was with him when he died. A Soviet plane Sunday brought her and the body to Paris, where they were met by a large crowd and three of Thorz' sons.

The body was taken to lie in state today and Tuesday in the City Hall of Ivry-sur-Seine, a workers' suburb with a Communist city government. Thorz represented the district in the National Assembly. The body will be moved Wednesday to party headquarters in the center of Paris, and the funeral will be Thursday.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in a cable to Mrs. Thorz, saluted her husband as "an outstanding figure of the French and international Communist and workers' movement, a true friend of the Soviet Union, our brother-in-arms in the great struggle for the liberation of mankind."

A coal miner at 12, Thorz at

20 was a founder of the French Communist party. He became regional party director in 1923 and national secretary-general in 1930.

In 1934 he was instrumental in organizing the Socialist-Communist Popular Front against Fascism. When World War II broke out in 1939, he fled to the Soviet Union and was convicted in absentia of desertion. He was given amnesty later.

President Charles de Gaulle made Thorz minister of state in 1945, and he held several Cabinet posts until 1947, when the Communists were expelled from the government.

State Exposition To Feature Art of N. Y. Youngsters

A display of nearly 400 outstanding works of art by youngsters from all over the Empire State is being hung at the 1964 New York State Exposition. This is the first time the "Big E" has held such a showing according to Mrs. Helen B. Vandervort, Women's Division director.

The Expo runs from Tuesday, Sept. 1 through Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7, in Syracuse with all buildings and exhibits open 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Arts and crafts by school students through grade 12 will be displayed on the second floor of the Harriet May Mills Building. The variety of work runs from papier-mache items to mobiles, and from sculpture to fine oils.

Roland Ivers of North Syracuse High School, chairman of the exhibit, said the exhibit attempts to show and explain what is being done in New York State schools in the field of art.

Encourages Practice

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A medical scholarship program is provided an average of 14 doctors a year in rural areas of Kentucky.

Kentuckians can get a maximum of $1,300 a year in loans during their four years in medical school but must agree to practice one year in a rural section for each year of the loan.

Since the Rural Kentucky Medical Scholarship Fund was set up 18 years ago, there have been 257 students who went into rural practice.

Vacation Notice

The Cerebral Palsy Center of Ulster County, 400 Broadway, Kingston will be closed for vacation from July 20 through August 7. Regular therapy sessions will resume on Aug. 10.

This is one of the truly old houses of the area, the original section having been built in the early seventeenth century. It came into the possession of the grandfather of the present owners in 1860 through his maternal ancestors, the Smiths.

The farm is presently operated by Miss Edythe Newkirk, the seventh daughter born to this generation. Although the front gables were added about 80 years ago, most of the house has been unchanged through the centuries. The house has a large sleeping alcove, long beams, wide plank floors, old furniture and hand made rugs. Tours will be conducted from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. and luncheon and supper will be served at the church.

Thousands Visit Bier of French Red Leader Thorz

PARIS (AP)—Thousands of followers today filed past the bier of French Communist leader Maurice Thorz, 61.

Thorz, head of the French party for 34 years, died Saturday aboard a Soviet ship crossing the Black Sea to Yalta, where he was to be treated for a chronic heart condition.

The body was landed at Varna, Bulgaria, where Communist officials said after a post mortem that Thorz had died of a heart attack.

Thorz' widow, Jeanette Vermeersch, also a party leader, was with him when he died. A Soviet plane Sunday brought her and the body to Paris, where they were met by a large crowd and three of Thorz' sons.

The body was taken to lie in state today and Tuesday in the City Hall of Ivry-sur-Seine, a workers' suburb with a Communist city government. Thorz represented the district in the National Assembly. The body will be moved Wednesday to party headquarters in the center of Paris, and the funeral will be Thursday.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in a cable to Mrs. Thorz, saluted her husband as "an outstanding figure of the French and international Communist and workers' movement, a true friend of the Soviet Union, our brother-in-arms in the great struggle for the liberation of mankind."

A coal miner at 12, Thorz at

20 was a founder of the French Communist party. He became regional party director in 1923 and national secretary-general in 1930.

In 1934 he was instrumental in organizing the Socialist-Communist Popular Front against Fascism. When World War II broke out in 1939, he fled to the Soviet Union and was convicted in absentia of desertion. He was given amnesty later.

SWEETIE PIE

"Sweetie Pie sure seems determined to get me into that icy water!"

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The day nursery in Kingston was once run by the Volunteers of America, where as I remember, they charged 10 cents for each child per day. I remember it was very popular with the working mothers, as I visited the place and had the mothers and workers on a local radio show so they could reach the public for various little items which were needed. As I remember they took even very tiny babies, and had cribs for them, gave them a meal or two, and had tiny red checkered table cloths on little tables for the small tots.

Going back to 1914, I see where St. Joseph's Hall had a tea and dance by members of the Monday Afternoon Sewing Club for the benefit of the day nursery club at that time. They raised $100 from this social event and this, I understand started the day nursery in the Federation House on Hasbrouck Avenue, as it was written up in The Freeman of Jan. 9, 1914. They had beds and bedding and gifts of cribs, cradles and small chairs, and were receiving more needed articles at the time. This day nursery was to be opened from 7 in the morning till 6 in the evening, and mothers were charged five cents for each child per day.

At the time, in 1914 applications were made to Mrs. Laura McMillan, who was in charge of the social center there, and the general settlement work in Kingston. Credit was given to St. Joseph's Monday Afternoon Sewing Club for the day nursery. As I understand, the day nursery of the Volunteers came many years later. I think a day nursery would be of great help in 1964 for working mothers, who now have to look for baby sitters or depend on relatives.

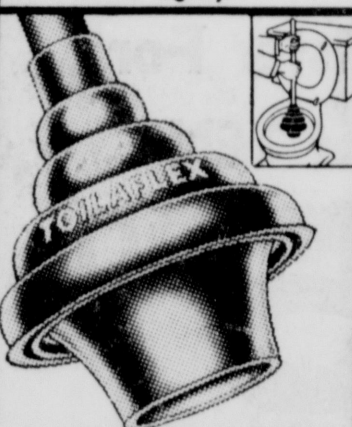

In 1914 E. Mullen Tobacco Co. of Kingston was advertising thus: "Critics of Tobacco have given Mullen's a place by itself. They simply confirm the opinion of every smoker in Ulster County when they say that Mullen's is the best and purest." This famous tobacco was also known as Higginsville Hay. I've seen some old timers smoke it with pleasure, maybe it's different than modern tobacco.

I wonder how many old timers remember "the best place to eat, when shopping in Kingston" was "at the Balcony Tea Room in Carl's Department Store, best of service, regular dinners, 35 cents." Readers knew this building as Rose-Gorman-Rose, and much later as Montgomery Ward, and most of us knew the balcony which overlooked the railroad station and mountains. I used to ask the late Mrs. Gorman why she did not have a restaurant there as did Carl's store before her, but she used the space for rest rooms and offices, as readers remember.

In the Jan. 13, 1914 Freeman there is an item about the Powelley Company driving piles for the foundation for the new light-house at the mouth of the Rondout Creek. The contract was awarded to the Bannon Co. and the Michaud Co. of Kingston. Forty foot piles were being sunk which were to be surrounded by steel into which concrete was poured to form a foundation. The work was progressing rapidly and although January, the ice was not then interfering with the work, it said in the January 1914 edition.

In this same paper they wrote about Sergeant Patrick Maley, who was retiring as watchman from the Mansion House after service of some 30 years. It was said he had been in the regular army with General Custer and Colonel W. F. Cody, better known as "Buffalo Bill."

FBI Is Pressing Probe in Slaying Of Negro Educator

COLBERT, Ga. (AP)—FBI and Georgia state agents today pushed an intensive investigation into the mysterious slaying of a Washington Negro educator.

J. J. Casper, assistant director of the FBI, would say only that the investigation is continuing. "I'm in no position to make any comment," he said.

State investigators fanned out Sunday along the route taken through northeast Georgia by Lemuel Penn, 49, director of Washington's vocational high schools, when he was shot at the wheel of his car early Saturday by a night-riding gunman.

Residents along the rural route said agents of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation moved from house to house in their questioning Sunday. Public Safety Director Lowell Conner said there were no arrests and that he had nothing to report.

Penn, a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve, was killed by a shotgun blast fired from a car which passed his automobile from the rear about 10 miles northeast of Colbert. Two other Negro officers riding with Penn escaped injury. The three men had completed a refresher course at Ft. Benning.

The only investigator talking was Madison County Sheriff Dewey Seagraves, who said he was getting nowhere.

"They are not either," Seagraves said, referring to the FBI.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gower Champion takes time out from the staging of musical comedies to direct a straight play for Broadway next season.

Swamped with bids for his services, Champion has chosen Roger O. Hirson's "World War Two and a Half," being produced by Alexander H. Cohen.

Shows he previously directed were the song-and-dance hits "Bye, Bye, Birdie," "Carnival," and the current hit, "Hello, Dolly!"

Health Clinic Friday

A clinic for immunization against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus will be conducted by the Ulster County Health Department at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, on Friday, July 17 from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Immunization for whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus should be started at three months of age; smallpox vaccination should be given sometime during the first year of life; and polio immunizations should be started from three to six months of age.

There clinics serve those who are referred by their physician or those who are otherwise unable to secure these immunizations.

Deaths

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Emile B. De Sauze, 85, the originator of the conversational method of language teaching, died Saturday in a home for the aged. He taught in Cleveland public schools from 1918 until he retired 15 years ago. He was born in Tours, France.

WINNETKA, Ill. (AP) — Walter F. Straub, 67, died Sunday in his Winnetka, Ill., home. He was president and manager of W. F. Straub & Co., a director of Wieboldt Stores, Inc., and president of the Wieboldt Foundation.

SIDNEY, Australia (AP) — Mrs. David J. Hopkins, wife of David J. Hopkins, son of former presidential advisor Harry L. Hopkins, died Sunday after an illness in Sidney, Australia.

He Can Be Highly Satisfied

There's a Lot of Goldwater In Republican Party Platform

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There's a lot of Sen. Barry Goldwater in the campaign promises nailed together by the Republican platform committee. He can be highly satisfied with it.

Although he wanted a short platform, and this is long, he wanted one which was mostly a declaration of principles. In a large sense, that's what it is, and, just because it is, it's all patched over with vagueness.

Anyone reading it would have to stick a big question mark in many of the paragraphs, asking himself: "What does this mean? How will this be done?"

There will be a fight over some parts of it Tuesday on the convention floor by Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, Goldwater's leading opponent for the Republican presidential nomination. But as of now Scranton's fading fast and probably won't get far.

The foreign policy plank, for instance, starts off with a ringing call for a "dynamic strategy." That's the typical political platform rubber wording.

The Republicans created a big question mark when they went on to say they "reaffirm their long-standing commitment to a course leading to the eventual liberation" of the Red-run countries of Eastern Europe, Asia and Latin America.

Never Lived Down Promise
John Foster Dulles, later President Eisenhower's secretary of state, talked liberation of the satellites back in 1952.

But when he and Eisenhower ran foreign policy later nothing ever came of it. Even when the East Germans and Hungarians revolted nothing was done to help them. Dulles never quite lived down the promise.

The platform also pledges to cut off trade with the Communist countries unless it served to "diminish their power."

The platform promises a "drastic reorganization of foreign aid." This suits Goldwater fine. He had repeatedly voted in the Senate against foreign aid bills.

In speeches around the country he had called for elimination of the graduated income tax, preferring, as he said, to have a system by which poor and rich would pay the same percentage of tax, which would mean a great saving, particularly for the rich.

Point Not Clear

The senator never repudiated that proposal although he hasn't been mentioning it lately. The platform doesn't go so far as Goldwater but it calls for simplification as well as lowering of the "rates to strengthen individual and business incentives."

Exactly what the platform committee had in mind isn't clear.

Another plank pledges revision of the Social Security laws to "allow higher earnings, without loss of benefits, by our elderly people." Again: No explanation of how this could be done.

Goldwater in the past had talked of putting Social Security on a voluntary basis. This got him criticism and he stopped saying it. Then he said he wanted to strengthen Social Security and make the pension dollar sound. But he never publicly repudiated the idea of a voluntary system.

Goldwater had voted against an increase in the minimum wage law. One platform pledge would provide "incentive for employers to hire teenagers, including broadening of temporary exemptions under the minimum wage law."

Meets His Ideas

The platform also would drastically curtail the power of the National Labor Relations Board, the Federal Trade Commission and the Food and Drug Administration, all of which coincides with Goldwater's calls for less government authority.

The platform also promises two constitutional amendments. But the purpose of one isn't clear. This suggests an amendment to let people exercise their religion in public places but would not undo the Supreme Court's ban on compulsory or prepared religious readings in public schools.

The other slaps at the court which said the membership in both houses of a state legislature must be based on equal proportions of the population. The platform wants an amendment letting one of the two houses choose its membership as it pleases.

Probably the most controversial part of the platform—the one most likely to provoke a convention floor fight—is on civil rights. But oddly enough this part seems to contain one of the clearest pledges, although it doesn't suit Scranton. It promises "full implementation and faithful execution of the Civil Rights Act of 1960 (which Goldwater voted against) and all other civil rights statutes." It's a long platform. Only a few parts have been touched on here.

Trio Accused Of Auto Theft

Three Brooklyn teenagers were apprehended on the State Thruway at Mile Post 92 (south-bound) Saturday night by state police who accused the trio of automobile theft.

Trooper Norman Kilfoyle of the Kingston substation, said Thruway police turned the youths over to Kingston troopers. The three were ordered held in the county jail pending arrival of New York City authorities.

Kilfoyle said the youths were John Philip Sark Jr., 16, of 10 Gaines Court; Peter Hanson, 16, of 16 Noell Avenue, and Richard Lewis, 17, of 3014 Gerritsen Avenue, all of Brooklyn. The youths were accused of stealing a 1964 car in New York City.

Speakers at CR Rally Say Barry Not Acceptable

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater was denounced as a totally unacceptable Republican presidential candidate by speakers at a massive civil rights rally Sunday.

The demonstrators, both Negro and white, were estimated by police to number around 35,000. They moved slowly, 15 abreast, up Market Street to the Civic Center Plaza where they were addressed by Negro civil rights leaders including James Farmer, national head of the Congress of Racial Equality and William Chester, chairman of the San Francisco Negro Labor Assembly.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Henry Cabot Lodge, and New York Sens. Jacob Javits and Kenneth Keating also addressed the marchers. They did not mention Goldwater by name.

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who has campaigned for a stronger civil rights plank in the GOP platform, was not present at the rally. Aides said this was because the governor had many previous commitments including an appearance on a national television show.

"This is the face of freedom, the real America, and the Republican party must listen," Farmer told the demonstrators. "If the Republican party nominates Goldwater, it will sound its own death knell."

"We are not against the Republican party, but we want the world to know that Senator Goldwater is not fit to be a candidate for president of the United States."

Rockefeller and Lodge praised the demonstrators. The rally was sponsored by a coalition of Negro, labor and church groups. Leaders said a similar demonstration is planned for the Democratic convention in Atlantic City next month.

Indians Do Rain Dance: Sector, Party Drenched

TOWANDA, Pa. (AP)—A three-day inter-tribal gathering of some 400 braves ended abruptly when a rain dance proved too effective.

The Indians put on a rain dance near this Northeastern Pennsylvania community Sunday. Five minutes after the dance, the drought-stricken area was drenched from a downpour and some 3,000 spectators ran for cover.

The dance was part of the three-day ceremonies at nearby Wyalusing Rocks. The pow-wow was sponsored by the Indian League of the Americas.

Earlier the attending American and Canadian Indians had demonstrated crafts for the crowd, performed different dances and sang Indian songs.

Lightning Causes Fire At Willow Bungalow

Fire reportedly caused by lightning damaged a summer bungalow off Route 212 at Willow Sunday evening, according to Fire Chief George Haythorne of Woodstock.

The fire was reported at about 6:15 p. m. and Fire Co. No. 3 responded with a pumper and tank truck. Chief Haythorne, who went to the scene with Fire Co. No. 1's pumper and emergency truck, said firemen from Company 3 did an excellent job in quickly gaining control of the fire. The chief said the bungalow is owned by a Sherman family.

PACKS FOR JAMBOREE—David Palmer of Troop 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Waltman of 75 Lucas Avenue is one of 80 area Boy Scouts preparing to leave July 15 for the Sixth National Boy Scouts of America Jamboree scheduled July 17-23 at Valley Forge, Pa. Two chartered buses will supply transportation for members of Jamboree Troops 59 and 60. Watching the local youth pack for his trip are, from left, his mother and two sisters, Mary Frances Waltman, 21 months and Christine Palmer, 10. More than 50,000 American boys will take part in the Valley Forge festivities. (Freeman photo)

Parade of Hoopla Takes Over In Frisco Convention City

By SAUL PETT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Having survived the gold rush, the earthquake and the Japanese beetle, this city of grace and taste is now choked with corn as high as an elephant's eye, assorted nuts, promoters, press agents, world-savers and pamphleteers, including one pushing "a positive program for responsible extremism." While the Republican convention itself gets started today on an incoming tide of oratory and an ebb of suspense, the parade of hoopla, spontaneous and synthetic, continues in what has been called the lull before the lull.

All Kinds Present

There are all kinds of people here, even delegates, but the ones who seem to be having the most fun are the wandering bands of kids. Like street urchins in an Italian movie, they go from one free load to another, from one hospitality suite to the next, collecting loot, punch, soda, campaign buttons and tracts with fine impartiality.

For all the noise, bands, exhibitionists, for all the pickets for "Ringo (of the Beatles) for President" or those crying "Earl Warren must repent," for all the big button wearers, including those whose pins cry simply for "Help" or "Mother" or "Stop Stassen," memorable wit remains hard to come by.

However, one Goldwater delegate was overheard asking another Goldwater delegate: "What do you think of Scranton?" Answer: "Don't know. Never been there."

Way to Get Attention

With all the important people here, unless you're Dwight D. Eisenhower or one of the major candidates, about the only way to attract any real attention is to look conspiratorial in a hotel lobby. The thing too do is lean over to a friend and whisper, "I must get in touch with my people immediately." Do that and you'll be drowned under reporters, blinded by camera lights and choked to death with television.

Another way is to undress in public. One healthy young blonde drew off the mob in front of the Mark Hopkins Hotel by appearing in a blouse cut down to her waist. On one side of her striking superstructure she wore a Goldwater button; on the other, a Scranton button but nothing for the middle of the roaders.

Will Submit Contract To Manage Area Airport

A former member of the Dutchess County Airport Commission made known Sunday that he seeks to submit a proposed contract for the management, maintenance and operation of the Dutchess airport.

H. Wilbur Campbell, who headed the now inactive Campbell Building Co., has resided in Dublin, N. H., the last three years. He said he now has a residence at West Park, Ulster County. Campbell, a private pilot, says he has been interested in the airport for some time.

Two Are Injured As Driver Swats Bee in Vehicle

Two Flushing residents were injured Sunday afternoon about 4:15 o'clock when the operator of a car attempted to swat a bee which had entered the car. The car left the road and struck a tree.

Injured was the operator Murray Gruzman, 46, who received contusions of the nose and injuries to his right elbow. Also injured was Eleanor Gruzman, 42, who sustained a broken rib, lacerations of the face, possible cheekbone fracture and contusions of the right hand and arm.

The accident happened on the Quannacut Road, Route 52. The injured were taken to Horton Memorial Hospital, Middletown, by the Pine Bush First Aid and Rescue Squad. Trooper W. E. Hubert of Ellenville station investigated.

Linguists estimate that at least 3,000 languages and major dialects are spoken in the world today. The figure, however, does not include hundreds of splinter languages known only to isolated groups of tribesmen in Asia, Africa and South America.

Refreshments, Records Taken at Spring Lake

An undetermined amount of soda, beer, ice cream and candy and $6 from the petty cash was taken sometime Friday night or early Saturday morning from the Spring Lake pavilion on Lucas Avenue.

Wayne Rowe, manager, reported when the place closed Friday night all was in order. The loss was discovered on opening Saturday. Entrance was gained through a side window.

Also reported missing were 19 45-RPM records.

The burglary was investigated by Deputy Sheriff John Tuley and was still under investigation today by County Investigator Thomas Mayone.

Trio Accused Of Auto Theft

Three Brooklyn teenagers were apprehended on the State Thruway at Mile Post 92 (south-bound) Saturday night by state police who accused the trio of automobile theft.

Trooper Norman Kilfoyle of the Kingston substation, said Thruway police turned the youths over to Kingston troopers. The three were ordered held in the county jail pending arrival of New York City authorities.

Kilfoyle said the youths were John Philip Sark Jr., 16, of 10 Gaines Court; Peter Hanson, 16, of 16 Noell Avenue, and Richard Lewis, 17, of 3014 Gerritsen Avenue, all of Brooklyn. The youths were accused of stealing a 1964 car in New York City.

Speakers at CR Rally Say Barry Not Acceptable

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater was denounced as a totally unacceptable Republican presidential candidate by speakers at a massive civil rights rally Sunday.

The demonstrators, both Negro and white, were estimated by police to number around 35,000. They moved slowly, 15 abreast, up Market Street to the Civic Center Plaza where they were addressed by Negro civil rights leaders including James Farmer, national head of the Congress of Racial Equality and William Chester, chairman of the San Francisco Negro Labor Assembly.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Henry Cabot Lodge, and New York Sens. Jacob Javits and Kenneth Keating also addressed the marchers. They did not mention Goldwater by name.

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who has campaigned for a stronger civil rights plank in the GOP platform, was not present at the rally. Aides said this was because the governor had many previous commitments including an appearance on a national television show.

"This is the face of freedom, the real America, and the Republican party must listen," Farmer told the demonstrators. "If the Republican party nominates Goldwater, it will sound its own death knell."

"We are not against the Republican party, but we want the world to know that Senator Goldwater is not fit to be a candidate for president of the United States."

Rockefeller and Lodge praised the demonstrators. The rally was sponsored by a coalition of Negro, labor and church groups. Leaders said a similar demonstration is planned for the Democratic convention in Atlantic City next month.

Indians Do Rain Dance: Sector, Party Drenched

TOWANDA, Pa. (AP)—A three-day inter-tribal gathering of some 40 tribes ended abruptly when a rain dance proved too effective.

The Indians put on a rain dance near this Northeastern Pennsylvania community Sunday. Five minutes after the dance, the drought-stricken area was drenched from a downpour and some 3,000 spectators ran for cover.

The dance was part of the three-day ceremonies at nearby Wyalusing Rocks. The pow-wow was sponsored by the Indian League of the Americas.

Earlier the attending American and Canadian Indians had demonstrated crafts for the crowd, performed different dances and sang Indian songs.

Lightning Causes Fire At Willow Bungalow

Fire reportedly caused by lightning damaged a summer bungalow off Route 212 at Willow Sunday evening, according to Fire Chief George Haythorne of Woodstock.

The fire was reported at about 6:15 p. m. and Fire Co. No. 3 responded with a pumper and tank truck. Chief Haythorne, who went to the scene with Fire Co. No. 1's pumper and emergency truck, said firemen from Company 3 did an excellent job in quickly gaining control of the fire. The chief said the bungalow is owned by a Sherman family.

Parade of Hoopla Takes Over In Frisco Convention City

By SAUL PETT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Having survived the gold rush, the earthquake and the Japanese beetle, this city of grace and taste is now choked with corn as high as an elephant's eye, assorted nuts, promoters, press agents, world-savers and pamphleteers, including one pushing "a positive program for

Dear Abby . . .

He Fiddles—She Burns!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We live in a project. In summer we keep all our windows open and so do the neighbors. There is a kid next door who takes violin lessons. He's about 11, and he practices all the time, but he doesn't seem to improve. I always thought the teacher gave the kids a new piece every week. Well, something is wrong here because this kid has been playing HUMORESQUE all summer. I saw his father on the street and I said, "Your Marvin sure practices a lot. I hear him night and day." His father said, "Don't complain. It's free. Some day you'll have to buy a ticket to hear him play." I don't want to file a complaint, Abby, but that kid is really disturbing my peace. Any suggestions?

A NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: If Mother Love is "blind," Father Love is "deaf." Buy Marvin a mute, or buy yourself some ear plugs until it's time to buy the "ticket."

DEAR ABBY: I have a very dear friend whose feelings are easily hurt. It seems that anything I buy, be it furniture, toys for the children or clothes, she always ends up with one like it. This has been going on for a long time. Our husbands work together and we go around in the same crowd. I suppose I should be flattered that she likes my taste so much, but people are beginning to call us "THE GOLD DUST TWINS." How can I solve this problem without ruining our friendship?

A "GOLD DUST TWIN"

DEAR GOLD: You cannot possibly tell your friend that you resent her copying you without hurting her feelings. Either do your shopping out of the city, or tell her how you feel about this "Kate and Dupli-cate" routine and be prepared to write off the friendship.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who boasted that she had taught her children to inquire (on the telephone), "WHOM is calling, please?", needs to go back and study her elementary grammar. Doesn't she know that WHOM is objective, and it should be, "WHO is calling, please?" Did she tell you what the response to their "WHOM is calling, please?", was?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: No. But it was probably, "It's ME!"

DEAR ABBY: I am not asking for advice, I just want to cry on your shoulder, and hope that the right people read this and do something about it. I am living with my oldest married daughter. I have two other married daughters, and a married son, but this daughter is the only one who knows she has a mother. I make my home with her as I am a widow. I realize every family needs to be alone once in a while, but I have nowhere to go. I wish some of my other children would invite me for a weekend, or even a night, but they don't. I am not independent. I am not able to earn my own living. I have nothing. Sign me—

Viet Cong Siege Casualties High In Violent Coup

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese government forces drove off a Communist siege force over the weekend in the Mekong Delta in several weeks. Both sides suffered heavy casualties.

No American advisers were involved in the clash over the mud-walled fort at Vinh Chieu, 100 miles south of Saigon.

Using the 56 militiamen garrisoning the fort as bait, the Communist guerrillas lured four Civil Guard companies to the outpost and opened fire from ambush.

The badly mauled Civil Guard forces were withdrawn Saturday night. Four regular Vietnamese battalions lifted the siege Sunday.

The Communist forces killed 39 and wounded 129 in the ambush, the battle and the looting of a nearby village. One Vietnamese officer estimated Communist losses at 300, but American advisers said they doubted more than 100 were killed or wounded.

In Taipei, the Chinese Nationalist Chung Shing news agency claimed anti-Communist guerrillas in the South China province of Kwangtung sank a 120-ton Red Chinese naval transport that was believed to be carrying military supplies to North Viet Nam. The report said the transport, one of three, was blown up on July 3 in Chinchow Bay, in southwest Kwangtung.

Two Ulster Park Men Hurt, Driver To Face Charges

Two young men were injured, one critically, at about 11:15 p. m. Sunday, when the car in which they were riding went out of control and crashed into a tree.

Trooper G. W. Zappolo, Highland, said William Burger Jr., 20, of Park Lane, West Park, was turning into the driveway at his home when the car hit a tree. A passenger, Leonard Stevens, 23, also of West Park, was thrown from the vehicle.

Both young men were taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's ambulance. Burger suffered severe facial lacerations and other injuries. Stevens was listed as critical. He reportedly suffered internal injuries. Trooper Robert Whalen investigated and Trooper Norman Kilfoyle said Burger faces a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Mansfield Says Senate Must Get Into High Gear

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majori Mont, said today the Senate "must get into high gear and stay here" if members of Congress hope to adjourn the week-end of Aug. 22.

But he referred with elation to the pace the Senate has set in the three weeks since it finished a 15-weeks debate on civil rights, and expressed confidence that goal will be met. The Democratic National Convention meets in Atlantic City, N.J., starting Aug. 24.

Both the Senate and House are in recess this week while most Republican members are in San Francisco for the Republican convention. Both houses will reconvene next Monday.

Mansfield, who as Democratic leader supervises the flow of legislation through the Senate has picked the last dozen bills for Senate action next week.

Topping the list is a controversial anti-poverty measure asked by President Johnson with a first-year cost of $962.5 million.

Among Republicans already publicly opposed to it is Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the indicated GOP standard bearer. Mansfield also listed these measures for Senate consideration in the first post-convention week:

A $202-million yearly increase in military pay recommended last week by the Senate Armed Services Committee. It would provide a 2½ per cent raise in base pay for military personnel of all ranks except enlisted personnel with less than two years service.

A foreign aid authorization bill which must be passed before the Senate can act on a separate money bill to finance it.

Two more of the annual appropriations which supply operating funds to the numerous government departments and agencies for the fiscal year which began July 1. These provide money for Congress and its related activities and for the District of Columbia.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Smithsonian Institution says Mohawk Airlines will donate models of the nine kinds of air planes the company has used since it began operations in 1946.

Publisher's Widow Dies in Glens Falls

SCHROON LAKE, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Joseph J. Early, widow of a former publisher of the Old Brooklyn Standard Union, died in Glens Falls Hospital Saturday after a long illness. She was 74.

Mrs. Early was the former Rae Harris of Brooklyn. She had lived in Schroon Lake for the past 30 years.

Her husband was president of the Legislative Correspondents Association in Albany in 1912. He was president and publisher of the now defunct Brooklyn Standard Union from 1924 to 1927, and later served as legislative representative for the New York State Publishers Association and the Associated dailies of New York State. He died in 1949.

Lightning Bolt Kills Two Boys On Ontario Farm

CORNWALL, Ont. (AP) — A lightning strike is blamed for the deaths of two young cousins who apparently took refuge under a tree during a thunderstorm.

Kais Gordon, 12, and Thomas Lockport, 16, were found Sunday under a tree near the farm owned by the Gordon boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gordon. Lockport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lockhart of Montreal, had been visiting the Gordons.

Police said the boys went into a nearby field with an air rifle Saturday afternoon. Young Gordon's parents reported them missing at 3 a.m. Sunday.

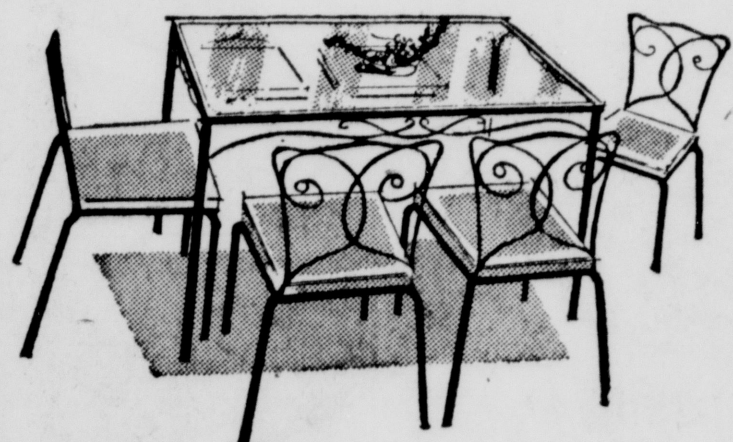

Lightning apparently struck the tree during a thunderstorm Saturday night, police said.

Third Computer Is Put to Work on Speeding AP News

NEW YORK (AP)—A third computer was put to work by The Associated Press Sunday to help speed news to its newspaper members in the United States.

The AP for more than two years has been using a computer system to tabulate trading on the stock exchanges and to produce perforated tape for automatic typesetting of market tables. The system was the first of its kind.

Sunday's innovation, another first, extends use of a computer to the production of justified tape for a national news circuit edited and transmitted from New York and carrying general news of top importance. The TA circuit delivers perforated tape for automatic typesetting from coast to coast.

In conjunction with computer use, the transmission speed of the circuit has been increased from 53 words per minute to 66 words per minute.

This means newspapers will receive more words of copy per hour. Computers place more words into each column of type than is possible in manual operation. Another advantage will be improved over-all appearance of the news columns.

When postman Kenny Davidson started on his round a year ago the bull mastiff trotted along behind him. He soon demonstrated his good intentions. He chased off other dogs which tried to bite Davidson.

Since then he has been on duty with Davidson nearly every day. Davidson says his predecessor on the same round, was also guarded by the mastiff.

In a few days use of the computer will be extended to include production of tape for AP's national sports wire, also a 66-word-per-minute circuit.

A computer can instantly perform functions in producing perforated tape which manual keyboard operators find time-consuming. These include the calculations necessary to produce lines of type of uniform width—known in the trade as justification—and in hyphenating words at the end of lines.

Dear Abby . . .

He Fiddles—She Burns!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We live in a project. In summer we keep all our windows open and so do the neighbors. There is a kid next door who takes violin lessons. He's about 11, and he practices all the time, but he doesn't seem to improve. I always thought the teacher gave the kids a new piece every week. Well, something is wrong here because this kid has been playing HUMORESQUE all summer. I saw his father on the street and I said, "Your Marvin sure practices a lot. I hear him night and day." His father said, "Don't complain. It's free. Some day you'll have to buy a ticket to hear him play." I don't want to file a complaint, Abby, but that kid is really disturbing my peace. Any suggestions?

A NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: If Mother Love is "blind," Father Love is "deaf." Buy Marvin a mute, or buy yourself some ear plugs until it's time to buy the "ticket."

DEAR ABBY: I have a very dear friend whose feelings are easily hurt. It seems that anything I buy, be it furniture, toys for the children or clothes, she always ends up with one like it. This has been going on for a long time. Our husbands work together and we go around in the same crowd. I suppose I should be flattered that she likes my taste so much, but people are beginning to call us "THE GOLD DUST TWINS." How can I solve this problem without ruining our friendship?

A "GOLD DUST TWIN"

DEAR GOLD: You cannot possibly tell your friend that you resent her copying you without hurting her feelings. Either do your shopping out of the city, or tell her how you feel about this "Kate and Dupli-cate" routine and be prepared to write off the friendship.

Third Computer Is Put to Work on Speeding AP News

NEW YORK (AP)—A third computer was put to work by The Associated Press Sunday to help speed news to its newspaper members in the United States.

The AP for more than two years has been using a computer system to tabulate trading on the stock exchanges and to produce perforated tape for automatic typesetting of market tables. The system was the first of its kind.

Sunday's innovation, another first, extends use of a computer to the production of justified tape for a national news circuit edited and transmitted from New York and carrying general news of top importance. The TA circuit delivers perforated tape for automatic typesetting from coast to coast.

In conjunction with computer use, the transmission speed of the circuit has been increased from 53 words per minute to 66 words per minute.

This means newspapers will receive more words of copy per

EAST LONDON, South Africa (AP)—A bull mastiff in this Indian Ocean port doesn't bite postmen—he looks after them.

When postman Kenny Davidson started on his round a year ago the bull mastiff trotted along behind him. He soon demonstrated his good intentions. He chased off other dogs which tried to bite Davidson.

Since then he has been on duty with Davidson nearly every day. Davidson says his predecessor on the same round, was also guarded by the mastiff.

Viet Cong Siege Casualties High In Violent Coup

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese government forces drove off a Communist siege over the weekend in the most violent action in the Mekong Delta in several weeks. Both sides suffered heavy casualties.

No American advisers were involved in the clash over the mud-walled fort at Vinh Cheo, 100 miles south of Saigon.

Using the 56 militiamen garrisoning the fort as bait, the Communist guerrillas lured four Civil Guard companies to the outpost and opened fire from ambush.

The badly mauled Civil Guard forces were withdrawn Saturday night. Four regular Vietnamese battalions lifted the siege Sunday.

The Communist forces killed 39 and wounded 129 in the ambush, the battle and the looting of a nearby village. One Vietnamese officer estimated Communist losses at 300, but American advisers said they doubted more than 100 were killed or wounded.

In Taipei, the Chinese Nationalist Chung Shing news agency claimed anti-Communist guerrillas in the South China province of Kwangtung sank a 120-ton Red Chinese naval transport that was believed to be carrying military supplies to North Viet Nam. The report said the transport, one of three, was blown up on July 3 in Chinchow Bay, in southwest Kwangtung.

Two Ulster Park Men Hurt, Driver To Face Charges

Two young men were injured, one critically, at about 11:15 p. m. Sunday, when the car in which they were riding went out of control and crashed into a tree.

Trooper G. W. Zappolo, Highland, said William Burger Jr., 20, of Park Lane, West Park, was turning into the driveway at his home when the car hit a tree. A passenger, Leonard Stevens, 23, also of West Park, was thrown from the vehicle.

Both young men were taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's ambulance. Burger suffered severe facial lacerations and other injuries. Stevens was listed as critical. He reportedly suffered internal injuries. Trooper Robert Whalen investigated and Trooper Norman Kilfoyle said Burger faces a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Mansfield Says Senate Must Get Into High Gear

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major, Mont., said today the Senate "must get into high gear and stay here" if members of Congress hope to adjourn the week-end of Aug. 22.

But he referred with elation to the pace the Senate has set in the three weeks since it finished a 15-weeks debate on civil rights, and expressed confidence that goal will be met. The Democratic National Convention meets in Atlantic City, N.J., starting Aug. 24.

Both the Senate and House are in recess this week while most Republican members are in San Francisco for the Republican convention. Both houses will reconvene next Monday.

Mansfield, who as Democratic leader supervises the flow of legislation through the Senate has picked half a dozen bills for Senate action next week.

Topping the list is a controversial antipoverty measure asked by President Johnson with a first-year cost of $962.5 million.

Among Republicans already publicly opposed to it is Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the indicated GOP standard bearer. Mansfield also listed these measures for Senate consideration in the first post-convention week:

—A $202-million yearly increase in military pay recommended last week by the Senate Armed Services Committee. It would provide a 2½ per cent raise in base pay for military personnel of all ranks except enlisted personnel with less than two years service.

—A foreign aid authorization bill which must be passed before the Senate can act on a separate money bill to finance it.

—Two more of the annual appropriations which supply operating funds to the numerous government departments and agencies for the fiscal year which began July 1. These provide money for Congress and its related activities and for the District of Columbia.

Publisher's Widow Dies in Glens Falls

SCHROON LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Joseph J. Early, widow of a former publisher of the Old-Brooklyn Standard Union, died in Glens Falls Hospital Saturday after a long illness. She was 74.

Mrs. Early was the former Rae Harris of Brooklyn. She had lived in Schroon Lake for the past 30 years.

Her husband was president of the Legislative Correspondents Association in Albany in 1912. He was president and publisher of the now defunct Brooklyn Standard Union from 1924 to 1927, and later served as legislative representative for the New York State Publishers Association and the Associated Dailies of New York State. He died in 1949.

Lightning Bolt Kills Two Boys On Ontario Farm

CORNWALL, Ont. (AP)—A lightning strike is blamed for the deaths of two young cousins who apparently took refuge under a tree during a thunderstorm.

Kais Gordon, 12, and Thomas Lockport, 16, were found Sunday under a tree near the farm owned by the Gordon boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gordon. Lockport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lockhart of Montreal, had been visiting the Gordons.

Police said the boys went into a nearby field with an air rifle Saturday afternoon. Young Gordon's parents reported them missing at 3 a. m. Sunday.

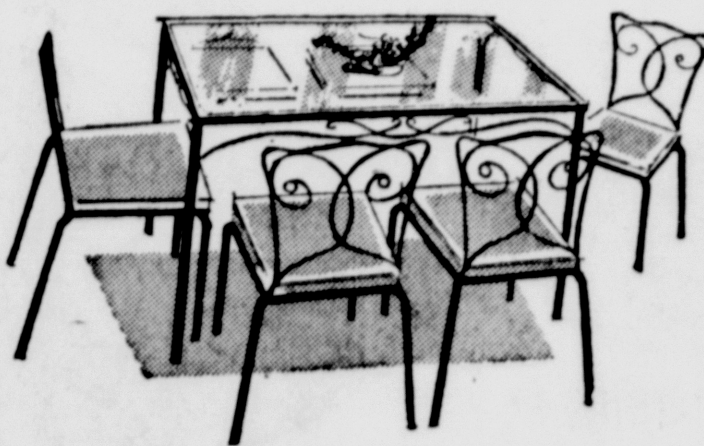

Lightning apparently struck the tree during a thunderstorm Saturday night, police said.

Goldwater Urges That Wallace Quit Getting Delegates

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona suggested Sunday that George Wallace, Democratic governor of Alabama, abandon his efforts to garner presidential electors in various states, chiefly in the South.

"I would hope that he would withdraw," Goldwater told a caucus of Florida delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Goldwater said that Wallace "would take votes from someone" and conceded that both he and Wallace have overlapping strength in southern states.

Reading Course Is Planned for Adults in Area

The Curriculum Center of the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services is presently trying to communicate with adults who for any number of reasons have not yet been able to learn how to read. A three day instructional demonstration has been scheduled in August, and the Center is looking for interested adults who are non-readers who would be interested in participating as learners in this demonstration.

Part of the work which the Center has been doing is to conduct pilot studies and investigations into new medias of instruction, and promising teaching techniques. These investigations take place cooperatively with the administrators and teachers of seven central schools within the county. They are the Ellenville, Highland, Marlboro, New Paltz, Onteora, Rondout Valley and Wallkill Central Schools, respectively.

George Fernandez, coordinator of the Center, announced today that plans are now being made to work with adults during the evenings of August 17, 18 and 19 from 6 to 9:30 p. m. each night. He indicated that the approach which is being taken has been developed since 1959 by Dr. Caleb Gattegno, a former professor from the University of London. Dr. Gattegno's system, called Words in Color, has attempted to sort out certain obstacles which have made it difficult for learners to succeed in reading. His program involves a system of applying different colors to different sounds, and families of sounds.

Learners first master short pronunciations, and within a relatively short time, they are discovering that strings of sounds make words, and that in turn these words make sentences. With this approach, the sound structure of our non-phonetic English language is made phonetic by using color codes. Each sound, which is represented by a letter or a combination of letters, is given a color. For example, the sound of "ay" in way, "eigh" in weight, and "ai" in train all belong to the same color class because they sound alike. There are approximately 47 sounds (colors) which the program teaches.

Cheryl Crawford Honored

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP)—Broadway producer Cheryl Crawford is the recipient of the annual Brandeis University "creative arts award."

The citation honors her "for a lifetime of distinguished achievement."

Mrs. Crawford was a founder of the Group Theater, the American Repertory theater and is now executive producer for the Actors Studio.

Fernandez stated that the adult evening demonstration is being conducted for interested teachers with the cooperation of the Encyclopaedia Britannica Press. Dr. Dorothea Hinman, consultant for the company will conduct the actual instruction with the participants. Dr. Hinman has been closely associated with Professor Gattegno's work, and has just recently completed adult demonstrations in Ohio and Texas. Since last November, she has been working with the Center and certain teachers within the county on a pilot study using the Words in Color materials and techniques.

If the readers of this article know of any non-reading adults who would be interested in participating in this three day evening demonstration, they are urged to contact Fernandez at the Cooperative Board in New Paltz. Within the limitations of space, the Center will welcome these adults and join with them in what promises to be a unique and different experience in beginning to learn how to sound out and read simple words and simple sentences.

This program has been used in different countries for their adult non-reading population, as well as by certain Peace Corps groups. Officials of government and state agencies are also assessing the potential of this ingenious approach to reading instruction.

Health for All

It's a murderously hot day in July. A man staggers up to you with a wild look in his eye. He makes a grab for your arm. Instinctively, you step aside. He mumbles something and passes out on the pavement.

What do you do—buy him a cup of black coffee? Drag him over to a doorway and let him sleep it off? Call a cop?

Maybe he might be a candidate for the cooler, all right—but perhaps not the kind with iron bars. Take a careful look. If his skin is extremely hot, flushed, and dry, he may be suffering from heat stroke or sunstroke. If so, he should receive medical attention promptly.

Heat stroke is simply the indoor version of sunstroke, with the same symptoms: Headache, faintness, high fever, abdominal distress and redness of skin. It happens when the body's cooling system breaks down. The sweat glands exhaust themselves in their effort to beat the heat. Body temperature soars, sometimes reaching 110 degrees.

When that happens the victim is in serious trouble, unless he receives competent attention right away. If a doctor is present, he may adopt extreme measures to bring the body temperature down below 103 degrees.

But the layman should never resort to drastic treatment without the advice or supervision of a doctor. Instead, while waiting for the doctor or an ambulance to arrive, the Red Cross suggests that you take the patient indoors, remove his clothing and sponge his body with alcohol or lukewarm water.

Most important thing to remember: Get a doctor's help immediately.

And the next time a "drunk" staggers up to you on a hot day, take another look. He may need a doctor—not a cop!

The couple plans to reside in Pleasant Valley, N. Y.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN N. WINGERT (Pennington Photo)

Sandra Lee Styles Weds John Wingert In July 5 Ceremony at St. Gregory's

Marriage vows were exchanged July 5 between Miss Sandra Lee Styles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan F. Styles of Woodstock and John Nathan Wingert, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wingert Jr., Bearsville in a double ring ceremony at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, Woodstock.

The Rev. Lloyd Uyeki, pastor of St. Gregory's officiated. Mrs. Penny Carlson was organist. The church was decorated with white gladiolas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of pure silk organza posed over bridal taffeta and designed with a scalloped lace portrait neckline and long tapered lace sleeves ending in points over wrist. A fitted empire bodice and belled skirt in floor length sweeping to a chapel train, with appliques of Alencon lace enhanced the outfit. Her veil of imported silk illusion was caught to a double crystal. She carried two baby orchids with stephanotis.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Alana Styles. She wore a romance blue gown in floor length fashioned of embroidered nylon sheer over taffeta with scooped neckline, abbreviated sleeves, fitted bodice and controlled skirt. A matching cap of marquisette leaves was held by a fly-away veiling. She carried a cascade of white carnations with blue delphiniums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lorraine Kearney, 52 Chapel Street and Mrs. Peter DeGraff of Bearsville. Their gowns, in powder blue, were identical to that of the maid of honor. They carried cascades of white carnations with blue delphiniums.

Flower girl was Debra Sonnenberg, the bridegroom's cousin. She wore a gown identical to the bridesmaid's with matching headband. She carried a basket of blue, pink and white daisies.

Best man was Barry Wingert of Bearsville, the bridegroom's brother. Ushers included John White, Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh and Dayton B. Shultis of Bearsville.

A reception for 175 guests was held at An-Gels Restaurant, followed by a reception on the lawn of the bride's parents in Woodstock. Wedding journey included a trip to northern New York and Lake Placid.

The bride is a graduate of Ontario Central High School and is a former employee of Roland A. Augustine, Inc. The bridegroom attended Ontario Central High School and has served as an airman in the U. S. Navy. The couple plan to reside in Lemoore, Cal.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza trimmed with alencon lace and styled with Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves with point over wrist. A bouffant skirt designed in tino lace edged tiers trimmed with lace roses. A crown of seed pearls and orange blossoms held a bouffant veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of pale yellow and white carnations and ivy.

Maid of Honor was Miss Karen Fischer of 103 Hasbrouck Avenue. She wore a sheath style gown with an overskirt of floor length in aqua. Her headpiece was of large silk organza rose and petals. She carried a cascade of pale yellow carnations and daisies.

Bridesmaids included Miss Anita Rinaldo, the bride's sister; Miss Margaret Elmendorf, the bridegroom's sister; Miss Gale Merikel and Miss Pat Swarthout, all of Kingston. They wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor in mint, yellow, and peach with matching headpieces of organza rose and petals with the veil. They carried cascades of yellow carnations, daisies and ivy.

Best man was Dennis A. Elmendorf, Kingston, the bridegroom's brother. Ushers included Michael Hart and Vincent Hart Jr., the bridegroom's cousins; Robert Hart, his uncle; and John Cardinale.

A reception for 135 guests was held at the Casablanca. The wedding journey included a trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

Sandra Lee Styles Weds John Wingert In July 5 Ceremony at St. Gregory's

Marriage vows were exchanged July 5 between Miss Sandra Lee Styles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan F. Styles of Woodstock and John Nathan Wingert, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wingert Jr., Bearsville in a double ring ceremony at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, Woodstock.

The Rev. Lloyd Uyeke, pastor of St. Gregory's officiated. Mrs. Penny Carlson was organist. The church was decorated with white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of pure silk organza posed over bridal taffeta and designed with a scalloped lace portrait neckline and long tapered lace sleeves ending in points over wrist. A fitted empire bodice and belled skirt in floor length sweeping to a chapel train, with appliques of Alencon lace enhanced the outfit. Her veil of imported silk illusion was caught to a double crystal. She carried two baby orchids with Stephanotis.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Alana Styles. She wore a romance blue gown in floor length fashioned of embroidered nylon sheer over taffeta with scooped neckline, abbreviated sleeves, fitted bodice and controlled skirt. A matching cap of marquisette leaves was held by a fly-away veiling. She carried a cascade of white carnations with blue delphiniums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lorraine Kearney, 52 Chapel Street and Mrs. Peter DeGraff of Bearsville. Their gowns, in powder blue, were identical to that of the maid of honor. They carried cascades of white carnations with blue delphiniums.

Flower girl was Debra Sonnenberg, the bridegroom's cousin. She wore a gown identical to the bridesmaid's with matching headband. She carried a basket of blue, pink and white daisies.

Best man was Barry Wingert of Bearsville, the bridegroom's brother. Ushers included John White, Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh and Dayton B. Shults of Bearsville.

A reception for 175 guests was held at An-Gels Restaurant, followed by a reception on the lawn of the bride's parents in Woodstock. Wedding journey included a trip to northern New York and Lake Placid.

The bride is a graduate of Ontario Central High School and is a former employee of Roland A. Augustine, Inc. The bridegroom attended Ontario Central High School and has served as an airman in the U. S. Navy.

The couple plan to reside in Lemoore, Cal.

Mary Elaine Goodison, John J. Brennie Exchange Vows in Double Ring Ceremony

MRS. JOHN J. BRENNIE (Photo Workshop)

Marriage vows were exchanged July 4 between Miss Mary Elaine Goodison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Goodison of 8 B Rhinecliff Road, Rhinebeck and John Joseph Brennie, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brennie of Highland in a double ring ceremony at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Rhinebeck.

The Rev. Father John Quinn officiated at the nuptial Mass, which took place 12:30 p. m. Mrs. Elsa Casey accompanied soloist Mrs. Rita Fichera on the organ. Selections included The Lord's Prayer, Ave Verum, Oh Perfect Love and Panis Angelicus.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bouffant skirt of taffeta with reembroidered Alencon lace trim. The outfit was fashioned with a scalloped scoop neckline, empire bodice with elbow-length sleeves and a Wahian train. She carried a cascade of eucharist lilies, lilies of the valley and roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John Conway of Millbrook. She wore a floor-length gown of acetate peau with sheath skirt, fitted bodice and pillbox matching peau hat with circular veil in turquoise. She carried a crescent of apricot carnations.

Bridesmaids included Miss Denise Brennie of Highland, the bridegroom's sister; Miss Suzanne Byrne of Sharon, Pa., the bride's cousin and Miss Carol Gibson of Poughkeepsie.

Their gowns were in the same style as that of the matron of honor. They carried crescents of turquoise carnations.

Miss Dawn Orlando of Poughkeepsie, the bridegroom's cousin was flower girl. She wore a short white organdy dress with a turquoise slip and carried a basket decorated in turquoise and apricot. She threw rose petals. She wore a crown of apricot and turquoise baby carnations.

Best man was Anthony Brennie of Highland, the bridegroom's brother. Ushers included John P. Goodison of Rhinebeck, the bride's brother; Leslie Lindhe, Highland and George Schrieber, Highland.

A reception for 165 guests was held at the Capri in Port Ewen. Wedding trip included a visit to Cove Haven in the Poconos for seven days.

The bride is a graduate of Rhinebeck Central School and attended Dutchess Community College. She was previously employed at Bennett College as an assistant to the food director.

The bridegroom graduated from Highland High School and is employed by International Business Machines Corp. He served with the U. S. Navy for three and a half years as a radio man.

The couple plans to reside in Pleasant Valley, N. Y.

OPENING PACKAGES ADDRESSED TO ANOTHER

Q: The invitations to my wedding have been sent out and the wedding presents are beginning to arrive. Quite a few of my fiancée's relatives, not knowing my address, have sent their gifts to his house addressed to me, in care of his parents. His mother has taken it upon herself to open these presents. I don't think she had any right to do this and am very annoyed over it. Don't the wedding presents belong to the bride and shouldn't she have the pleasure of opening them?
I would like to know if I am right about this as it has caused quite a bit of unpleasantness.

A: She most certainly should not have opened the packages addressed to you, but it would be better to overlook and forgive her yielding to the temptation of looking at the presents than to hold it against her and start your relationship with your mother-in-law with an unpleasant quarrel.

Inviting Fiance's Family to Dinner

Q: My daughter was engaged several weeks ago. His family have not as yet called on us, so I am taking the initiative and inviting them to dinner. Her fiancee has two single sisters and a 16-year-old brother living at home. I would like to know if it is necessary to invite his whole family to dinner or just his parents?

A: It will not be necessary to invite his sister and brother, but if your dinner table is large enough to accommodate them, it would be courteous to do so.

Seating at Table

Q: When my husband and I have another couple in to dinner, who pulls out whose chair when we are being seated?

A: Your husband pulls out the chair for the woman guest and her husband should pull out yours; but if after a brief pause it is evident that he is not going to help you, you seat yourself quickly so as not to embarrass him.

Turnau Opens Tenth Woodstock Season With Mozart's 'Abduction From Seraglio'

The Turnau Opera Players the adroit playing of musical director Yehudi Wyner and his assistant Warren Wilson. They performed the score very well, bringing the performance to a complete whole.

The dictation by all the singers was very intelligible, adding to the zany Turkish comedy. Bravo Turnau! (Reviewed by Michael Kaye).

The settings were simple and effective. Stage director Ian Strasfogel achieved the maximum results from the small stage. There was no boundary between stage and audience in this performance for the singers frequently passed up and down the aisles and in the balcony.

As Belmonte, Alva Tripp sang in a lovely, tender voice with nicely produced high notes. Eric Davis also proved to be a good tenor as the comic Pedrillo. His voice was at its best in the upper register, and was excellent in his "Only Cowards Are Afraid" aria. In the vocally treacherous role of Constanza, Drusilla Lodge did some fine singing, presenting an adequate portrayal. Noteworthy was the "Marten Aller Arten" ("Tortures Unabating") aria in the second act.

It should be recalled that the first singer of Constanza in 1782, was the famous Caterina Cava-lieri. With talents like hers the composer could and did ask the impossible. The "Marten Aller Arten" has some very high tessitura sprinkled with high D's and difficult bravura work—a real showpiece.

Carolyn Heafner was charming as Blonda and sang and acted her part with care. The comic Osmín was J. B. Davis. His portrayal was very pleasing, however he lacked the power needed in the lower register. Alan Baker was at his usual best as the Pasha Selim.

One must not forget opera at

OPENING PACKAGES ADDRESSED TO ANOTHER

Q: The invitations to my wedding have been sent out and the wedding presents are beginning to arrive. Quite a few of my fiancé's relatives, not knowing my address, have sent their gifts to his house addressed to me, in care of his parents. His mother has taken it upon herself to open these presents. I don't think she had any right to do this and am very annoyed over it. Don't the wedding presents belong to the bride and shouldn't she have the pleasure of opening them? I would like to know if I am right about this as it has caused quite a bit of unpleasantness.

A: She most certainly should not have opened the packages addressed to you, but it would be better to overlook and forgive her yielding to the temptation of looking at the presents than to hold it against her and start your relationship with your mother-in-law with an unpleasant quarrel.

Inviting Fiance's Family to Dinner

Q: My daughter was engaged several weeks ago. His family have not as yet called on us, so I am taking the initiative and inviting them to dinner. Her fiancé has two single sisters and a 16-year-old brother living at home. I would like to know if it is necessary to invite his whole family to dinner or just his parents?

A: It will not be necessary to invite his sister and brother, but if your dinner table is large enough to accommodate them, it would be courteous to do so.

Seating at Table

Q: When my husband and I have another couple in to dinner, who pulls out whose chair when we are being seated?

A: Your husband pulls out the chair for the woman guest and her husband should pull out yours; but if after a brief pause it is evident that he is not going to help you, you seat yourself quickly so as not to embarrass him.

Turnau Opens Tenth Woodstock Season With Mozart's 'Abduction From Seraglio'

The Turnau Opera Players opened their 10th Woodstock season Saturday night with a revival of Mozart's comic opera The Abduction From the Seraglio. In all it was delightful.

The overture to the Abduction ranks with the most sparkling and characteristic that Mozart ever wrote. It abounds, as does the entire opera, with the popular "Turkish music," and introduces the aria which Belmonte sings of his beloved Constanza.

The settings were simple and effective. Stage director Ian Strasfogel achieved the maximum results from the small stage. There was no boundary between stage and audience in this performance for the singers frequently passed up and down the aisles and in the balcony.

As Belmonte, Alva Tripp sang in a lovely tenor voice with nicely produced high notes. Eric Davis also proved to be a good tenor as the comic Pedrillo. His voice was at its best in the upper register, and was excellent in his "Only Cowards Are Afraid" aria. In the vocally treacherous role of Constanza, Drusilla Lodge did some fine singing, presenting an adequate portrayal. Noteworthy was the "Marten Aller Arten" ("Portures Unabating") aria in the second act.

It should be recalled that the first singer of Constanza in 1782, was the famous Caterina Cavalieri. With talents like hers the composer could and did ask the impossible. The "Marten Aller Arten" has some very high tessitura sprinkled with high D's and difficult bravura work—a real showpiece.

Carolyn Heafner was charming as Blonda and sang and acted her part with care. The comic Osmin was J. B. Davis. His portrayal was very pleasing; however he lacked the power needed in the lower register. Alan Baker was at his usual best as the Pasha Selim.

One must not forget opera at the Turnau without mentioning

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR Investment Advisor and Analyst

Ignore Misleading Advice
Hold Portfolios Intact

Q) "We own Indianapolis Power & Light, Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company, Public Service of Indiana, and American Telephone. We have been told by friends that some of these stocks are not of the best. What is your opinion? I understand Indianapolis Power & Light isn't very good. Should we sell and get into something else?" M. K.

A) I hate to say anything derogatory about friendship but I often think — God preserve us from our friends who know all about stocks.

In my opinion, you have been completely misinformed. You own four excellent utility stocks. Cleveland Electric is one of the strongest in the country.

Indianapolis P & L—also a strong stock—has lifted share net in each year of the past decade and boosted dividends in each year but one.

Public Service of Indiana faces some future loss of revenues if the co-operatives to which it now sells are allowed to generate electricity, but that's far ahead. American Telephone is one of the best stocks on the list. I would retain all your holdings.

Q) "Not long ago, I bought shares in the Baltimore Orioles Baseball Club for $14.50 a share. When I received by stock, on the face of the share it said par value $1.00. I don't understand this, since I paid so much more for my stock. Can you explain? Also do you think I made a good investment?" H. P.

A) For the investor, the par value of a stock has no significance whatsoever. It is mainly an accounting procedure.

Please don't let it confuse you. Your shares are worth whatever someone will bid for them—no more and no less. I find no information about Baltimore Orioles stock in my files or in the various statistical service to which I subscribe. On that basis alone, I don't believe you should hold these shares. They do not enjoy a broad market and I had to go to Baltimore for a question—15 bid at present.

17 Are Killed In 3 Arizona Highway Crashes

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—At least 17 persons died Sunday in three Arizona traffic accidents caused by sand and rain storms.

This was the official count by the Arizona Highway Patrol.

Eight persons burned to death and 17 were injured, five critically, when at least 14 cars and trucks piled up during a sand storm on Interstate 10 about 35 miles northwest of Tucson.

Seven died in a collision near Williams in northern Arizona when a car slid broadside on U. S. 66 into the path of another vehicle.

Two persons died when a car ran off Arizona 84 north of Mesa and overturned. The highway patrol said the flaming pickup near Tucson was touched off when a car carrying five passengers slowed suddenly during a dust storm. A large truck carrying grain smashed into the car.

Fire erupted and the car's occupants burned to death. Other vehicles, bunched together in the roaring sand storm, smashed into the wreckage in a chain reaction.

Jim Weaver, a service station operator at nearby Picacho Pass, described the heat as overwhelming and said, "There were no pieces larger than three-foot square left of the first car."

Three trucks and several cars burned for at least five hours after the accident, despite rain and the efforts of firemen from Tucson and Casa Grande.

Goldwater Line

whether he releases them or not.

Much attention was focused on the 30-vote Wisconsin delegation, pledged to Rep. John W. Byrnes as a favorite son. Both Scranton and Goldwater scheduled appearances before the group today, and Byrnes indicated he would decide after ward whether to release the delegation. If he does, advance indications are that Goldwater will get more than half of the votes.

Scranton also faced a problem within his own delegation. Three of the delegates formerly credited to him moved over to the uncommitted status Sunday. One of them, Blair P. Gunther, said Sunday night he would seek at a caucus today to force Scranton to release the entire 64-vote delegation.

"If he doesn't release us, we'll release ourselves," Gunther told newsmen.

Report Greek

lycarpos Georgadjis said 2,800 men had arrived at the port of Limassol from Greece. He said that 2,300 were Greek Cypriot university students returning home for the summer and 500 were Greek Cypriots who had "deserted" from the Greek army to offer their services to the Cyprus government.

Albany—Miss Winifred Brierty, about 60, Watervliet, two-car collision Sunday.

Albany—Mrs. William L. Cook, 46, fell down stairway at home Saturday.

Scranton's

ter and the platform would win GOP approval.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey in Washington called the Republican platform draft a "fantasy, conceived in a shadowland of fear and hate" and containing "every radical right cliché."

But the platform committee chairman, Melvin R. Laird, said the group was not dictated to by Goldwater or anyone else. The Wisconsin congressman predicted its product will be "supported by the overwhelming majority of delegates Tuesday night."

The document being sent to the rank and file delegates—while Scranton forces map their parliamentary strategy to fight it—reflects Goldwater's expressed views on point after point and omits the major position statements for which Scranton pleaded in person and through his representatives on the drafting group.

Scranton wanted a repudiation of political extremism, with a specific disavowal of the John Birch Society and a plank opposing any shift from the presidential to any military commander of authority over use of any nuclear weapons.

These didn't get into the draft platform at all, and instead of declaring the new Civil Rights Act constitutional, as Scranton demanded, the document writers pledged "full implementation and faithful execution."

The platform, completed Sunday after protracted argumentative night-and-day committee sessions, differs from the 1960 document in several respects—with the Goldwater influence notable.

The Goldwater view on medical care of the aged through federal-state arrangements was adopted and the 1960 document's proposals for modest federal aid in building elementary and secondary schools were dropped. Some switching of taxes from federal to state treasuries was proposed as a substitute for various federal aid programs.

Writers In Controversy The platform writers jumped into a seething controversy by calling for an amendment to affirm the right of voluntary religious exercises in public places.

The platform proposed recognition of a Cuban government in exile, rejected "the notion that the United States should take sides" in the quarrel between the Soviet Union and China and said trade with Communist countries could be justified only if "it would serve to diminish their power."

It praised the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and called for halting what it termed deterioration of that alliance, demanded reforms in the United Nations, promised to "move decisively to assure victory in South Viet Nam and demanded demolition of the Berlin wall as a prerequisite for negotiations with the Soviet Union on Germany."

The party document promised to "end second-best weapons policies" and "false economies which place price ahead of the performance on which American lives may depend." It called for letting Communists know the United States recognizes no "privileged sanctuaries"—a term used, especially in connection with the struggle in Southeast Asia, for Communist territory employed as a base for subversive attacks within Western-allied nations.

Other Recommendations The platform also recommended:

Amending the Constitution to modify a recent Supreme Court decision and allow states to allot seats in one chamber of their legislatures on a basis other than population.

Cut spending at least $5 billion.

Keep government out of labor disputes as much as possible and reorganize the National Labor Relations Board.

In an "indictment" section, the platform accused the Democratic administration of "weakening before communism," impeding investigations of public officials in the highest offices, having "exploited interracial tensions by extravagant campaign promises" and practicing federal extremism at the expense of individual freedom and creative enterprise.

Newburgh Slum Area Destroyed By Morning Fire

A fire that swept five or six frame buildings on North Water Street, Newburgh, early today, was under investigation.

Authorities said the buildings were slated for urban renewal demolition. All off-duty firemen were called back to work after the two-alarm fire got out of control. Several outside fire companies moved into the city to cover up and New Windsor volunteers arrived in time to extinguish fire that was started on a Montgomery Street residence roof by burning embers from the major blaze. The origin of the fire was not immediately determined.

Van Dyke Hearing Theron Joseph Van Dyke, 22, of 18 Mill Street, was arrested shortly after midnight on a disorderly conduct charge. It is alleged that he had refused to move when a group gathered in front of Armstrong's Grill, 112 Broadway, when ordered to do so by officers Otto Short and Oscar Gray. He was released in the custody of his mother pending city court appearance today when Attorney Aaron E. Klein appeared with him and hearing was put over to July 27.

Barge and Park Thefts Reported

Theft from a barge cabin at the Hutton brick plant, North Street, was reported to local police this morning, and a Sunday report noted theft of a small amount of gasoline from a tool shed at Forsyth Park.

A radio, an alarm clock, groceries and bed clothing were reported taken from the barge cabin, which apparently had been entered over the weekend, and the shed at Forsyth Park had apparently been entered sometime between Saturday afternoon and Sunday night.

5 Vehicles Are In Accident, Two Noted on Weekend

A downtown accident early today involved five vehicles resulting in injury of a driver, two over the weekend resulted in injuries to three persons and the lodging of a charge against a driver after one of them.

James Logan McDonough, 26, of PO Box 369, Lake Katrine, was treated at Kingston Hospital for head and ankle injuries after the five-car mishap on Hasbrouck Avenue near Murray Street, reported at 2:18 a. m. today. He was taken to the hospital by a Doctors' ambulance.

The other cars involved, all parked, police said, were owned by Daniel Joseph Callahan Jr., Green Meadow, Poughkeepsie; George J. Disch, 28 Derrenbacher Street; Thomas M. Davitt Jr., 61 Maple Street, Essex Junction, Vt.; and Harold W. Liveridge, 136 Broadway.

The latter car, police said, was struck first and the others became involved by chain reaction. McDonough told police he was forced to swerve right to avoid an oncoming car as vehicles were parked on both sides of the street. Officers Otto Short and Oscar Gray investigated.

Wayne Saunders, 22, of 184 Hurley Avenue, was booked on a charge dealing with violation of pedestrian right-of-way after a car-pedestrian mishap on Broadway near Field Court. City court hearing was today put over to Wednesday.

Injured were Clifford Spiesman, 38, of 132 Lounsbury Place, left shoulder and ankle injuries after a five-car mishap on Broadway near Field Court. City court hearing was today put over to Wednesday.

Lillian Maggiore, 27, of Route 2, Box 25-B, Kingston, was treated at the Benedictine Hospital for a back injury after a two-car mishap at Spring and Hone streets, reported at 3:05 p. m. Sunday.

Police said the one car was driven by Paul W. Maggiore, 29 of the same address, and the other by Ralph F. Fuoco, 21, of 114 Downs Street. Officers Charles Diers and Gerald Tierney investigated.

Criteria Corps Place Second in Westchester Meet

The rejuvenated Criteria Drum Corps, representing Kingston Post 150 of the American Legion, placed second in a Westchester County competition Saturday night, and missed first place by a slim, one-point margin.

The Criteria, reorganized early this year and with a new look and new sound, competed in the "Music Under the Stars" pageant at New Rochelle and scored 76,535, right behind the outstanding Marksmen of Springfield, Mass., who registered a 77,825. It was the second competition this season for the Criteria, who annually sponsor the Pageant of Champions at Dietz Stadium.

The Criteria scored the highest in the judging of horns and registered the other highs in general effect horns and marching and maneuvering. Their drum major, George Garrison, was awarded first place in the competition among drum majors at the New Rochelle competition.

The Westchester County performance bolstered the Criteria's hopes for other pageants this season and makes them a formidable contender for first place in the Northeastern Circuit championships, which will be held Labor Day weekend at Springfield, Mass.

Greene Woman, 70 Hit by Vehicle

A 70-year-old woman was injured at 6:15 p. m. Sunday when she was hit by a car as she walked along County Route 42 west of Route 23A, Lexington, Greene County.

State Police Sergeant Joseph Cross of Leeds, said Esther Doctorow of Lexington, suffered contusions and abrasions of the left knee and leg. She was treated by a physician.

Leslie Van Valkenburgh, 53, of Westkill, told troopers he was driving his car on Route 42 when the pedestrian stepped in the path of his car and was hit by the right front of the vehicle.

The State Legislature currently is controlled by the Republicans.

The U. S. Supreme Court ruled last month that the present apportionment of seats in the New York State Legislature was unconstitutional and that the seats in both the Senate and Assembly should be distributed solely on the basis of population.

The Supreme Court left it up to a special federal court in New York City to determine whether reapportionment should be executed before the November election this year or whether it should be carried out before the 1966 election.

U. S. District Court Judge Sylvester Ryan has ordered a hearing Wednesday to discuss the question. His court will determine when reapportionment should be carried out.

Republicans named to the committee with Mulligan were: Francis E. Rivers of New York City, retired judge of New York City's Civil Court and a former state assemblyman; George M. Shapiro of New York City, a lawyer and former counsel to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and a former legal aide to Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney; and Eli Whitney Devoise of New York City, a lawyer and former general counsel to the U. S. high commissioner in Germany.

The Democratic committee-men are: Roswell L. Gilpatrick of New York City, a lawyer who resigned recently as deputy secretary of defense; Charles R. Diebold of Buffalo, president of the Western Savings Bank of Buffalo and treasurer of the State Thruway Authority; and Joseph P. Cragg of Utica, chairman and executive officer of Mutual Insurance Co.

Members of the governor's committee will serve without salary but will receive reimbursement for any expenses incurred while on committee business.

The governor's office also said that an undetermined amount of state funds would be made available to the committee for its work.

Property Damage Reported to Police

A rash of vandalism reported Sunday to local police resulted in property damage to some 10 properties mostly in midtown.

Awnings were reported slashed on the Joseph Wenzel property, 84 Andrew Street, Walter L. Foster house, 58 Andrew Street, Mrs. Lavenia Davis property, 24 West Chester Street; and Christian Spalt property, 56 Staples Street.

Screens were reported slashed or otherwise damaged on properties of Joseph P. Zeeh, 101 Orchard Street, William H. Merrill, 96 West Chestnut Street. Lint were reported missing from a birch tree on the property of Paul A. Demski, 132 Mary's Avenue, and paint cans were reported scattered on the lawn of the Nathan Katatsky property, 89 Jervis Avenue. John C. Smith, of 59 Andrew Street, reported a trellis pushed over. Another report said a boat owned by Dennis Lenahan, moored at the Kingston Power Boat Association dock, Abel Street, had been entered. Extent of damage was not noted.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices continued their climb toward new highs early this afternoon. Auto and steel issues provided the leadership, just as last week when the market posted a fifth consecutive rise.

Trading was fairly active, running at a pace of better than five million shares for the day. At noon The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .6 at 319.5 with industrials ahead .5, rail up .9 and utilities higher by .2. The all-time closing high of Friday was 318.9.

GM opened at 92½ and Chrysler at 52½, both all-time highs, and both up more than ½. They remained at around that level. Ford, American Motors and Studebaker added small fractions.

Motors apparently were helped by a weekend settlement between unions and 15 new-car hauling concerns on the East Coast. A three-week strike has piled up new cars at assembly plants.

U. S. Steel and Republic each gained around ½. Jones & Laughlin was higher by a smaller fraction while Bethlehem was unchanged.

Utilities also were fractionally higher although AT&T, last week's volume leader, was unchanged all morning.

Metals, airlines and rails were irregular.

At noon, the Dow Jones industrial average was higher by .10 at 847.61, the smallest plus of the session.

TWA was heavily traded and was off about 3. The Civil Aeronautics Board has conditionally cleared the way for Hughes Tool Co. to regain control of TWA.

The Nickel Plate Railroad Prices also remained higher on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading.

Q) "We own Indianapolis Power & Light, Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company, Public Service of Indiana, and American Telephone. We have been told by friends that some of these stocks are not of the best. What is your opinion? I understand Indianapolis Power & Light isn't very good. Should we sell and get into something else?" M. K.

A) I hate to say anything derogatory about friendship but I often think — God preserve us from our friends who know all about stocks.

In my opinion, you have been completely misinformed. You own four excellent utility stocks. Cleveland Electric is one of the strongest in the country.

Indianapolis P & L — also a strong stock — has lifted share net in each year of the past decade and boosted dividends in each year but one.

Public Service of Indiana faces some future loss of revenues if the co-operatives to which it now sells are allowed to generate electricity, but that's far ahead. American Telephone is one of the best stocks on the list. I would retain all your holdings.

17 Are Killed In 3 Arizona Highway Crashes

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—At least 17 persons died Sunday in three Arizona traffic accidents caused by sand and rain storms.

This was the official count by the Arizona Highway Patrol:

Eight persons burned to death and 17 were injured, five critically, when at least 14 cars and trucks piled up during a sand storm on Interstate 10 about 35 miles northwest of Tucson.

Seven died in a collision near Williams in northern Arizona on U. S. 66 into the path of another vehicle.

Two persons died when a car ran off Arizona 84 north of Mesa and overturned.

The highway patrol said the flaming pileup near Tucson was touched off when a car carrying five passengers slowed suddenly during a dust storm. A large truck carrying grain smashed into the car.

Fire erupted and the car's occupants burned to death.

Other vehicles, bunched together in the roaring sand storm, smashed into the wreckage in chain reaction.

The highway patrol said the flaming pileup near Tucson was touched off when a car carrying five passengers slowed suddenly during a dust storm. A large truck carrying grain smashed into the car.

Three trucks and several cars burned for at least five hours after the accident, despite rain and the efforts of firemen from Tucson and Casa Grande.

Goldwater Line

whether he releases them or not.

Much attention was focused on the 30-vote Wisconsin delegation, pledged to Rep. John W. Byrnes as a favorite son. Both Scranton and Goldwater scheduled appearances before the group today, and Byrnes indicated he would decide after ward whether to release the delegation. If he does, advance indications are that Goldwater will get more than half of the vote.

Scranton also faced a problem within his own delegation. Three of the delegates formerly credited to him moved over to the uncommitted status Sunday. One of them, Blair F. Gunther, said Sunday night he would seek at a caucus today to force Scranton to release the entire 64-vote delegation.

"If he doesn't release us, we'll release ourselves," Gunther told newsmen.

Report Greek

lycarpos Georgadjis said 2,800 men had arrived at the port of Limassol from Greece. He said that 2,300 were Greek Cypriots university students returning home for the summer and 500 were Greek Cypriots who had "deserted" from the Greek army to offer their services to the Cyprus government.

Maj. Gen. M. P. G. Carver, the retiring British deputy commander of the U.N. force, denied that U.N. patrols had seen regular Turkish troops land, but he added: "We have, though, observed the arriving of a number who received military training in Turkey."

Scranton's

ter and the platform would win GOP approval.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey in Washington called the Republican platform draft a "fantasy, conceived in a shadowland of fear and hate" and containing "every radical right cliché."

But the platform committee chairman, Melvin R. Laird, said the group was not dictated to by Goldwater or anyone else. The Wisconsin congressman predicted its product will be "supported by the overwhelming majority of delegates Tuesday night."

The document being sent to the rank and file delegates—while Scranton forces map their parliamentary strategy to fight it—reflects Goldwater's expressed views on point after point and omits the major position statements for which Scranton pleaded in person and through his representatives on the drafting group.

Scranton wanted a repudiation of political extremism, with a specific disavowal of the John Birch Society and a plank opposing any shift from the president to any military commander of authority over use of any nuclear weapons.

These didn't get into the draft platform at all, and instead of declaring the new Civil Rights Act constitutional, as Scranton demanded, the document writers pledged "full implementation and faithful execution."

The platform, completed Sunday after protracted argumentative night-and-day committee sessions, differs from the 1960 document in several respects—with the Goldwater influence notable.

The Goldwater view on medical care of the aged through federal-state arrangements was adopted and the 1960 document's proposals for modest federal aid in building elementary and secondary schools were dropped. Some switching of tax money from federal to state treasuries was proposed as a substitute for various federal aid programs.

Writers In Controversy

The platform writers jumped into a seething controversy by calling for an amendment to affirm the right of voluntary religious exercises in public places.

The platform proposed recognition of a Cuban government in exile, rejected "the notion that the United States should take sides" in the quarrel between the Soviet Union and China and said trade with Communist countries could be justified only if "it would serve to diminish their power."

It praised the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and called for halting what it termed deterioration of that alliance, demanded reforms in the United Nations, promised to "move decisively to assure victory in South Viet Nam and demanded demolition of the Berlin wall as a prerequisite for negotiations with the Soviet Union on Germany."

The party document promised to "end second-best weapons policies" and "false economies which place price ahead of the performance on which American lives may depend."

It called for letting Communists know the United States recognizes no "privileged sanctuaries"—a term used, especially in connection with the struggle in Southeast Asia, for Communist territory employed as a base for subversive attacks within Western-allied nations.

Other Recommendations

The platform also recommended:—Amending the Constitution to modify a recent Supreme Court decision and allow states to allot seats in one chamber of their legislatures on a basis other than population.

—Cut spending at least $5 billion.—Keep government out of labor disputes as much as possible and reorganize the National Labor Relations Board.

In an "indictment" section, the platform accused the Democratic administration of "weakness before communism," "impeding investigations which might implicate public officials in the highest offices," having "exploited interracial tensions by extravagant campaign promises" and practicing federal extremism at the expense of individual freedom and creative enterprise.

Newburgh Slum Area Destroyed By Morning Fire

A fire that swept five or six frame buildings on North Water Street, Newburgh, early today, was under investigation.

Authorities said the buildings were slated for urban renewal demolition. All off-duty firemen were called back to work after the two-alarm fire got out of control. Several outside fire companies moved into the city to cover up and New Windsor volunteers arrived in time to extinguish fire that was started on a Montgomery Street residence roof by burning embers from the major blaze. The origin of the fire was not immediately determined.

Van Dyke Hearing

Theron Joseph Van Dyke, 22, of 18 Mill Street, was arrested shortly after midnight on a disorderly conduct charge. It is alleged that he had refused to move when a group gathered in front of Armstrong's Grill, 112 Broadway, when ordered to do so by officers Otto Short and Oscar Gray. He was released in the custody of his mother pending city court appearance today when Attorney Aaron E. Klein appeared with him and hearing was put over to July 27.

Barge and Park Thefts Reported

Theft from a barge cabin at the Hutton brick plant, North Street, was reported to local police this morning, and a Sunday report noted theft of a small amount of gasoline from a tool shed at Forsyth Park.

A radio, an alarm clock, groceries and bed clothing were reported taken from the barge cabin, which apparently had been entered over the weekend, and the shed at Forsyth Park had apparently been entered sometime between Saturday afternoon and Sunday night.

5 Vehicles Are In Accident, Two Noted on Weekend

A downtown accident early today involved five vehicles resulting in injury of a driver, two over the weekend resulted in injuries to three persons and the lodging of a charge against a driver after one of them.

James Logan McDonough, 26, of PO Box 369, Lake Katrine, was treated at Kingston Hospital for head and ankle injuries after the five-car mishap on Hasbrouck Avenue near Murray Street, reported at 2:18 a. m. today. He was taken to the hospital by a Doctors' ambulance.

The other cars involved, all parked, police said, were owned by Daniel Joseph Callahan Jr., Green Meadow, Poughkeepsie; George J. Disch, 28 Derenbacher Street; Thomas M. Davitt Jr., 61 Maple Street, Essex Junction, Vt., and Harold W. Wadbridge, 130 Broadway.

The latter car, police said, was struck first and the others became involved by chain reaction. McDonough told police he was forced to swerve right to avoid an oncoming car as vehicles were parked on both sides of the street. Officers Otto Short and Oscar Gray investigated.

Wayne Saunders, 22, of 184 Hurley Avenue, was booked on a charge dealing with violation of pedestrian right-of-way after a car-pedestrian mishap on Broadway near Field Court. City court hearing was today put over to Wednesday.

Injured were Clifford Spiesman, 38, of 132 Lounsbury Place, left shoulder, and Ariene Spiesman, 31, of the same address, laceration of the lower body. They were taken by Fatum ambulance to Kingston Hospital. Police said both were within a crosswalk at the time of the mishap. Officer Junius Harris investigated.

Lillian Maggioro, 27, of Route 2, Box 25-B, Kingston, was treated at the Benedictine Hospital for a back injury after a two-car mishap at Spring and Hone streets, reported at 3:05 p. m. Sunday.

Police said the one car was driven by Paul W. Maggioro, 29, of the same address, and the other by Ralph F. Fuoco, 21, of 114 Downs Street. Officers Charles Diets and Gerald Tierney investigated.

Criteria Corps Place Second in Westchester Meet

The rejuvenated Criteria Drum Corps, representing Kingston Post 150 of the American Legion, placed second in a Westchester County competition Saturday night, and missed first place by a slim, one-point margin.

The Criteria Corps reorganized early this year and with a new look and new sound, competed in the "Music Under the Stars" pageant at New Rochelle and scored 76,535, right behind the outstanding Marksmen of Springfield, Mass., who registered a 77,825. It was the second competition this season for the Criteria Corps, who annually sponsor the Pageant of Champions at Dietz Stadium.

The Criteria Corps scored the highest in the judging of horns and registered the other highs in general effect, horn and marching and maneuvering. Their drum major, George Garison, was awarded first place in the competition among drum majors at the New Rochelle competition.

The Westchester County performance bolstered the Criteria Corps' hopes for other pageants this season and makes them a formidable contender for first place in the Northeastern Circuit championships, which will be held Labor Day weekend at Springfield, Mass.

Port Ewen

Vision Stadt
Telephone FB 5-4788

The Port Ewen-Ulster Park WCTU will meet Wednesday 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Terpening, 155 Sunset Drive.

Susan Latz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Latz of Bayard Street is spending two weeks at Girl Scout Camp Wendy near Walkkill.

Car Hits Tree

At 2:30 a. m. Sunday Constable Frank Bartoff of Town of Esopus notified the sheriff's office that an accident had taken place on Salem Street, Port Ewen. Deputy Sheriffs Ronald Dietz and Henry Polhamus investigated. A car operated by Nancy Ann Topp, 20, of 192 Foxhall Avenue was proceeding up hill near Connelly Road when she reported the steering apparatus gave way. The car ran off the road down an embankment and struck a tree some 20 feet off the highway.

Buffalo Man Dies In Fiery Crash With Light Truck

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A 32-year-old motorist was killed and a truck-driver injured critically today in the fiery collision of an automobile and a truck near here.

Edward F. Mooney Jr., of Buffalo, died in the crash on Niagara Falls Boulevard, in the Town of Wheatfield.

His car and a light truck operated by Donald Neal, 43, of Niagara Falls, burst into flames. Neal suffered fractures of both legs, an arm and burns over 70 per cent of his body. He was reported in poor condition at DeGraff Memorial Hospital.

Bach Hurls No-Hitter For Old Capital Team

Brian Bach hurled a no-hitter and Old Capital Legion Jrs. of Kingston defeated Highland Post No. 193, 6-1, in the first game of a double elimination tournament last night at Dietz Stadium.

Kingston will oppose Woodstock, the third county entry, on Wednesday at 7:30. The winner of the Ulster County Competition advances to the district finals.

While Bach was hurling his masterpiece, Cal Halstead of Highland was almost as effective. Both sides scored runs early and the contest was knotted, 1-1, starting the last of the fifth. Eddie Mills started the frame with a triple. He scored the tie-breaking run when Bach's fly

Mike Conroy Dies,

Was Former Boxer

CONESUS, N.Y. (AP) — Clement J. Versluys, who won 65 bouts in a 10-year boxing career under the name of Mike Conroy, died Saturday at a nursing home here. He was 63. Death was attributed to cancer.

Versluys had 49 knockouts in his 79-fight career in the 1920s. In 1921, he was boxing champ of Rochester and western New York.

Versluys, a one-time sparring partner of Gene Tunney, fought exhibition matches with Jack Dempsey and Primo Camera.

Versluys retired from the ring in 1929 and spent the next 25 years operating a hotel in Rochester.

Tourney Slated To Start Tuesday At Dutchess Club

Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) deLisio of Woodstock is one of 115 women entered in the championship tournament of the New York State Golf Assn., slated to begin Tuesday at the Dutchess Golf and Country Club in Poughkeepsie.

Winner of the state senior title for the past two years, Mrs. deLisio heads a star-studded field in the annual event, which attracts the best female golfers in the state.

Defending champion Gail Purdy, the 18-year-old sensation from Glens Falls, will be on hand to seek another title.

Miss Purdy became the youngest links lady to win the state crown when she turned the trick in 1961 at Niagara Falls. A two-time winner already, she rates as one of the brightest young stars in the country.

In addition to Miss Purdy, Mrs. Ruth Tergerson, a five-time winner of the state crown (1946-50), will also be on hand. Mrs. Cookie Berger, Buffalo, and Mrs. Philip Allen, Rochester, both former champs, will also shoot for the crown.

Other threats expected to compete are Debbie Austin, Rome, who chased Miss Purdy to the championship last year in Lake Placid; and Mrs. Jean Trainer and daughter Ann, both of Rochester.

In addition to Mrs. deLisio, area threats figure to be Mrs. William Bogle, the defending champion at Dutchess and Mrs. Julian Sude, a former Dutchess champion and a leading area golfer for many years. Mrs. Charles Kovacs, who plays out of Wiltwyck County Club, is also entered.

The qualifying round will be held on Tuesday and the 36-hole final round will be held Saturday.

Grand Circuit Moves to Vernon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two bred-alike fillies from Kentucky's Castleton Farm top a field of 11 juveniles tonight as the Grand Circuit makes Vernon Downs stop three on its journey through Upstate New York.

The fillies—Frosty Song and Victory Princess—are by Victory Song and out of mares by Darnley. The pair start from posts 3 and 9, respectively, in tonight's $3,550 Flora Temple 2-year-old filly trot.

Frosty Song won the Acorn Stakes a week ago at Goshen. Victory Princess boasts a record of four wins in seven starts. Vernon also has slated its second annual Standardbred sale as a feature of Grand Circuit week. A total of 175 yearlings, horses in training and breeding stock are scheduled to be sold today and Tuesday, including Little Willie, a pacing gelding whose 2:03 mile earlier this year set a season's record for 2-year-olds.

Elsewhere in the state, Monticello Raceway's second day-night doubleheader Saturday features the $13,000 Franklin E. Devlin Pace for 4-year-olds. Among the eligibles are Overtrick and the horse that upset him at Chicago, Hi-Lo's Solar. The race is part of Monticello's Excelsior Stakes.

In other feature races Saturday night: Vernon — Argo Kid ($3,500), with a 2:01 1/5 clocking, tied the season's record for 3-year-old trotters in the $4,000 feature.

Yonkers Raceway—Thor Hanover ($24) paced the mile in 2:00 flat and won the $12,500 Miss Universe by a head over favored Mighty Tide.

Saratoga Raceway—Good Flyer ($4,800) nosed out Haughton Hanover in the $5,000 Alta McDonald Memorial Pace in 2:02 2-5.

Buffalo Raceway—Bobby Axland ($5,800) won the $3,000 pace in 2:04.

Lee Cole Captures Feature Event at Accord Speedway

Lee Cole pulled away from Stretch VanSteenberg in the final laps to capture his first 25-lap feature of the season Sunday at Accord Speedway.

The two staged a thrilling bumper duel for the lead early in the race. Chasing the leaders across the finish line were John VanLeuvan, Floyd Curry and Herb Budd.

Heat winners were Curry and Pete Keator. Bud Glass topped the field in the consolation event. Ron Santosky and Gordon Hall finished 1-2 in the sedan feature. They were the other way around

Feature—Lee Cole, Stretch VanSteenberg, John VanLeuvan, Floyd Curry, Herb Budd. Sedan feature—Ron Santosky, Gordon Hall, Al Dymond, Pat DeLeon, Stan Effner.

Ralph Chittenden Winner Of Feature Race at Ontario

Ralph Chittenden took an early lead and was never headed in winning the 25-lap feature race Friday night at Ontario Speedway. Joe Messina nosed Fred Searing for second place.

The stocks will be back at the Olive Bridge track this Friday. A.R.D.C. midgets will make their second appearance on Saturday, July 25 at 8:30. Stocks will be held the preceding night, giving

Clubs to Play Tonight at 6 for Championship

Rondout Valley and the Kingston Nationals have battled their way into the finals of the District 9 Babe Ruth tournament and will meet tonight at 6 o'clock at Dietz Stadium for the championship.

Leading by a 6-1 margin when its game was suspended, Rondout saw Beacon knot the count with a four run surge in the sixth and had to go nine innings before subduing the Southern Dutchess entry, 11-6.

The Kingston Nationals had an easy time drubbing Catskill, 7-1, behind the three-hit pitching of Gregg Rios.

When the Rondout-Beacon contest was halted by rain on Friday, the Ulster club had a 6-1 lead in the bottom of the fourth.

Beacon came back to knot the tilt and sent it into overtime. A walk to Jim Christensen, an error and Walt Weber's three run homer decided the outcome.

Kingston scored four times in the opening inning on an error, talks to John Watzka, Milt Grover and Ed Argulewicz and a single by Charles Lay. It was easy after that.

Rios walked seven and fanned eight in hurling the complete game triumph. His mates had only four hits but made them count.

The winner of tonight's title tilt will travel to Nanuet for the bi-district crown.

Narvaez Ready For Garden Bout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frankie Narvaez, who almost had his winning streak snapped by Johnny Bizzarro five weeks ago, takes on the Erie, Pa., veteran again in a return 10-round bout at New York's Madison Square Garden Friday night. It will be telecast nationally.

There was a lot of talk about matching the 24-year-old Narvaez with lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz before Frankie met the skillful Italian-born Pennsylvanian. But Bizzarro showed the New Yorker was not in Ortiz' class although Narvaez gained a split decision.

The victory over Bizzarro stretched Narvaez' unbeaten streak to 15. The eighth-ranking lightweight contender has a 20-1-1 record, including three knockouts. Bizzarro, 25, has a 46-8-2 record, including 21 kayos. He is ranked third in the junior lightweight class.

2nd Round to Begin In City League

Second round action in the City Baseball league will begin tonight at Dietz Stadium with Elmer's Inn opposing S and E Farms in an 8:15 game.

Woodstock Giants Top Dodgers, 10-3

Giants started with a four run surge in the first inning and topped the Dodgers, 10-3, in a Woodstock Little league game.

Mark Haberstroh was the winner on a six-hitter. George Sullivan homered with two aboard in the sixth to aid his battery-mate.

Larry Miller, Tom Hafele and Mike Reynolds stroked doubles. Mike Calyer had half of the losers' six hits.

Hurley LL Yanks Nip Tigers, 13-12

Base hits and errors were featured as the Yanks nipped the Tigers, 13-12, in a Hurley Little league contest.

Tim Whalen hit a three-run homer for the losers. Dirk Hoffstatter walloped a pair of doubles and Ken Hoffstatter added a two base job.

The Yanks scored the winning run in the seventh frame.

Elect Ray Fuller Sauterites LL Head

Ray Fuller was elected president of the Sauterites League at a meeting last week. He replaces Nick Olivet.

Roy Ohno was elected vice-president, succeeding Ray Beam. Len Gilmore was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Elections will be held following the final game of each season.

Vince Smedes Inks Pact With Braves

Vincent Smedes Jr., 48 Harding Ave., Kingston has been signed to a contract with the Milwaukee Braves by John "Honey" Russell, chief scout of the eastern seaboard.

Smedes reported Friday to Greenville, S. C. of the Western Carolina league, a class A club belonging to the Braves. No bonus was involved.

Smedes, 20, starred in baseball, football and basketball at Kingston High before his graduation in 1961. A shortstop, he has played American Legion ball and was playing with the Poughkeepsie team of the Interstate Baseball league.

Smedes was signed on recommendation of Fritz Jordan, regional scout for the Braves.

2nd Round to Begin In City League

Second round action in the City Baseball league will begin tonight at Dietz Stadium with Elmer's Inn opposing S and E Farms in an 8:15 game.

Tourney Slated To Start Tuesday At Dutchess Club

Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) deLisio of Woodstock is one of 115 women entered in the championship tournament of the New York State Golf Assn., slated to begin Tuesday at the Dutchess Golf and Country Club in Poughkeepsie.

Winner of the state senior title for the past two years, Mrs. deLisio heads a star-studded field in the annual event, which attracts the best female golfers in the state.

Defending champion Gail Purdy, the 18-year-old sensation from Glens Falls, will be on hand to seek another title. Miss Purdy became the youngest links lady to win the state crown when she turned the trick in 1961 at Niagara Falls. A two-time winner already, she rates as one of the brightest young stars in the country.

In addition to Miss Purdy, Mrs. Ruth Tergerson, a five-time winner of the state crown (1946-50), will also be on hand. Mrs. Cookie Berger, Buffalo, and Mrs. Philip Allen, Rochester, both former champs, will also shoot for the crown.

Other threats expected to compete are Debbie Austin, Rome, who chased Miss Purdy to the championship last year in Lake Placid; and Mrs. Jean Trainer and daughter Ann, both of Rochester.

In addition to Mrs. deLisio, William Bogle, the defending champion at Dutchess and Mrs. Schabot, 1b, are expected to be on hand. Other entries include Perry, 2b, Mills, 2b, and George, 2b.

The qualifying round will be held on Tuesday and the 36-hole final round will be held Saturday.

Grand Circuit Moves to Vernon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two bred-alike fillies from Kentucky's Castleton Farm top a field of 11 juveniles tonight as the Grand Circuit makes Vernon Downs stop three on its journey through Upstate New York.

The fillies—Frosty Song and Victory Princess—are by Victory Song and out of mares by Darnley. The pair start from posts 3 and 9, respectively, in tonight's $9,650 Flora Temple 2-year-old filly trot.

Frosty Song won the Acorn Stakes a week ago at Goshen. Victory Princess boasts a record of four wins in seven starts. Vernon also has slated its second annual Standardbred sale as a feature of Grand Circuit week. A total of 175 yearlings, horses in training and breeding stock are scheduled to be sold today and Tuesday, including Little Willie, a pacing gelding whose 2:03 mile earlier this year set a season's record for 2-year-olds.

Elsewhere in the state, Monticello Raceway's second day-night doubleheader Saturday features the $12,000 Franklin E. Devlin Pace for 4-year-olds. Among the eligibles are Overtrick and the horse that upset him at Chicago, Hi-Lo's Solar. The race is part of Monticello's Excelsior Stakes.

In other feature races Saturday night: Vernon — Argo Kid ($3,500), with a 2:01 1/5 clocking, tied the season's record for 3-year-old trotters in the $4,000 feature.

Yonkers Raceway—Thor Hanover ($24) paced the mile in 2:00 flat and won the $12,500 Miss Universe by a head over favored Mighty Tide.

Saratoga Raceway—Good Flyer ($4,800) nosed out Houghton Hanover in the $5,000 Alta McDonald Memorial Pace in 2:02 2/5.

Lee Cole Captures Feature Event at Accord Speedway

Lee Cole pulled away from Stretch VanSteenberg in the final laps to capture his first 25-lap feature of the season Sunday at Accord Speedway.

The two staged a thrilling bumper duel for the lead early in the race. Chasing the leaders across the finish line were John VanLeuvan, Floyd Curry and Herb Budd.

Heat winners were Curry and Pete Keator. Bud Glass topped the field in the consolation event. Ron Santosky and Gordon Hall finished 1-2 in the sedan feature. They were the other way around

Feature—Lee Cole, Stretch VanSteenberg, John VanLeuvan, Floyd Curry, Herb Budd. Sedan feature—Ron Santosky, Gordon Hall, Al Dymond, Pat DeLeon, Stan Effner.

Clubs to Play Tonight at 6 for Championship

Rondout Valley and the Kingston Nationals have battled their way into the finals of the District 9 Babe Ruth tournament and will meet tonight at 6 o'clock at Dietz Stadium for the championship.

Leading by a 6-1 margin when its game was suspended, Rondout saw Beacon knot the count with a four run surge in the sixth and had to go nine innings before subduing the Southern Dutchess entry, 11-6.

The Kingston Nationals had an easy time drubbing Catskill, 7-1, behind the three-hit pitching of Gregg Rios.

When the Rondout-Beacon contest was halted by rain on Friday, the Ulster club had a 6-1 lead in the bottom of the fourth.

Beacon came back to knot the tilt and sent it into overtime. A walk to Jim Christensen, an error and Walt Weber's three run homer decided the outcome. Three more hits netted the winners their final runs.

Kingston scored four times in the opening inning on an error, walks to John Watzka, Milt Grover and Ed Argulewicz and a single by Charles Lay. It was easy after that.

Rios walked seven and fanned eight in hurling the complete game triumph. His mates had only four hits but made them count.

The winner of tonight's title tilt will travel to Nanuet for the bi-district crown.

Narvaez Ready For Garden Bout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frankie Narvaez, who almost had his winning streak snapped by Johnny Bizzarro five weeks ago, takes on the Erie, Pa. veteran again in a return 10-rounder at New York's Madison Square Garden Friday night. It will be telecast nationally.

There was a lot of talk about matching the 24-year-old Narvaez with lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz before Frankie met the skillful Italian-born Pennsylvanian. But Bizzarro showed the New Yorker was not in Ortiz' class although Narvaez gained a split decision.

The victory over Bizzarro stretched Narvaez' unbeaten streak to 15. The eighth-ranking lightweight contender has a 20-1-1 record including three knockouts. Bizzarro, 25, has a 46-8-2 record, including 21 kayos. He is ranked third in the junior lightweight class.

Woodstock Giants Top Dodgers, 10-3

Giants started with a four run surge in the first inning and topped the Dodgers, 10-3, in a Woodstock Little league game.

Mark Haberstroh was the winner on a six-hitter. George Sullivan homered with two aboard in the sixth to aid his battery-mate.

Larry Miller, Tom Hafele and Mike Reynolds stroked doubles. Mike Calyer had half of the losers' six hits.

Giants ..... 402 012—10 4 Dodgers ..... 100 020—3 6 Mark Haberstroh and George Sullivan; Mike Calyer, Tom Hafele and Danny Wells, Mike Barnes.

Hurley LL Yanks Nip Tigers, 13-12

Base hits and errors were featured as the Yanks nipped the Tigers, 13-12, in a Hurley Little league contest.

Tom Whalen hit a three-run homer for the losers. Dirk Hoffstatter walloped a pair of doubles and Ken Hoffstatter added a two base job.

The Yanks scored the winning run in the seventh frame.

Elect Ray Fuller Saugerties LL Head

Ray Fuller was elected president of the Saugerties League at a meeting last week. He replaces Nick Olivet.

Roy Ohno was elected vice-president, succeeding Ray Beam. Len Gilmore was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Elections will be held following the final game of each season. Saugerties will oppose Glasco-East Kingston in a district Little league playoff on July 22 at Saugerties.

Vince Smedes Inks Pact With Braves

Vincent Smedes Jr., 48 Harding Ave., Kingston has been signed to a contract with the Milwaukee Braves by John "Honey" Russell, chief scout of the eastern seaboard.

Smedes reported Friday to Greenville, S. C. of the Western Carolina league, a class A club belonging to the Braves. No bonus was involved.

Smedes, 20, starred in baseball, football and basketball at Kingston High before his graduation in 1961. A shortstop, he has played American Legion ball and was playing with the Poughkeepsie team of the Interstate Baseball league.

Smedes was signed on recommendation of Fritz Jordan, regional scout for the Braves.

2nd Round to Begin In City League

Second round action in the City Baseball league will begin tonight at Dietz Stadium with Elmer's Inn opposing S and E Farms in an 8:15 game.

Bob Daley's Par 72 Wins Wiltwyck Seniors Crown

Robert H. "Bob" Daley, the postal inspector who serves as Wiltwyck Country Club's vice president, shot a par 72 round on the exacting Lucas Avenue layout Sunday to win the Club's 1964 Senior's Championship.

In winning the crown, Daley put together nine's of 36 and 36 to defeat a record entry of 29 players. His nearest competitor was C. J. "Jimmy" Turk, who fired a 77 to take second place. Mike Amato was the only player to break 90 in the over 60 class to win low gross with a score of 89. In the low net classification, Doug Kennedy and Frank Vault tied with net 73's.

In the 50-59 age bracket, Harry LeFever, Ivan Whitmore and Art Ellis finished in that order one stroke apart in the net contest.

Braves Moving Up in Standings: Aparicio Stars For Baltimore

Climb to 5th With Double Win Over Phillies

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves are moving—but in a northerly direction.

Rumored to be headed to Atlanta and subjected to some caustic comments about their talents, the Braves ignored the former and answered the latter Sunday by continuing their sudden climb up the National League standings into fifth place.

The Braves, bogged down in ninth place two weeks ago, made it 11 victories in their last 15 games by sweeping a doubleheader from Philadelphia 4-3 and 6-2, knocking the Phillies into second place behind San Francisco.

The Braves' latest outburst came just two days after the Milwaukee County board chairman, Eugene Grobbschmidt, fired a verbal broadside at the players.

Hank Aaron has been laying the groundwork for the Braves' streak with some amazing stickwork.

The slugging outfielder collected four hits against the Phillies—including No. 2,000 of his career—and extended his hitting string to 16 games. During that stretch, Aaron has driven in 17 runs while hitting at a .394 clip and lifting his average to .312—sixth best in the league.

The Phillies, meanwhile, lost their fourth straight and again changed places with San Francisco in the tight pennant struggle.

The Giants moved one game out from despite losing to Houston 5-4 in a weird game in which San Francisco reliever Billy O'Dell was ejected before throwing a pitch and Gaylord Perry took over, then proceeded to change his shoes while sitting on the pitchers' mound.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader for the first time in more than a year by beating Cincinnati 1-0 and 5-1 while the Chicago Cubs downed Los Angeles 6-3 before the Dodgers won the nightcap 6-2 with a six-run ninth inning.

The St. Louis at Pittsburgh doubleheader was rained out. The Braves jumped on Chris Short in the opener for all their runs in the fourth inning.

Quick Ejection
At Houston, O'Dell was called in for a relief role in the seventh inning, but was tossed out before he even threw one pitch because of a disagreement with Umpire Lee Weyer. Perry then got a hurry-up call, trudged in and sat down to change his shoes.

Perry ultimately was touched for a run-producing single by Nellie Fox that tied the score 4-4 and lost it in the ninth when Eddie Kasko, Dave Roberts and Fox stroked singles for the winning run.

Galen Cisco of the Mets won a battle of six-hitters with the Reds' Joey Jay in the opener when New York scored the game's only run in the ninth inning on consecutive doubles by George Altman and Joe Christopher.

The Mets wrapped up their first doubleheader sweep since June 23, 1963, as Ron Hunt collected three hits, including a homer, and drove in three runs in the nightcap. Frank Lary got the victory, his first as a National Leaguer.

The Cubs won the opener with a four-run ninth capped by Billy Williams' 21st homer, off Ron Perryanski.

Ernie Broglio, looking for his first victory as a Cub, had a four-hit shutout going into the nightcap ninth when the Dodgers struck. Tommy Davis' bases loaded single tied the game and Ron Fairly scored the lead run on Frank Howard's infield out.

The Senators' defeat in the opener was their eighth straight, equaling the longest losing streak in the majors this season. The Red Sox won it in the seventh as Russ Nixon sacrificed fly and Felix Mantilla's two-run homer.

Jim King's three-run homer in the second helped launch Washington to the second-game victory. The Senators added three in the sixth on Ed Bresoud's two-run error and a single by winner Al Koch.

Roger Maris and Joe Pepitone homered for the Yankees while Lon Wagner connected for the Indians in their shortened game.

Milford Van Demark, of Accord RD 2, took honors with a 16-pound pike caught June 29 at Chippewa Bay. He used a minnow for bait.

A lone muskallonge caught by Kenneth V. Osmond, of Baldwinsville, RD 1, topped the list of 33 cash prize winners in the June segment of the contest. His catch weighed 31 pounds, eight ounces and measured 48 1/2 inches long.

BATTING—Pete Ward, White Sox, drove in six runs with two homers in 3-1, 11-4 doubleheader sweep against Kansas City, capping a seven-run eighth inning uprising in the nightcap with his third grand slam of the season.

PITCHING—Galen Cisco, Mets, broke his six-game losing streak by besting Cincinnati's Joey Jay 1-0 in a battle of six-hitters. The Mets completed their first doubleheader sweep since June 23, 1963, by taking the second game of the doubleheader 5-1.

Enables Birds To Split Pair With Detroit

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fleet Luis Aparicio, the major leagues' biggest thief, has branched out. He's now committing crimes in more ways than ever before.

Aparicio did just about everything but grab the ball and run away with it Sunday as the American League leading Baltimore Orioles split a doubleheader with Detroit. The Orioles won the opener 4-2, then dropped the nightcap 4-3 in 10 innings.

The sizzling shortstop rapped five hits, scored four runs and stole two bases in the games.

The thefts gave him a lead, but he was more important to the Orioles. Aparicio's hitting spurge boosted his average to .304, far above his .261 lifetime mark.

The first hit for the 30-year-old Venezuelan in the doubleheader was a double in the fifth. He scored the Orioles' first run on Sam Bowens' single.

With Baltimore trailing 2-1, Aparicio opened the eighth with a single, stole second and third, then scored the tying run on an infield out. Brooks Robinson hit a winning two-run homer minutes later.

In other AL games, Chicago swept Kansas City 3-1 and 11-4, and 3-2 in 10 innings, Washington trounced Boston 10-3 after losing 5-3 and New York battled Cleveland to a 2-2 tie in a game called in the seventh because of rain.

The Tigers won the second game despite Aparicio. A walk, a single by Don Wert and a passed ball set the stage for Mike Roarke's winning two-run single over a drawn-in infield in the bottom of the 10th.

Beat Miller
Stu Miller, Baltimore's ace reliever, suffered his third setback in seven decisions. The loss was only the Orioles' third in 24 one-run games.

Pete Ward hit two homers and drove in six runs in Chicago's double victory. His homer in the nightcap was a grand slam, his third of the season. The hit climaxed a seven-run rally in the eighth inning that broke a 4-4 deadlock.

Love Nicholson and Ward homered in the opener as John Buzhardt pitched a five-hitter. Nicholson was hit in the head by a Moe Drabowski pitch in the second game but was not injured seriously.

The Angels' Bob Rodgers had his 18-game hitting streak stopped in the opener but singled home the winning run in the 10th inning of the nightcap. Shortstop Zoilo Versalles helped set up the run with a two-base throwing error on Willie Smith's grounder.

Fred Newman stopped the Twins on four hits in the first game. Jim Piersall doubled across the winning run in the ninth, handing Dick Stigman a tough loss. Stigman retired the first 15 men he faced and allowed only three hits.

The Senators' defeat in the opener was their eighth straight, equaling the longest losing streak in the majors this season. The Red Sox won it in the seventh as Russ Nixon sacrificed fly and Felix Mantilla's two-run homer.

Jim King's three-run homer in the second helped launch Washington to the second-game victory. The Senators added three in the sixth on Ed Bresoud's two-run error and a single by winner Al Koch.

Roger Maris and Joe Pepitone homered for the Yankees while Lon Wagner connected for the Indians in their shortened game.

Milford Van Demark, of Accord RD 2, took honors with a 16-pound pike caught June 29 at Chippewa Bay. He used a minnow for bait.

BATTING—Pete Ward, White Sox, drove in six runs with two homers in 3-1, 11-4 doubleheader sweep against Kansas City, capping a seven-run eighth inning uprising in the nightcap with his third grand slam of the season.

PITCHING—Galen Cisco, Mets, broke his six-game losing streak by besting Cincinnati's Joey Jay 1-0 in a battle of six-hitters. The Mets completed their first doubleheader sweep since June 23, 1963, by taking the second game of the doubleheader 5-1.

PGA Golf Tourney This Week

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—The pro golfing tourists shake the arithmetic out of their brains and move into Columbus today for the PGA Championship but they'll leave behind their latest tournament winner, Miller Barber.

The paunchy, 32-year-old Texarkana, Ark., pro, who beat out National Open champion Ken Venturi for the $5,000 first prize in the Wykagyl Round Robin, isn't eligible for the pros' private tee party, starting Thursday.

He is two weeks shy in completing the five-year apprenticeship.

"I'll get a crack at them next year," said Barber, celebrating his biggest tournament triumph. The bespectacled former assistant pro, on the tour less than two years, staged a rally to overtake the front-running Venturi in the 90-hole, four-day mathematical monstrosity played over the Wykagyl Country Club course.

Barber wound up with a total of 31 plus points—one better than Venturi.

In this unique event, every player opposes each of the others in the field on a head-to-head, match play basis over a period of four days. Points are awarded for holes won and subtracted for holes lost.

Medal scores, the determining factor in most other tournaments mean nothing.

Miss Wright Wins Women's Open
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Mickey Wright, undisputed queen of the gal golfers, owns the United States Women's Open Golf championship for an unprecedented fourth time.

Blonde Mickey from Dallas defeated Blonde Ruth Jensen from Seattle in an 18-hole playoff Sunday for the USGA title, shooting a three-under par 70 to her opponent's 72 over San Diego Country Club's sun-drenched par 36-73 course.

The pair had finished even at 290, two under par, at the end of the regulation 72 holes Saturday.

The finale was jammed with tension. At one stage it was possible for a three or four-way tie, with only a couple of holes to play. Mickey finished with a 73, Miss Jensen a 71.

As it developed, Shirley Englehorn, 23, of Los Angeles, and Marilyn Smith, Colorado Springs, each with a 74, tied at 291. Runners-up included Sandra Haynie, 29; Peggy Wilson, 29; Joann Prentice and Marlene Bauer Hage, 29, and Kathy Whitworth, 300.

Iceman Captures Petersen Pin Title
CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Thiel, a 32-year-old public utility serviceman from Hobart, Ind., captured the top prize of $30,000 Sunday in the Petersen Bowling Classic.

The seven-month tournament ended when the last two squads of bowlers failed to overcome the score of 1,684 posted by Thiel last Feb. 8.

A record breaking field of 15,872 keggers took part in the classic and Thiel's score was assaulted by 12,890 bowlers after he had put together games of 202, 200, 259, 215, 196, 222 and 210.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

BEST BET—Stag Dancer (9th)
UPSET CHANCE—Cry Jimmy (2nd)

1. SPEEDY G. all the way without a break. NOTABLE HANOVER seeks lifetime win. TYSON GALLON figures to be close.

2. WONDER CASTLE draws good post. Now needs a good ride. CRY JIMMY has a chance in the stretch. Good longshot bet. CARRIE'S LAST BOY did nothing from the pole.

3. GENE ADAM can beat this awful field. AFTON NICK has favorable post position. IDEAL GALLON impressed at Goshen.

4. HAD A PENNY has been knocking at the door. Maybe now, JAMAICA HANOVER in top stable. Might need a race at this track. SUCCESS SID seeking second straight.

5. JACQUELINE BYRD goes after another. Has hot driver handling the reins. JUNE FIRST is hampered by post position. JULIA'S JET can reverse.

6. POTOMAC CHUCK drops way down. Might be way too strong for the field. BACHE ROSECROTT is the competition. KASHWORTHY has beaten stronger but appears to have slipped.

7. COUNSEL WAY packs a wallop in the stretch. MISS FILIBUSTER is hard to figure. TAG will set the early pace. Might hang on.

8. HOMESTRETCH has the pole and comes off an impressive win. HERB SCOTT is in shape. Might reverse here. VERNON MAC figures, driver doesn't.

9. STAG DANCER is the night's best bet, especially on an off track. UNCLE ARLING was beaten favorite last time out. FIREMAN romped in matinee race. Might repeat.

Frosty Hanover Wins MR Feature

MONTICELLO, N. Y., July 11—Frosty Hanover, taken to the top by Stanley Dancer approaching the half-mile mark, held that advantage the rest of the way to post a length and one-quarter decision over Diggs Dell in tonight's $14,132 Founders Cup trot at Monticello raceway.

With a season's high crowd of 11,748 on hand, Frosty Hanover turned in his best time of the season as the four-year-old son of Star's Pride clicked off a 2:03.3 winning effort.

Golden Hanover, which was coupled with Frosty Hanover as a common interest entry, went to the top from post two, but broke stride before the opening quarter. The first piece went in 30.1 seconds as Diggs Dell, Frosty Hanover, Valid Hanover and Just Jamie topped the nine-horse field.

Dancer, making his first local start, moved Frosty to the top just before the half and built up a two-length margin rounding the final turn. The other fractions were caught in 1:02.2 and 1:33.1, the winner closing in 30.2.

Former Hungarian Coxswain To Represent U.S. in Olympics

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—When Hungary's Olympic team disbanded at Melbourne in 1956, Bob Zimonyi decided to defect. Instead of going home to Budapest, the coxswain decided to try his luck in America.

Zimonyi, a wisp of a man at 46, will go to the Tokyo Olympics in October as a proud member of the United States team.

"After the revolution in Hungary, sports did not seem to be so important in my native land," said Zimonyi after the Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia, with Zimonyi as coxswain, won Saturday's Olympic Trials. He just had taken his third ducking, once for tradition and twice for the television cameras.

"When I left Hungary I had only what I wore on my back," he said. "My mother and father are dead. My sister is visiting me now. If I ever go back to Hungary it will be just for a visit. I am very glad we made it for the boys and for myself. Now I will compete on the Olympic team of my new country. For I am an American citizen now."

Zimonyi is typical of the Vesper crew, first club eight to represent the U.S. in the Olympics since the Vespers won in 1900 and 1904. College rowers have dominated every Olympics since 1920, never losing until Navy bowed to Germany's Ratzburg crew in 1960.

Two undergraduates at La-

Salle College, two Yale graduates, a 34-year-old businessman who is father of six children, and three service officers make up the Vesper eight, coached by Allen Rosenberg, a Philadelphia lawyer, with help from Dietrich Rose of the Ratzburg crew.

The crew defied all the rules that say a crew must row together for years to weld itself into a unit. The Vesper boat was made up four weeks ago.

The Vesper boat broke last, caught Harvard at the 800-meter mark and won by a length in 6 minutes, 1.3 seconds for the 2,000 meter (about 1 1/4 mile) Olympic route. Harvard had a length on previously unbeaten California and Yale was last.

Bill Stowe, the new stroke, was stroke at Cornell in 1961 and 1962 and now is a lieutenant in the Navy stationed in Philadelphia.

The other crewmen are: Jan Cwikl

Climb to 5th With Double Win Over Phillies

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves are moving—but in a northerly direction.

Summed to be headed to Atlanta and subjected to some caustic comments about their talents, the Braves ignored the former and answered the latter Sunday by continuing their sudden climb up the National League standings into fifth place.

The Braves, bogged down in ninth place two weeks ago, made it 11 victories in their last 15 games by sweeping a double-header from Philadelphia 4-3 and 6-2, knocking the Phillies into second place behind San Francisco.

The Braves' latest outburst came just two days after the Milwaukee County board chairman, Eugene Grobbschmidt, fired a verbal broadside at the players.

Hank Aaron has been laying the groundwork for the Braves' streak with some amazing stick work.

The slugging outfielder collected four hits against the Phillies—including No. 2,000 of his career—and extended his hitting string to 16 games. During that stretch, Aaron has driven in 17 runs while hitting at a .394 clip and lifting his average to .312—sixth best in the league.

The Phillies, meanwhile, lost their fourth straight and again changed places with San Francisco in the tight pennant struggle.

The Giants moved one game out front despite losing to Houston 5-4 in a weird game in which San Francisco reliever Billy O'Dell was ejected before throwing a pitch and Gaylord Perry took over, then proceeded to change his shoes while sitting on the pitchers' mound.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader for the first time in more than a year by beating Cincinnati 1-0 and 5-1 while the Chicago Cubs downed Los Angeles 6-3 before the Dodgers won the nightcap 6-2 with a six-run ninth inning.

The St. Louis at Pittsburgh doubleheader was rained out.

The Braves jumped on Chris Short in the opener for all their runs in the fourth inning.

Quick Ejection
At Houston, O'Dell was called in for a relief role in the seventh inning, but was tossed out before he even threw one pitch because of a disagreement with Umpire Lee Weyer. Perry then got a hurry-up call, trudged in and sat down to change his shoes.

Perry ultimately was touched for a run-producing single by Nellie Fox that tied the score 4-4 and lost it in the ninth when Eddie Kasko, Dave Roberts and Fox stroked singles for the winning run.

Galen Cisco of the Mets won a battle of six-hitters with the Reds' Joey Jay in the opener when New York scored the game's only run in the ninth inning on consecutive doubles by George Altman and Joe Christopher.

The Mets wrapped up their first doubleheader sweep since June 23, 1963, as Ron Hunt collected three hits, including a homer, and drove in three runs in the nightcap. Frank Lary got the victory, his first as a National Leaguer.

The Cubs won the opener with a four-run ninth capped by Billy Williams' 21st homer, off Ron Ferraro.

Ernie Broglio, looking for his first victory as a Cub, had a four-hit shutout going into the nightcap ninth when the Dodgers struck. Tommy Davis' bases loaded single tied the game and Ron Fairly scored the lead run on Frank Howard's infield out.

The Senators' defeat in the opener was their eighth straight, equaling the longest losing streak in the majors this season. The Red Sox won it in the seventh on Russ Nixon's sacrifice fly and Felix Mantilla's two-run homer.

Jim King's three-run homer in the second helped launch Washington to the second-game victory. The Senators added three in the sixth on Ed Bresnold's two-run error and a single by winner Al Koch.

Roger Maris and Joe Pepitone homered for the Yankees while Lou Wagner connected for the Indians in their shortened game.

Enables Birds To Split Pair With Detroit

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fleet Luis Aparicio, the major leagues' biggest thief, has branched out. He's now committing crimes in more ways than ever before.

Aparicio did just about everything but grab the ball and run away with it Sunday as the American League leading Baltimore Orioles split a doubleheader with Detroit. The Orioles won the opener 4-2, then dropped the nightcap 4-3 in 10 innings.

The sizzling shortstop rapped five hits, scored four runs and stole two bases in the games. The thefts gave him a leading total of 33 but more important put him back into the base stealing racket. They were his first since he stole three times June 14. In the meantime, he missed about two weeks with a pulled groin muscle.

Aparicio, who has led the league in stolen bases for eight straight seasons, is a pinch to top last year's total of 40 and should eclipse his top mark of 56 recorded in 1959.

Still more important to the Orioles, Aparicio's hitting spurge boosted his average to .304, far above his .261 lifetime mark.

The first hit for the 30-year-old Venezuelan in the doubleheader was a double in the fifth. He scored the Orioles' first run on Sam Bowens' single.

With Bowens' single, Aparicio opened the eighth with a single, stole second and third, then scored the tying run on an infield out. Brooks Robinson hit a winning two-run homer minutes later.

In other AL games, Chicago swept Kansas City 3-1 and 11-4, and 3-2 in 10 innings, Washington trounced Boston 10-3 after losing 5-3 and New York battled Cleveland to a 2-2 tie in a game called in the seventh because of rain.

The Tigers won the second game despite Aparicio. A walk, a single by Don Wert and a passed ball set the stage for Mike Roarke's winning two-run single over a drawn-in infield in the bottom of the 10th.

Beat Miller
Stu Miller, Baltimore's ace reliever, suffered his third setback in seven decisions. The loss was only the Orioles' third in 24 one-run games.

Pete Ward hit two homers and drove in six runs in Chicago's double victory. His homer in the nightcap was a grand slam, his third of the season. The hit climaxed a seven-run rally in the eighth inning that broke a 4-4 deadlock.

Dave Nicholson and Ward homered in the opener as John Buzhardt pitched a five-hitter. Nicholson was hit in the head by a Moe Drabowsky pitch in the second game but was not injured seriously.

The Angels' Bob Rodgers had his 18-game hitting streak stopped in the opener but singled home the winning run in the 10th inning of the nightcap. Shortstop Zoilo Versalles helped set up the run with a two-base throwing error on Willie Smith's ground.

Fred Newman stopped the Twins on four hits in the first game. Jim Piersall doubled across the winning run in the ninth, handing Dick Stigman a tough loss. Stigman retired the first 15 men he faced and allowed only three hits.

The Senators' defeat in the opener was their eighth straight, equaling the longest losing streak in the majors this season. The Red Sox won it in the seventh on Russ Nixon's sacrifice fly and Felix Mantilla's two-run homer.

Jim King's three-run homer in the second helped launch Washington to the second-game victory. The Senators added three in the sixth on Ed Bresnold's two-run error and a single by winner Al Koch.

PGA Golf Tourney This Week

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) —The pro golfing tourists shake the arithmetic out of their brains and move into Columbus today for the PGA Championship but they'll leave behind their latest tournament winner, Miller Barber.

The paunchy, 32-year-old Texarkana, Ark., pro, who beat out National Open champion Ken Venturi for the $5,000 first prize in the Wykagyl Round Robin, isn't eligible for the pros' private tee party, starting Thursday.

He is two weeks shy in completing the five-year apprenticeship.

"I'll get a crack at them next year," said Barber, celebrating his biggest tournament triumph.

The bespectacled former assistant pro, on the tour less than two years, staged a rally to overtake the front-running Venturi in the 90-hole, four-day mathematical monstrosity played over the Wykagyl Country Club course.

Barber wound up with a total of 31 plus points—one better than Venturi.

In this unique event, every player opposes each of the others in the field on a head-to-head, match play basis over a period of four days. Points are awarded for holes won and subtracted for holes lost.

Medical scores, the determining factor in most other tournaments mean nothing.

Miss Wright Wins Women's Open

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Mickey Wright, undisputed queen of the gal golfers, owns the United States Women's Open Golf championship for an unprecedented fourth time.

Blonde Mickey from Dallas defeated Blonde Ruth Jensen from Seattle in an 18-hole playoff Sunday for the USGA title, shooting a three-under par 70 to her opponent's 72 over San Diego Country Club's sun-drenched par 36-37, 73 course.

The pair had finished even at 290, two under par, at the end of the regulation 72 holes Saturday.

The finale was jammed with tension. At one stage it was possible for a three or four-way tie, with only a couple of holes to play. Mickey finished with a 73, Miss Jensen a 71.

As it developed, Shirley Englehorn, 23, of Los Angeles, and Marilyn Smith, Colorado Springs, each with a 74, tied at 291.

Runners-up included Sandra Haynie, 29; Peggy Wilson, 29; Joann Prentice and Marlene Bauer Hagge, 298, and Kathy Whitworth, 300.

Iceman Captures Petersen Pin Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Thiel, a 32-year-old public utility service man from Hobart, Ind., captured the top prize of $30,000 Sunday in the Petersen Bowling Classic.

The seven-month tournament ended when the last two squads of bowlers failed to overcome the score of 1,684 posted by Thiel last Feb. 8.

A record breaking field of 15,872 reglers took part in the classic and Thiel's score was assaulted by 12,800 bowlers after he had put together games of 202, 200, 239, 215, 196, 222 and 210.

Rain Eases Woes In Eastern N. Y.; May Keep Cool

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A refreshing sheet of rain continued to spread across the state today, bringing prospects of rinsing away the woes of drought - plagued eastern New York and Southern tier farmers.

Temperatures tumbled from the 80s to the mid-60s in western New York Sunday in the path of the rain-front, which entered the state from the southwest.

This cooling trend was expected to continue statewide for the next couple of days, the weather bureau said, keeping thermometer readings in the 60s to low 70s for the most part.

The two low-pressure centers responsible for the rain will move rather slowly, the weatherman said, producing shower activity until tomorrow and possibly Wednesday over most of the state.

Rainfall totals in the last 24 hours reflected the eastward movement of the rain-front. The totals, as prepared by the weather bureau in Albany, included:

Buffalo, 1.31 inches; Olean, .47; Rochester, .42; Syracuse, .30; Utica, .74; Rome, .61; Watertown, .25; Massena and Plattsburg, .08; Glens Falls, .12; and Binghamton, .03.

A total of 14 counties from eastern New York into the Southern Tier now have been designated as drought - disaster areas by Gov. Rockefeller and Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson.

Five of the counties have gained federal approval to cut hay and graze cattle on land in the soil bank. They are Albany, Rensselaer, Schenectady, Saratoga and Washington.

The other nine counties seeking federal aid are Chemung, Chenango, Columbia, Fulton, Greene, Montgomery, Otsego, Schoharie and Tioga.

To Use Neuberger Name for Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—She is still Sen. Maurice B. Neuberger, D-Ore., even though she is now Mrs. Philip Solomon. Sen. Neuberger, 57, and Dr. Solomon, 50, a Boston psychiatrist, were married Saturday night at the Washington home of David L. Bazelon, chief judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals.

An aide said Sen. Neuberger would continue using that name for official business. She announced that she plans to seek re-election when her present term expires. She succeeded her husband, the late Richard L. Neuberger, in the Senate seat.

105 Registered In Saugerties Summer Classes

Classes began July 6 for 105 pupils registered in summer classes in Saugerties High School, Dr. Dexter O. Arnold, superintendent of schools announced today.

All classes, except improvement in reading, are on advanced basis, which means that pupils are pursuing the subject for the first time.

Pupils are enrolled in the following courses: chemistry, driver education, personal use typing, personal use shorthand, and improvement in reading.

Summer school faculty is as follows: Roy Ohno—chemistry; Leon McLaughlin—driver education; Milton Sommers—personal use typing; Patrick Rodden—personal use shorthand; Mrs. Elsie Ketselaar—improvement in reading. David Cunningham, Saugerties High School principal, is serving as summer school principal.

Adjourn Mackay Case to Aug. 2

The case of Frederick Mackay, 21 of Jackson Heights, L. I., charged in the alleged assault on a Saugerties taxi driver was adjourned to August 2, when he appeared before Saugerties Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr., this morning.

Mackay is one of two men charged in the case after an alleged altercation with Harry Morgan Jr., 19 of Ulster Avenue. He drives a taxi for his father, Harry Morgan Sr., of the same address.

The other man charged in the case, Maurice Hinchey, 25 of Bonnie Lee Trailer Park, was granted an adjournment to next Friday at 7 p. m. when he appeared Friday before Judge Rea.

Mackay is charged with second and third degree assault and malicious mischief, the first charge is a felony. Hinchey is charged with third degree assault.

Patrolman Harry Vickery said charges resulted in an incident June 28 in front of Bud's Taxi Stand on Ulster Avenue. The arresting officer said young Morgan was putting his private car into the garage when two men accosted him and started to jump on him and beat him severely. He told police one of the men broke his car antenna off and used it as a weapon.

The elder Morgan came to his son's assistance and someone summoned the police. Young Morgan was taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment of a severe eye injury.

Three Are Injured, Gotham Driver Cited

Three persons were injured and a motorist was cited following a two-car collision which occurred at 6:45 p. m. Saturday on Route 209 at Route 28, Town of Ulster.

Trapper Norman Kilfoyle of the Kingston sub-station, said cars involved in the rear-end collision were driven by Paul Shewchuk, 39, and Zachary Zedran, 45. Watervliet neighbors. They were going north on the highway when a car driven by Sidney Greenblatt, New York City, stopped abruptly in front of Shewchuk, and as the latter applied his brakes, his car was struck in the rear by the Zedran vehicle.

Greenblatt was summoned by troopers on a charge of decreasing speed without signal.

Zedran suffered head lacerations. Shewchuk's wife, Tessie, who is an expectant mother, received minor injuries, and Alexandria Dawydowich, 35, also of Watervliet, and a passenger in the Shewchuk car, received a whiplash of the neck. The three were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance.

Park Department Lists Activities

The weekly nocturnal schedule for the week of July 13 presents a variety of activities which should prove enjoyable to all age groups.

The regular weekly movie for this week is "Damon and Pythias" starring Guy Williams, Don Burnett and Arnold Foa. It tells the story of the Athenian Pythias who upon entering ancient Syracuse is attacked by the desperate robber Damon. Pythias overpowers Damon in battle, spares his life and thus begins a strange and enduring friendship. The film will be shown Monday night in Block Park, Tuesday night in Forsyth Park and Wednesday night in Hutton Park. It will start at dusk and will be approximately two hours long.

Monday evening at Forsyth Park under the Pavilion the department will present a dance featuring the music of Sammy Turk and his 15-piece band. All age groups are invited to attend and in particular the teenagers for the band will feature the latest rock and roll hits.

The dance will be held under the pavilion at Forsyth from 8 p. m. until 11 p. m. and will be held rain or shine. Leader Sammy Turk has promised some surprise entertainment on the evening's festivities. Music for the dance is provided by Local 215 of the American Federation of Musicians as a part of the transcription fund and was arranged by Mr. Truck and Pete Ferraro who is in charge of the transcription fund.

Wednesday evening a Band Concert will be held at Academy Greene by the Kingston Concert Band under the direction of Marlin Morrette.

The concert will start at 8 p. m. and continue until 10 p. m. Besides the latest band music Director Morrette has instituted many enjoyable innovations for the pleasure of the listening audience.

Monday and Wednesday evenings at Block, Upper Hasbrouck and Loughran Park Softball diamonds the Recreation sponsored City Softball League will start action in the third and final round of the 1964 season. Softball games start at 6:15 p. m. and are of the seven-inning variety.

Since this week is the fourth week under supervision in all city parks the playground supervisors will stress games of all types with intra-park championships being scheduled in checkers, ping pong, chess and other sedentary games with a park champion being determined in all activities so that he and she may meet the champions of other parks during championship week August 3. The handicraft projects being stressed in the playgrounds for this week will be leather change purses.

Approval Given For Consolidation Of 3 Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has approved the consolidation of the Norfolk & Western, Nickel Plate, and Wabash railroads into a 7,450-mile system.

The ICC, in announcing the decision today, said the Pennsylvania Railroad must get rid of all of its financial interests in the N & W and the Wabash, because the Pennsylvania "is in a position to extend its control over the proposed system."

The transaction involves the merger of the Nickel Plate—formerly known as the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad—into the Norfolk & Western, and the subsequent lease of the Wabash.

The result would be a rail network extending from the port of Hampton Roads, Va., to the Great Lakes and Midwest.

The decision was adopted June 24 by a 10-1 vote. The ICC said the consolidation may not take place unless the Pennsylvania notifies the commission by Sept. 16-30 days after the order takes effect—of its intent to divest.

No particular plan of divestiture was specified, but the ICC said all holdings in the new system must be disposed of over a 10-year period.

Has Comfortable Night

STOKE MANDEVILLE England (AP)—Dr. Roberto Arias of Panama "had a comfortable night and has maintained his improvement," a medical bulletin issued by Stoke Mandeville Hospital said today.

Arias emerged from a five-day coma Sunday. The hospital had reported a deterioration of his condition when he went into the coma. His wife, ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn, rushed to his bedside.

Arias, 46, was shot by a political opponent in Panama City June 8. He is paralyzed from the waist down.

$4,500 TELEPHONE CALL—New York Telephone Company Manager C. M. Stewart recently made a telephone call which swelled the "in the bank" totals of Ellenville's Veterans Memorial Hospital building fund by $4,500. The phone company had pledged that sum during the fund raising campaign and promised payment as soon as it received notification of groundbreaking for the new community institution. The new 65-bed facility is being constructed on a 13-acre site on Route 209 between Ellenville and Nanapanoch at an estimated cost of $1.4 million. $800,000 has been raised by public subscription.

To Send 1,000 Eagle Feathers to Indians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government let it be known today it is sending 1,000 eagle feathers to the Indian tribes of the Southwest.

Eagle feathers are highly important to ceremonial costumes of several Southwest Indian tribes, the Interior Department said, but the feathers have been hard to get.

Federal laws safeguard eagles, their feathers, nests and eggs. Nobody may possess them unless he has a permit from the secretary of the interior or acquired them before protective laws were passed.

Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service has salvaged the feathers from some 20 eagles found dead in different parts of the country, primarily in North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri.

The larger undamaged wing and tail feathers are being sent to the Wildlife Service's regional office in Albuquerque, N.M., for distribution among the tribes.

22 Die, 128 Are Ill After Morning Dish

STYLIA, Greece (AP)—More than half the people of Styliia gathered Sunday on the 40th day after the death of a kinsman for the traditional Greek Orthodox memorial service.

The widow, Ionna Apostopolous, 60, had arranged the service for her husband, Gregory. She also prepared the customary mourning dish of boiled wheat germ, Koliva, eaten as an offering to God to erase the sins of the deceased so he may enter heaven.

Within 90 minutes after the service, villagers began complaining of pain.

By nightfall, 222 persons were dead and 128 seriously ill. The village chief said the widow had mistakenly sprinkled the wheat germ with insect poison instead of powdered sugar.

Police began an investigation to determine whether there had been criminal negligence.

Burma Also Asking Conference on Laos

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Burma has joined Communist China in calling for a new 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai ended a surprise two-day visit to Rangoon Sunday. The Burmese Foreign Ministry said the chief topic in the talks between Chou and Gen. Ne Win, head of Burma's military government, was Southeast Asia.

The announcement said both leaders were determined to seek a "peaceful settlement" of troubles in the area.

Stratton Thought Is Wagner Could Get Him Nominated

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton says an endorsement of him by Mayor Robert F. Wagner for the Democratic senatorial nomination "would pretty well nail down the ball game."

The Amsterdam congressman made the remark to newsmen Sunday after addressing a Captive Nations Week ceremony opposite the United Nations Building.

Earlier on a television program and during a discussion with newsmen, Stratton urged Wagner to "put things rolling" in the state's U.S. Senate campaign by announcing his choice for the nomination.

Sept. 1, the date set for the state convention, will be too late to mount a successful campaign, Stratton said.

A call for a pre-convention endorsement was voted down June 15.

Stratton has not formally announced his candidacy.

Rain Eases Woes In Eastern N. Y.; May Keep Cool

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A refreshing sheet of rain continued to spread across the state today, bringing prospects of rinsing away the woes of drought - plagued eastern New York and Southern tier farmers. Temperatures tumbled from the 80s to the mid-60s in western New York Sunday in the path of the rain-front, which entered the state from the southwest.

This cooling trend was expected to continue statewide for the next couple of days, the weather bureau said, keeping thermometer readings in the 60s to low 70s for the most part.

The two low-pressure centers responsible for the rain will move rather slowly, the weatherman said, producing shower activity until tomorrow and possibly Wednesday over most of the state.

Rainfall totals in the last 24 hours reflected the eastward movement of the rain-front. The totals, as prepared by the weather bureau in Albany, included:

Buffalo, 1.31 inches; Olean, .47; Rochester, .42; Syracuse, .50; Utica, .74; Rome, .61; Watertown, .25; Massena and Plattsburgh, .08; Glens Falls, .12; and Binghamton, .03.

A total of 14 counties from eastern New York into the Southern Tier now have been designated as drought - disaster areas by Gov. Rockefeller and Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson.

Five of the counties have gained federal approval to cut hay and graze cattle on land in the soil bank. They are Albany, Rensselaer, Schenectady, Saratoga and Washington.

The other nine counties seeking federal aid are Chemung, Chenango, Columbia, Fulton, Greene, Montgomery, Otsego, Schoharie and Tioga.

To Use Neuberger Name for Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—She is still Sen. Maurice B. Neuberger, D-Ore., even though she is now Mrs. Philip Solomon. Sen. Neuberger, 57, and Dr. Solomon, 50, a Boston psychiatrist, were married Saturday night at the Washington home of David L. Bazelon, chief judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals.

An aide said Sen. Neuberger would continue using that name for official business. She announced that she plans to seek re-election when her present term expires. She succeeded her husband, the late Richard L. Neuberger, in the Senate seat.

Classes began July 6 for 105 pupils registered in summer classes in Saugerties High School, Dr. Dexter O. Arnold, superintendent of schools announced today.

All classes, except improvement in reading, are on advanced basis, which means that pupils are pursuing the subject for the first time.

Pupils are enrolled in the following courses: chemistry, driver education, personal use typing, personal use shorthand, and improvement in reading.

Summer school faculty is as follows: Roy Ohno—chemistry; Leon McLaughlin—driver education; Milton Sommers—personal use typing; Patrick Rodden—personal use shorthand; Mrs. Elsie Ketealar—improvement in reading. David Cunningham, Saugerties High School principal, is serving as summer school principal.

Adjourn Mackay Case to Aug. 2

The case of Frederick Mackay, 21 of Jackson Heights, L. I., charged in the alleged assault on a Saugerties taxi driver was adjourned to August 2, when he appeared before Saugerties Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr., this morning.

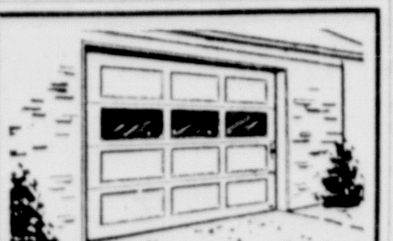

Mackay is one of two men charged in the case after an alleged altercation with Harry Morgan Jr., 19 of Ulster Avenue. He drives a taxi for his father, Harry Morgan Sr., of the same address.

The other man charged in the case, Maurice Hinchey, 25 of Bonnie Lee Trailer Park, was granted an adjournment to next Friday at 7 p. m. when he appeared Friday before Judge Rea. Mackay is charged with second and third degree assault and malicious mischief, the first charge is a felony. Hinchey is charged with third degree assault.

Patrolman Harry Vickery said charges resulted in an incident June 28 in front of Bud's Taxi Stand on Ulster Avenue. The arresting officer said young Morgan was putting his private car into the garage when two men accosted him and started to jump on him and beat him severely. He told police one of the men broke his car antenna off and used it as a weapon.

The elder Morgan came to his son's assistance and someone summoned the police. Young Morgan was taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment of a severe eye injury.

Three Are Injured, Gotham Driver Cited

Three persons were injured and a motorist was cited following a two-car collision which occurred at 6:45 p. m. Saturday on Route 209 at Route 28, Town of Ulster.

Trooper Norman Kilfoyle of the Kingston sub-station, said cars involved in the rear-end collision were driven by Paul Shewchuk, 39, and Zachary Zendran, 45, Watervliet neighbors. They were going north on the highway when a car driven by Sidney Greenblatt, New York City, stopped abruptly in front of Shewchuk, and as the latter applied his brakes, his car was struck in the rear by the Zendran vehicle.

Greenblatt was summoned by troopers on a charge of decreasing speed without signal.

Zendran suffered head lacerations. Shewchuk's wife, Tessie, who is an expectant mother, received minor injuries, and Alexandria Dawydowich, 35, also of Watervliet, and a passenger in the Shewchuk car, received a whiplash of the neck. The three were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance.

Park Department Lists Activities

The weekly nocturnal schedule for the week of July 13 presents a variety of activities which should prove enjoyable to all age groups.

The regular weekly movie for this week is "Damon and Pythias" starring Guy Williams, Don Burnett and Arnold Fea. It tells the story of the Athenian Pythias who upon entering ancient Syracuse is attacked by the desperate robber Damon. Pythias overpowers Damon in battle, spurs his life and thus begins a strange and enduring friendship. The film will be shown Monday night in Block Park, Tuesday night in Forsyth Park and Wednesday night in Hutton Park. It will start at dusk and will be approximately two hours long.

Monday evening at Forsyth Park under the Pavilion the department will present a dance featuring the music of Sammy Turk and his 13-piece band. All age groups are invited to attend and in particular the teenagers for the band will feature the latest rock and roll hits.

The dance will be held under the pavilion at Forsyth from 8 p. m. until 11 p. m. and will be held rain or shine. Leader Sammy Turk has promised some surprise entertainment on the evenings festivities. Music for the dance is provided by Local 215 of the American Federation of Musicians as a part of the transcription fund and is arranged by Mr. Truck and Pete Ferraro who is in charge of the transcription fund.

Wednesday evening a Band Concert will be held at Academy Greene by the Kingston Concert Band under the direction of Marlin Morrette.

The concert will start at 8 p. m. and continue until 10 p. m. Besides the latest band music Director Morrette has instituted many enjoyable innovations for the pleasure of the listening audience.

Monday and Wednesday evenings at Block, Upper Hasbrouck and Loughran Park Softball diamonds the Recreation sponsored City Softball League will start action in the third and final round of the 1964 season. Softball games start at 6:15 p. m. and are of the seven-inning variety.

Since this week is the fourth week under supervision in all city parks the playground supervisors will stress games of all types with intra-park championships being scheduled in checkers, ping pong, chess and other sedentary games with a park champion being determined in all activities so that he and she may meet the champions of other parks during championship week August 3. The handicraft projects being stressed in the playgrounds for this week will be leather change purses.

Approval Given For Consolidation Of 3 Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has approved the consolidation of the Norfolk & Western, Nickel Plate, and Wabash railroads into a 7,450-mile system.

The ICC, in announcing the decision today, said the Pennsylvania Railroad must get rid of all of its financial interests in the N & W and the Wabash, because the Pennsylvania "is in a position to extend its control over the proposed system."

The transaction involves the merger of the Nickel Plate—formerly known as the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad—into the Norfolk & Western, and the subsequent lease of the Wabash.

The result would be a rail network extending from the port of Hampton Roads, Va., to the Great Lakes and Midwest.

The decision was adopted June 24 by a 10-1 vote. The ICC said the consolidation may not take place unless the Pennsylvania notifies the commission by Sept. 16—30 days after the order takes effect—of its intent to divest.

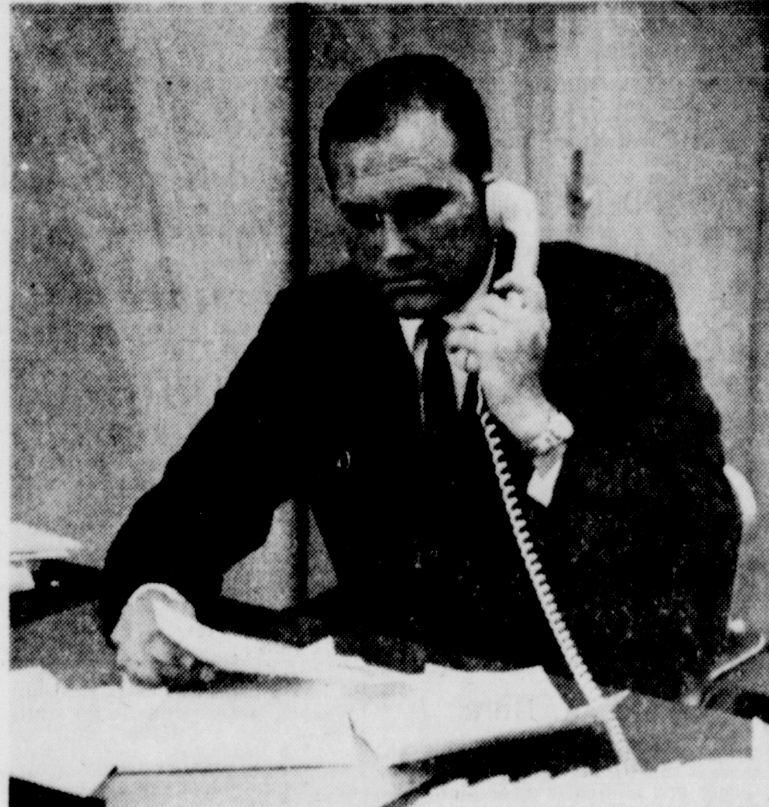

No particular plan of divestiture was specified, but the ICC said all holdings in the new system must be disposed of over a 10-year period.

Has Comfortable Night

STOKE MANDEVILLE England (AP)—Dr. Roberto Arias of Panama "had a comfortable night and has maintained his improvement," a medical bulletin issued by Stoke Mandeville Hospital said today.

Arias emerged from a five-day coma Sunday. The hospital had reported a deterioration of his condition when he went into the coma. His wife, ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn, rushed to his side.

Arias, 46, was shot by a political opponent in Panama City June 8. He is paralyzed from the waist down.

$4,500 TELEPHONE CALL—New York Telephone Company Manager C. M. Stewart recently made a telephone call which swelled the "in the bank" totals of Ellenville's Veterans Memorial Hospital building fund by $4,500. The phone company had pledged that sum during the fund raising campaign and promised payment as soon as it received notification of groundbreaking for the new community institution. The new 65-bed facility is being constructed on a 13-acre site on Route 209 between Ellenville and Napanoch at an estimated cost of $1.4 million. $800,000 has been raised by public subscription.

To Send 1,000 Eagle Feathers to Indians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government let it be known today it is sending 1,000 eagle feathers to the Indian tribes of the Southwest.

Eagle feathers are highly important to ceremonial costumes of several Southwest Indian tribes, the Interior Department said, but the feathers have been hard to get.

Federal laws safeguard eagles, their feathers, nests and eggs. Nobody may possess them unless he has a permit from the secretary of the interior or acquired them before protective laws were passed.

Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service has salvaged the feathers from some 20 eagles found dead in different parts of the country, primarily in North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri.

The larger undamaged wing and tail feathers are being sent to the Wildlife Service's regional office in Albuquerque, N.M., for distribution among the tribes.

22 Die, 128 Are Ill After Morning Dish

STYLLA, Greece (AP)—More than half the people of Stylla gathered Sunday on the 40th day after the death of a kinsman for the traditional Greek Orthodox memorial service.

The widow, Ionna Apostopolous, 60, had arranged the service for her husband, Gregory. She also prepared the customary mourning dish of boiled wheat germ, Kolliva, eaten as an offering to God to erase the sins of the deceased so he may enter heaven.

Within 90 minutes after the service, villagers began complaining of pain.

By nightfall, 222 persons were dead and 128 seriously ill.

The village chief said the widow had mistakenly sprinkled the wheat germ with insect poison instead of powdered sugar.

Police began an investigation to determine whether there had been criminal negligence.

Burma Also Asking Conference on Laos

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Burma has joined Communist China in calling for a new 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai ended a surprise two-day visit to Rangoon Sunday. The Burmese Foreign Ministry said the chief topic in the talks between Chou and Gen. Ne Win, head of Burma's military government, was Southeast Asia.

The announcement said both leaders were determined to seek a "peaceful settlement" of troubles in the area.

Stratton Thought Is Wagner Could Get Him Nominated

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton says an endorsement of him by Mayor Robert F. Wagner for the Democratic senatorial nomination "would pretty well nail down the ball game."

The Amsterdam congressman made the remark to newsmen Sunday after addressing a Captive Nations Week ceremony opposite the United Nations Building.

Earlier on a television program and during a discussion with newsmen, Stratton urged Wagner to "put things rolling" in the state's U.S. Senate campaign by announcing his choice for the nomination.

Sept. 1, the date set for the state convention, will be too late to mount a successful campaign, Stratton said.

A call for a pre-convention endorsement was voted down June 15.

Stratton has not formally announced his candidacy.

Candidates for the nomination are Paul O'Dwyer, New York City Councilman; Anthony Akers, former ambassador to Ireland, and attorney Louis Nizer.
